Petition Rule Due On Friday

Cooke Signs Order ForShowingCause

A Board of elections deadlock over whether to sustain objection raised against acceptance of the Farmers' Party nomination petition will be brought to the Supreme Court Friday at 10 a. m. under a show cause order signed Tuesday by Supreme Court Justice Lawrence D. Cooke.

The order is returnable before Justice Kenneth L. MacAffer at regular special term at the court house.

Objection to accepting the petition was raised by Mrs. Rose LeFever, vice chairman of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee; Robert A. Snyder, secretary and Howard C. St. John, Kingston City GOP chairman. They allege that the petition is defective on several grounds.

Two Disagree

Election Commissioner Seymour Werbalowsky, Republican, voted to accept and sustain the objections, while Commissioner Joseph Epstein, Democrat voted not to allow the objections when the matter came before the Ulster County Board of Elections Tuesday morning.

Objectors were represented by Attorneys John E. Egan and Sherwood E. Davis.

The objectors allege that the nominating petition naming George Majestic (D). Gardiner, as Farmer Party candidate for member of assembly, and Frank Tantillo, for Town of Gardiner councilman are defective in that certain names on the nominating petitions are not proper and should be stricken.

Their Contention

It i sthe contention of objectors that if these names are stricken from the nominating petitions there will remain less than the required 1,500 to put the names on the independent Farmers' Party ticket in November.

Majestic is the Democratic candidate for member of assembly and seeks the indorsement of the Farmers' Party.

Objectives Listed

The Farmers' Party on the face of its petition states the objectives of the party to be:

1. To protect the New York State dairymen against loss of fluid milk market in the state of New York.

2. To assure a fair price for the products of the farmers without increasing costs to consumer.

The party emblem is a spoked wheel.

Meredith's Effigy Burned Near Dorm

Troops Scatter Crowd, No Arrests; School in Plea for Student Return

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A pair of effigy hangings disturbed the returning calm on the University of Mississippi campus today as a dwindling federal force maintained the peace.

Between midnight and dawn, some 35 students gathered in front of the apartment of James H. Meredith, the university's first known Negro student, set fire to an effigy and exploded fireworks.

The alert military quickly moved in and quelled the demonstration. There were no arrests.

Dummy Strung Up

Shortly after daybreak, a dummy clad in a blue, pink and white uniform dangled from the second-floor window of a building near the Meredith apartment building.

A sign hanging from the neck of the dummy said to "Go back to Africa where you belong."

Attendance at the university dropped after the enrollment of Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro from Kosciusko. Many students had returned to their homes after the weekend riots in which two men died.

University chancellor J. D. Williams appealed to the students to return. He said he had been informed the Ole Miss campus is now secure, and that parents can be assured of the complete safety of sons and daughters.

Probation for Barnett

Meredith spent his second day as a student Tuesday, accompanied to classes by federal marshals. There were no demonstrations.

In another development over Mississippi's defiance of federal court orders to enroll Meredith, the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans gave Gov. Ross Barnett a form of probation until Oct. 12 on the contempt citation against him. This apparently was a move designed to test Barnett's willingness to accept Meredith's entry into the university.

Barnett, who was not in court, had no comment on the decision. He could be subject to $10,000 fine daily and imprisonment.

Army authorities announced a cutback in the 12,000-man federal force Tuesday night. Lt. Col. Rogger Whiting, public information officer for the Army field command in Oxford, said two battle groups—about 2,400 men—left Oxford for Memphis while a third group of 1,200 was redeployed to Columbus, Miss. Cuba Squeeze Gains In U.S. - Latin Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported making progress today in its campaign to raise a solid front of Latin American opposition to the Castro regime in Cuba.

Foreign ministers attending a 20-nation inter-American conference at the State Department were said to be developing agreement that further steps must be taken to bottle up the Soviet-backed Communist threat in its Cuban base.

The conference, which opened Tuesday, is scheduled to end late today, probably with a final communique. Steps to tighten the economic and political squeeze on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime may follow.

These could include further clamping down on trade with Cuba and imposition of stricter controls over travel, propaganda and money flow from Cuba to Central and South America.

President Kennedy was reported to have told a luncheon meeting of the foreign ministers Tuesday that the Communist threat posed by developments in Cuba is the responsibility not just of the United States alone but of all the American nations. Backing up an earlier conference speech by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Kennedy reportedly called for solid support for both defensive and offensive strategies.

Members of Congress who attended the luncheon said the President's remarks constituted an eloquent appeal for support of anti-Castro measures throughout the Western Hemisphere. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said that the President "really laid it on the line."

Americans attending the luncheon said views expressed by visiting foreign ministers in private conversation indicated that a considerable degree of unity was developing on the Cuban problem.

Donovan Off for Cuba, May Return With 1,179 Captives

NEW YORK (AP) — James B. Donovan has flown to Cuba for what may be the final negotiations for release of 1,179 prisoners captured in last year's abortive invasion of anti-Castro Cubans.

Since last June, Donovan has been conducting the negotiations in his capacity as general counsel for the Cuban Families Committee for the Liberation of Prisoners Abroad Inc.

In Miami Tuesday, Enrique Llaca, treasurer of the Cuban Families Committee, said Donovan had contacted him from New York City and said he was leaving for Havana "and hope to return with the prisoners."

Llaca said Donovan did not give a target date for his return.

Donovan, Brooklyn attorney and Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate from New York, issued a statement before his departure Tuesday saying the negotiations with Cuban officials have not involved cash, machinery or other items which would strengthen the Cuban economy.

"Rather," he said, "we have sought pledges of foodstuffs and medicines which could be used to alleviate the suffering of children, the sick and the elderly."

As was his practice when he left for negotiations in Cuba last August, Donovan did not disclose his travel arrangements.

Donovan arranged the swap of U2 Pilot Francis Gary Powers for Soviet Spy Rudolf Abel.

City Refuse Area, Plant Involved

Two aldermen concerned with noxious odors and other conditions affecting downtown areas asked at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting for reports dealing with possible remedial action.

Fire Chief James M. Brett, who, several weeks ago was asked by Alderman Frank A. Adams (D) Fifth Ward, to assist with a "noxious odor" problem reportedly originating in the Hudson Cement plant, North Street, was asked indirectly last night by Robert F. Slover (R) Fourth Ward, to see what can be done about conditions at the city refuse disposal area off Ulster Street.

Still Burning

Slover, who indicated that results from the public works department had been unsatisfactory, proposed a letter by the city clerk to Fire Chief Brett to determine what can be done to enforce regulations affecting the dumping area. The dump, he said, was "still burning."

Adams, who reported that he had been invited to inspect the cement plant Oct. 9, said he hoped to learn much there, but he was "very annoyed with Mayor Schwenk for his failure to respond to several communications for investigation of the noxious odors."

The mayor's silence, he held, was "an act of disrespect" to the people of the city "who are affected by the disturbance." Adams recalled an appeal in the council chamber by several downtown persons, who were "only a small part" of the total number affected by the gas fumes and dust." He said, "I am doing what I can with restraint, in an effort to afford the executive department an opportunity to handle this matter."

Wants Data First

Under the proper ordinance, said Adams, "the fire chief has jurisdiction. Through the mayor, a request was made that the fire chief investigate, and through the mayor that a response be made to the council. I ask the mayor, in his capacity as the executive officer, that a report be forthcoming prior to Oct. 9, and that the mayor extend to me the courtesy of seeing a copy of the report before I make a tour of the cement plant. I request that the city clerk transmit my request to the mayor by the most expeditious means at his command."

Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, recalled his proposal that it be determined if a city incinerator could be considered in conjunction with local urban renewal, and asked if there had been a reply. He was told that one had not been received.

Slover, after requesting action toward solving the dump prob-

Cold Winter Is Shultis Warning, More of Drought

Conserve your water supply for another month, cover up your water pipes and get an ample supply of fuel for the coming winter.

That is the warning issued Tuesday by Tom Shultis, the Bearsville weather prophet who has predicted weather conditions with uncanny accuracy for many years.

May Go On for Month

Last April Tom predicted a "cool-dry spring and summer" and resort people and farmers in the area hoped Tom would be wrong but he was not. Cool weather cost summer resort people many reservations while farmers looked longingly to the sky for rain which did not come. Water supplies ran low and many communities had to restrict use of water. He also predicted late snows and cool weather and warned against early garden planting.

"The drought will continue—be saving with water, folks. The drought isn't over yet, it may go on for another month," says the Bearsville weather man.

Most Storms Light

"Cold winter coming," says Shultis, "fall and winter will not be as nice as last winter. Construction work or any outside work may go on until December. There will be plenty of cloudy days. Most storms will be light. Not to much at any one time. Snow and rain will be about normal, if you have outside water pipes better have them "covered good. Keep plenty of fuel on hand," cautioned the Bearsville weather prophet.

Cold Winter Signs

To a Freeman reporter Shultis said his prediction last spring had been "pretty good," he said his prediction of cool, dry weather has thus far been "about right."

However he said he had not put as much time and study as usual to his predictions for the winter because of illness but he said the "signs" indicated pretty much for a cold winter.

Last fall Shultis predicted the area was in for a "mild" winter with coldest weather during December and the first part of January and that there would be only light snows until February and March. Snows were light and temperatures were not unduly low until February 11 and

Sears Catalogue Store to Open At Plaza on 11th

Sears, Roebuck and Co. will open its new catalogue sales store in the Ulster Shopping Plaza at 9 a. m. on October 11 with a brief ribbon-cutting ceremony, according to an announcement by Thomas Good, local manager. The Center is located on Route 9W.

Alexander J. Banyo, supervisor of the Town of Ulster, has been invited to cut the ribbon which will mark the official opening of the modern catalogue sales store.

The new Sears unit, completely modern in every respect, will provide shopping facilities for the people of Ulster, Kingston, and surrounding communities. A complete service shop has been included in the new store.

Good, manager of the present store at 33-35 Crown Street, will manage the new unit.

Faith in Growing Area

"The company's decision to put a new store here shows what Sears thinks of this area. It represents the company's faith in Ulster and Kingston as a growing market," he said.

Good added, "I'm happy to have been chosen manager of the new store. Working with the peo-

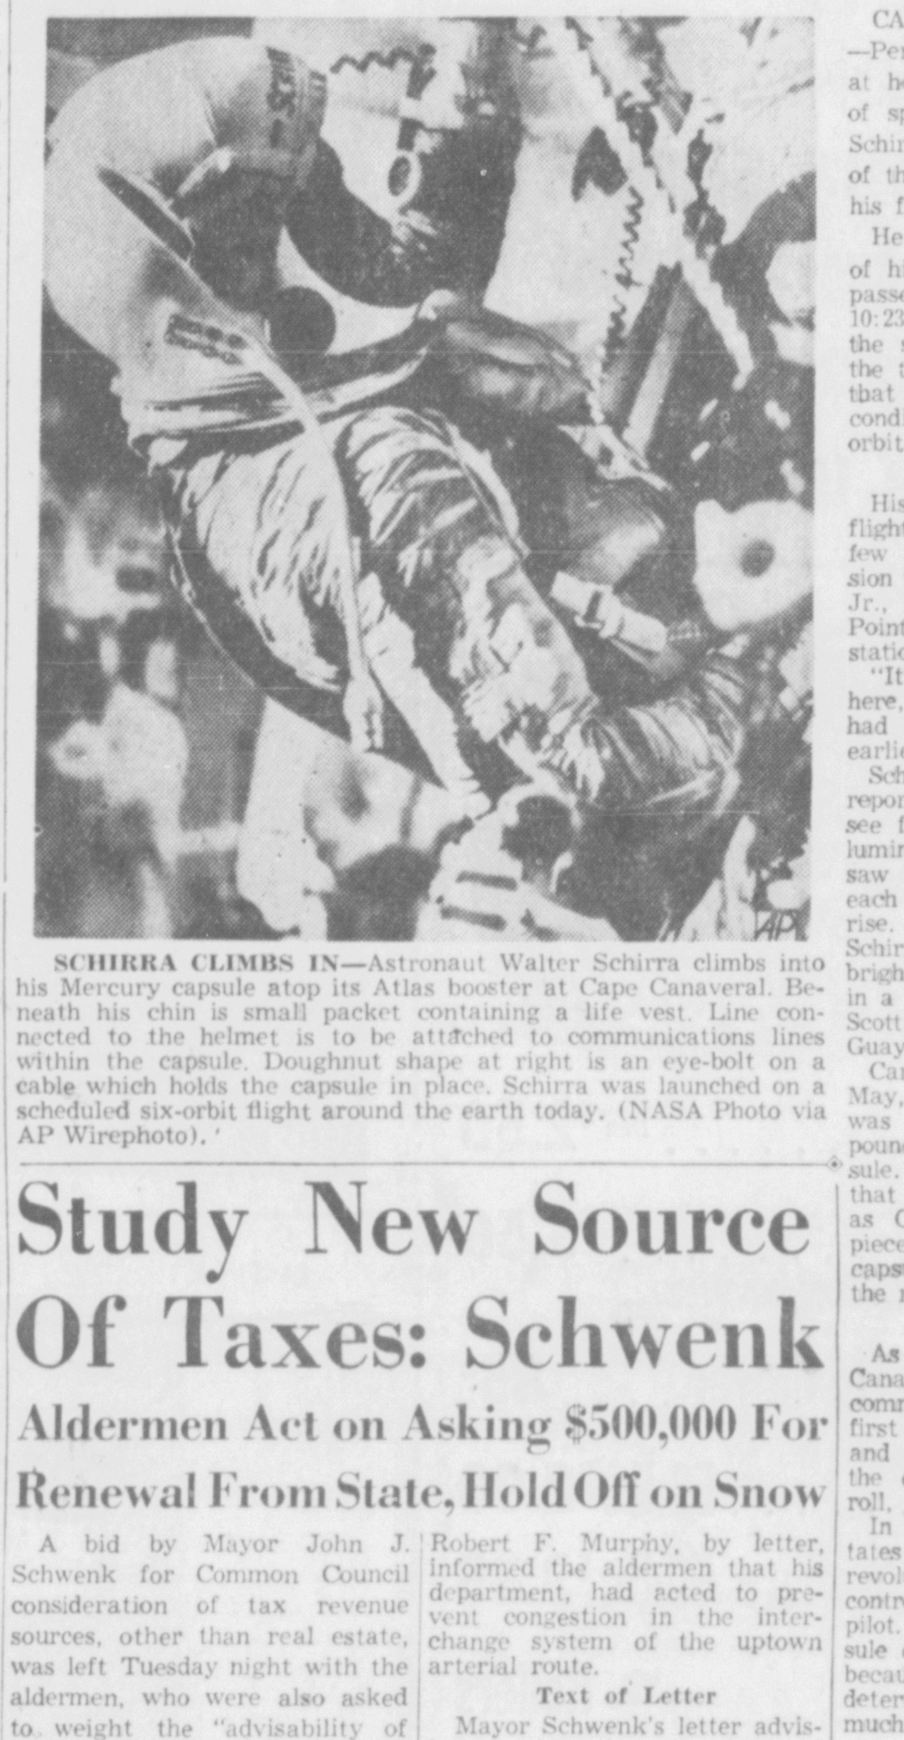
6-Orbit Mission Right on Schedule; Heat Controls OK, Concern at Start



SCHIRRA CLIMBS IN—Astronaut Walter Schirra climbs into his Mercury capsule atop its Atlas booster at Cape Canaveral. Beneath his chin is small packet containing a life vest. Line connected to the helmet is to be attached to communications lines within the capsule. Doughnut shape at right is an eye-bolt on a cable which holds the capsule in place. Schirra was launched on a scheduled six-orbit flight around the earth today. (NASA Photo via AP Wirephoto).

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Performing as if he were right at home in the weightless world of space, Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. completed two orbits of the earth today and described his flight as a "real, real thrill."

He was in complete command of his Sigma 7 spacecraft as he passed over Cape Canaveral at 10:23 a.m. (EST) at the end of the second orbit and swung into the third. There was all evidence that pilot and spacecraft were in condition to complete the full six-orbit mission.

Hard to Describe

His exuberant description of the flight came down from the sky a few minutes earlier in a discussion with Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., monitoring the flight at the Point Arguello, Calif., tracking station.

"It's hard to describe things up here," Schirra told the man who had pioneered U.S. orbital flight earlier this year.

Schirra said he had a delightful report to make to Glenn: "I, too, see fireflies." He referred to the luminous particles which Glenn saw flying outside his spacecraft each time he went through a sunrise. At the end of the first orbit, Schirra also reported seeing the bright particles. He told of them in a talk with Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who was at the Guaymas, Mexico, station.

Carpenter, on his flight last May, also saw the particles and was able to create them by pounding on the side of his capsule. This led scientists to believe that the fireflies—or snowflakes, as Carpenter called them—were pieces of frost breaking off the capsule and being illuminated by the rising sun.

Controls Shut Off

As Schirra zipped above Cape Canaveral to begin orbit three, he commenced drifting flight for the first time. He shut off all controls and electrical power and allowed the craft to move freely on its roll, pitch and yaw axes.

In this phase, the vehicle rotates slowly, making about one revolution every 30 minutes if control is not reestablished by the pilot. In drifting flight, the capsule does not float far off course because it is flying an orbital path determined by the laws of nature, much like a bullet fired by a rifle.

Key to 18-Orbit Shot

Purpose of the drifting is to conserve control fuel and electrical power. Just how well Schirra did this was important to an 18 orbit, 24 hour flight—the next U.S. man-in-space shot set for 1963.

Schirra's flight, if it went six orbits, would nearly double the time spent by astronauts Glenn and Carpenter earlier this year. But it would be far short of Russia's manned orbital flight time.

Near the completion of the second orbit, Project Mercury operations director Walter C. Williams reported that the mission was proceeding very satisfactorily and he saw no reason why it shouldn't be continued.

Early in the flight, Schirra literally sweated out a problem with his spacesuit temperature control system. But as he neared the end of the second orbit, he said the problem had diminished to a point where it wasn't worth discussion.

Fuel Doing Well

About the end of orbit two, Schirra still had 90 per cent of his fuel supply remaining and Mercury Control reported he was managing it very well. The hydrogen peroxide fuel is used to fire small jets located on the capsule surface to help maintain the capsule's desired position in flight.

The flight plan called for Schirra to have 48 per cent fuel in both his tanks for both the automatic and manual control systems, and 35 per cent remaining in each be-

Study New Source Of Taxes: Schwenk

Aldermen Act on Asking $500,000 For Renewal From State, Hold Off on Snow

A bid by Mayor John J. Schwenk for Common Council consideration of tax revenue sources, other than real estate, was left Tuesday night with the aldermen, who were also asked to weight the "advisability of adopting an ordinance" aimed at preventing such pedestrian deaths as occurred here recently within two days.

A measure to authorize application for gaining a reservation of $500,000 in state funds for uptown urban renewal was adopted, but consideration of procedure that would facilitate winter snow and ice removal from city streets, and on $68,000 in snow removal budget notes, were left for later action.

Mayor Schwenk's bid for a cross-walk ordinance as a precaution against pedestrian deaths indirectly led to another request for a meeting of the aldermen and the police board, and it resulted in the proposal that the board meet with Majority Leader Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and Minority Leader Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R) 11th Ward.

Invited Urban Meeting

The aldmen were invited by Elmore C. Yallum, planning board chairman, to attend an Oct. 9 press conference on urban renewal, and were asked by Attorney Frederick H. Stang, as a member of the city library board, to inspect the library Oct. 15.

A letter from the Sorosis Society opposed razing of the Wall Tavern, an historic North Front Street building, in conjunction with the uptown, off-street parking project, and Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, by letter, informed the aldermen that his department, had acted to prevent congestion in the interchange system of the uptown arterial route.

Text of Letter

Mayor Schwenk's letter advising consideration of additional tax revenue sources was referred to the finance committee. It said:

"I wish to call the attention of your Honorable Body to the pos-

Rocky to Speak Here Tonight, Hotly Denies Tax Boost Plans

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is scheduled to make a brief talk at the Academy Green tonight at 5:30 o'clock, hotly denied his Democratic opponent's charge that a secret movement is underway preparing a general increase in state taxes.

The charge was leveled in New York City Tuesday by Robert M. Morgenthau who said "the governor's staff has secretly begun work on plans for another general tax increase . . . to be announced in his budget message on Feb. 1, 1963."

Rockefeller, meanwhile, continuing a two-day campaign tour through the Hudson Valley area, was due to arrive today at the Kingston Thruway interchange at 5:15 o'clock prior to his appearance at the annual dinner of the Ulster County Republican Committee.

Following his scheduled 5:30 p. m. appearance at the Academy Green, the Republican motorcade will leave at approximately 6 o'clock for the Granit Hotel at Accord where the governor will be the principal speaker.

While refuting Morgenthau's charge of the tax boost plan, Gov. Rockefeller reiterated his pledge that there would be no tax increase if he were reelected on Nov. 6 for a second four-year term.

"I have pledged that there will be no tax increase," Rockefeller said. "There is no need for it because the growth in the state's economy and in employment is providing the revenue required.

Earlier in the day, while campaigning in Ithaca, Rockefeller had renewed his contention that statements of his Democratic opponent were filled with misinformation and distortions.

The governor set off today on a two-day speaking and handshaking tour of the Hudson Valley. His schedule for Thursday called for appearances in Putnam,

Refrains From Telling Program

Quadros Trying Comeback By Pure Politics Alone

By FRANK BRUTTO

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The familiar mustachioed figure with disheveled hair, horn - rimmed glasses and rumpled suit roams Brazil's richest state campaigning for governor. He doesn't talk like a candidate. He speaks at rallies as "your governor."

This is Janio Quadros, who turned the nation upside down 13 months ago by abruptly resigning as president. At 45, he is trying for a comeback in the place where his fabulous political career started as a Sao Paulo city alderman.

He Is Confident

Quadros is confident of victory in Sunday's election and is assumed to have an eye on the presidency again.

His confidence is not shared by everyone. His battle against two other major candidates is rated so close that hot sun or rain on election day could affect the outcome.

"Janio is so sure of election," goes an opposition joke," that he has already set the date for his resignation."

Stunned Nation

His resignation from the presidency stunned the nation. Political opponents now charge he let the country down and set off the serious economic and financial crisis that has sent the value of the national currency—the cruzeiro—plunging from 260 to one U.S. dollar to 750 in a year's time. Janio, as everyone calls him, denies it.

"I did not provoke it," he says. "I revealed it. I denounced it. I diagnosed it. If a doctor identified a malignant tumor, can he be held responsible for the ailment?"

No Set Program

Virtually boycotted by the Brazilian press, Quadros is campaigning at the grass-roots level. He makes promises of revolutionary economic and social reforms but has not bothered to spell out a program. Nevertheless, he attracts good crowds. He is adept at the game of politicking.

His chief opponents are Jose Bonifacio Coutinho Nogueira, 39, a farmer-banker and descendant of an 1822 Brazilian independence fighter, and Adhemar Pereira de Barros, 61, wealthy former Sao Paulo mayor and ex-governor who has built up a strong following despite charges of corruption against his old administrations.

A fourth candidate in the race is a socialist who is given no chance of winning.

Backed by Governor

Bonifacio is strongly backed by incumbent Governor Carlos Carvalho Pinto, conservative Christian Democrat who supported Quadros' rise to the presidency but has since turned on him. Bonifacio pledges to continue Carvalho Pinto's long-range "plan of action" that has helped Sao Paulo pull far ahead of its sister states in development. He calls himself a nationalist, Christian, and Democrat.

De Barros, with a quarter-century of political experience behind him, is campaigning on a nationalist, anti-Communist platform although he once allied himself closely with Brazilian leftists. He is a Social Progressive.

He's a Loner

Quadros, a loner, is running under no particular banner—only on his own name.

The governorship of Sao Paulo is one of Brazil's most respected elective offices. Because its 13 million people have the highest literacy rate in the nation, Sao Paulo polls a quarter of the national vote. Because of illiteracy, only about 16 million persons in a national population of 75 million are eligible to vote.

Arguments Due Oct. 22 on State's Time-to-Vote Law

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court of Appeals will hear arguments Oct. 22 on a lower-court ruling that what the state says is contrary to the intent of New York's time-off-to-vote law.

A spokesman for Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz announced Tuesday the decision of the state's highest court to consider the case.

There was no indication whether the appeal would be decided before the Nov. 6 election.

In question is whether the law guarantees a worker a total of four hours in which to vote, taking time off from work with pay to reach that total, or whether he may take only as much time off with pay as he needs to vote.

When Gov. Rockefeller signed an amendment to the law, he said it would assure workers at least four consecutive hours in which to vote, taking time off from work if need be to reach that total during polling hours.

But the Appellate Division of the Fourth Judicial Department ruled unanimously last June that an employe could take only as much time off with pay as he needed.

Quality Control Group to Conduct Tour on Oct. 9

The American Society for Quality Control, Mid-Hudson Section, will tour the Poughkeepsie branch of the New York Telephone Company, Oct. 9.

The members of this group, which encompasses the geographic area of Kingston Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, will meet at 7 p. m. in the lobby of the telephone building, corner of Academy and Hamilton Streets.

The two hour tour will include techniques used in the quality control branch of the company.

The objective of the American Society for Quality Control is the advancement, of the theory and practice of quality control and the allied arts and sciences and the maintenance of high professional standing among its members.

FARMER'S NEW CROP

At least for the foreseeable future, stretching into decades, this country will continue to grapple with the problem of surplus crops, even with strict planting allotments and continued retirement of farmland from cultivation.

A victim of his own efficiency is the American farmer who, price supports notwithstanding, is for the most part far from enjoying prosperity. Farming today requires a sizable investment in machinery, equipment and operating capital. The small farmer is especially hard hit and is searching for new sources of income.

Another fact of present-day American life is helping to provide an answer for him.

As population grows in cities and suburbs, as people become more mobile with more money and leisure to spare, more and more of them are turning to outdoor recreation. Campgrounds and picnic areas are overflowing, particularly near heavily populated areas. There are simply not enough facilities to take care of all who want to use them.

Because of this, farmers situated reasonably close to urban centers and possessing small wooded areas on their land are in an enviable position. Many city folk are merely looking for a quiet, shady place in the country to escape to for a few hours. They are not looking for spectacular cataracts or primeval forests. And they are willing to pay a fee to the farmer who will allow them to picnic or hike in his woods, especially if he has taken the trouble to provide a few picnic Amenities such as stoves, tables and shelters.

Farmers are being aided and encouraged by the Forest Service of the U.S. Agriculture Department. In a booklet, "Forest Recreation for Profit," the service lists all the factors that need to be considered for a prospective campsite—location and the best type of development suited to it, natural attractions, costs, local laws and regulations, etc.

The booklet includes plans for typical campground layouts, with information on the installation of utilities and advice on publicity and promotion, maintenance problems, management obligations and safety requirements.

Besides the Forest Service, numerous other Agriculture Department services and federal agencies, like the Area Redevelopment Administration and Small Business Administration, are available with advice and financial aid to the farmer who wants to turn his unused woodland into profit.

The demand is there, the help is there. It remains for the farmer to respond to both.

BACK TO BIGNESS

American auto makers may be right in accenting luxury and roominess in their 1963 models. Their action is based on the fact that sale of small foreign cars has dropped sharply in the past year.

They believe the automobile has regained its place as status symbol, and that economy of operation has minor sales appeal. Acting on these assumptions, Ford several months ago abandoned its plan to bring out a small car to compete with Volkswagen, and no other American manufacturer has seen fit to bid for the midget auto market.

This year has been a good one for American car sales, and we hope that the 1963 models find even more favor. After all, a prosperous automobile industry is a powerful stimulus. However, judging from the number of small cars in operation, American drivers are not entirely indifferent to gas saving, easy parking and other midget auto economies and conveniences.

The swing away from compacts may be less marked than manufacturers think. Foreign car sales in this country forced the industry into the small car field a few years ago. If these cars regain U. S. popularity in 1963, our manufacturers will be downright embarrassed.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LAW ENFORCEMENT

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, once wrote in the "Law Enforcement Bulletin," as follows:

"Nothing discourages and disheartens law enforcement officers more than the knowledge that their efforts in apprehending criminals are too often no more than useless expenditures of time and money—useless because unwarranted leniency in the form of suspended sentences, parole, or probation so frequently makes a mockery of good police work."

Further, he says:

"Certainly, the principles of parole, probation, and other rehabilitative measures are good, but maladministration can nullify their worthwhile aspects. Conscientious, hard-working parole and probation officers, frequently underpaid and seldom able to discharge the heavy burdens placed upon them by the archaic clemency systems still existing in some areas, are just not equipped to cope with ever expanding caseloads. Adding to their dilemma are some misinformed and misguided jurists and an apathetic citizenry who cause and condone the release of hardened criminals who gloatingly accept society's softness and repay it in the coin of treachery."

But police officers, as judges, must not violate the law and proper procedures and the limitations which are placed upon them. When the police officers, investigators for bureaus of the government or even for Congressional Committtees, exceed their rights and pursue and harass citizens, prior to being able to prove that a crime has been committed, they become intolerable and the only recourse that the citizen can take is to the Courts where a judge and jury may protect his rights under the Constitution. We have existed a free people in time of war and peace, in times of good and competent Presidents and in times of wilful and stupid Presidents only because of the Constitution.

Investigators can bedevil a man beyond belief. Without having a case at all, they go to his friends, his banks, his vendors, his business associates, his customers and clients, making inquiries which, in themselves, are indicative of wrongdoing even though the person is not guilty of a crime. An atmosphere of suspicion is engendered which can destroy his credit and make his acceptability impossible. Corporate businesses, with which the person is associated, suffer from his presence which may be constructive and valuable. Even should he eventually be proved guiltless, he will suffer the stigma imposed by the government by its bedeviling investigators. No law warrants such conduct but the citizen often does not discover what is being done until it is too late.

If the thousands of persons used by the government to check into a citizen's conduct and finances were used to protect this country against such a creature as Robert Soblen, we should not need to worry so much about our national welfare. The fact of the matter is that from the days of J. Peters to this very day, we have been lax about alien enemies but so harassing about Americans, that those who can, have shipped their capital abroad, principally to Switzerland, to protect it from the ravages of the Income Tax and to protect themselves from harassment.

Government bureaus have a way of excusing excessive and improper harassment of citizens by explaining that the instructions came from those in authority, which is no explanation at all. Since the time when Harlan F. Stone was Attorney General, it was the pride of this nation that J. Edgar Hoover stood like Horatio, one man against all the forces of government, to prevent his FBI from becoming a Federal Police and safeguarding his country from becoming either a police state or tolerating vigilante movements on the part of citizens.

This alone made J. Edgar Hoover a hero in the eyes of the American people and the FBI has been respected beyond any other similar organization. Thousands of Americans voluntarily assisted it. He was no Himmler committing outrages to please Hitler; he was no Beria, persecuting the innocent to aid Stalin. He stood adamant against all that the law is the law and that the FBI never transgresses right to please anyone. He has remained in office longer than any other Bureau chief. No President dared touch him. He survived all his Attorneys General and is still beloved by the American people while most of their names are forgotten.

This attitude must not change but FBI and Income Tax and Secret Service personnel must not be used improperly in a free society. Any attempt to do so must be resisted.

The Doctor's Mailbag®

Take 'Ouch' From Removal Of Sticking Adhesive Tape

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Pulling adhesive tape off of my 8-year-old boy is an ordeal because he has hairy skin. What can I do to make it easier?

A—Several solvents work, but some are not advised because of possible poisonous effects. Gasoline would be ideal if you could get it without any tetraethyl lead which most commercial gasoline now contains. Cleaning fluid containing carbon tetrachloride should be used only by an open window, or better still, out of doors. Lighter fluid is safe. You might try shaving the area to which the adhesive tape is to be applied.

Q—My doctor says I need more calcium. If I put an egg, shell and all, through my food blender, will this serve the purpose?

A—Eggshell is a rich source of calcium carbonate and as such is readily changed into soluble forms of calcium in the digestive tract. Finely divided eggshell has no appreciable taste.

Whether calcium in this form would meet your needs would depend on whether your blood contains sufficient phosphorus and vitamin D. This is a matter your doctor would know better than I would. If you do use the whole egg, be sure to wash it well before blending.

Q—I weigh 154 pounds and my doctor says I'm overweight. How many calories would I lose by walking a mile at 3½ miles per hour?

A—A study made by the Army indicated that a person of your weight would lose 105 calories. Why not cut out desserts and walk two miles?

Q—I am getting more and more tense. I have even had shock treatments but although they help, after a while my tension comes back. Is it normal for a nervous person to get low-grade fever and chills? Can I be completely cured of being so tense?

A—A certain amount of nervous tension is normal but when it is severe enough to require shock treatment it has usually exceeded the normal degree and indicates some deep-seated fear or anxiety. If your doctor cannot cure you with the ordinary remedies, you would probably do well to consult a doctor who specializes in nervous diseases. Your doctor could refer you to a reliable one.

Excessive nervous tension can be improved in many persons by their learning to relax. I shall devote a column to this subject soon.

It is not unusual for a very nervous person to get a low fever or chills when she is very tense, but it is not normal to get that tense. If the fever or chills do not subside promptly you should see your doctor to find out whether or not something else is causing them.

A very nervous person can be completely cured only if the cause of the nervousness is found and removed.

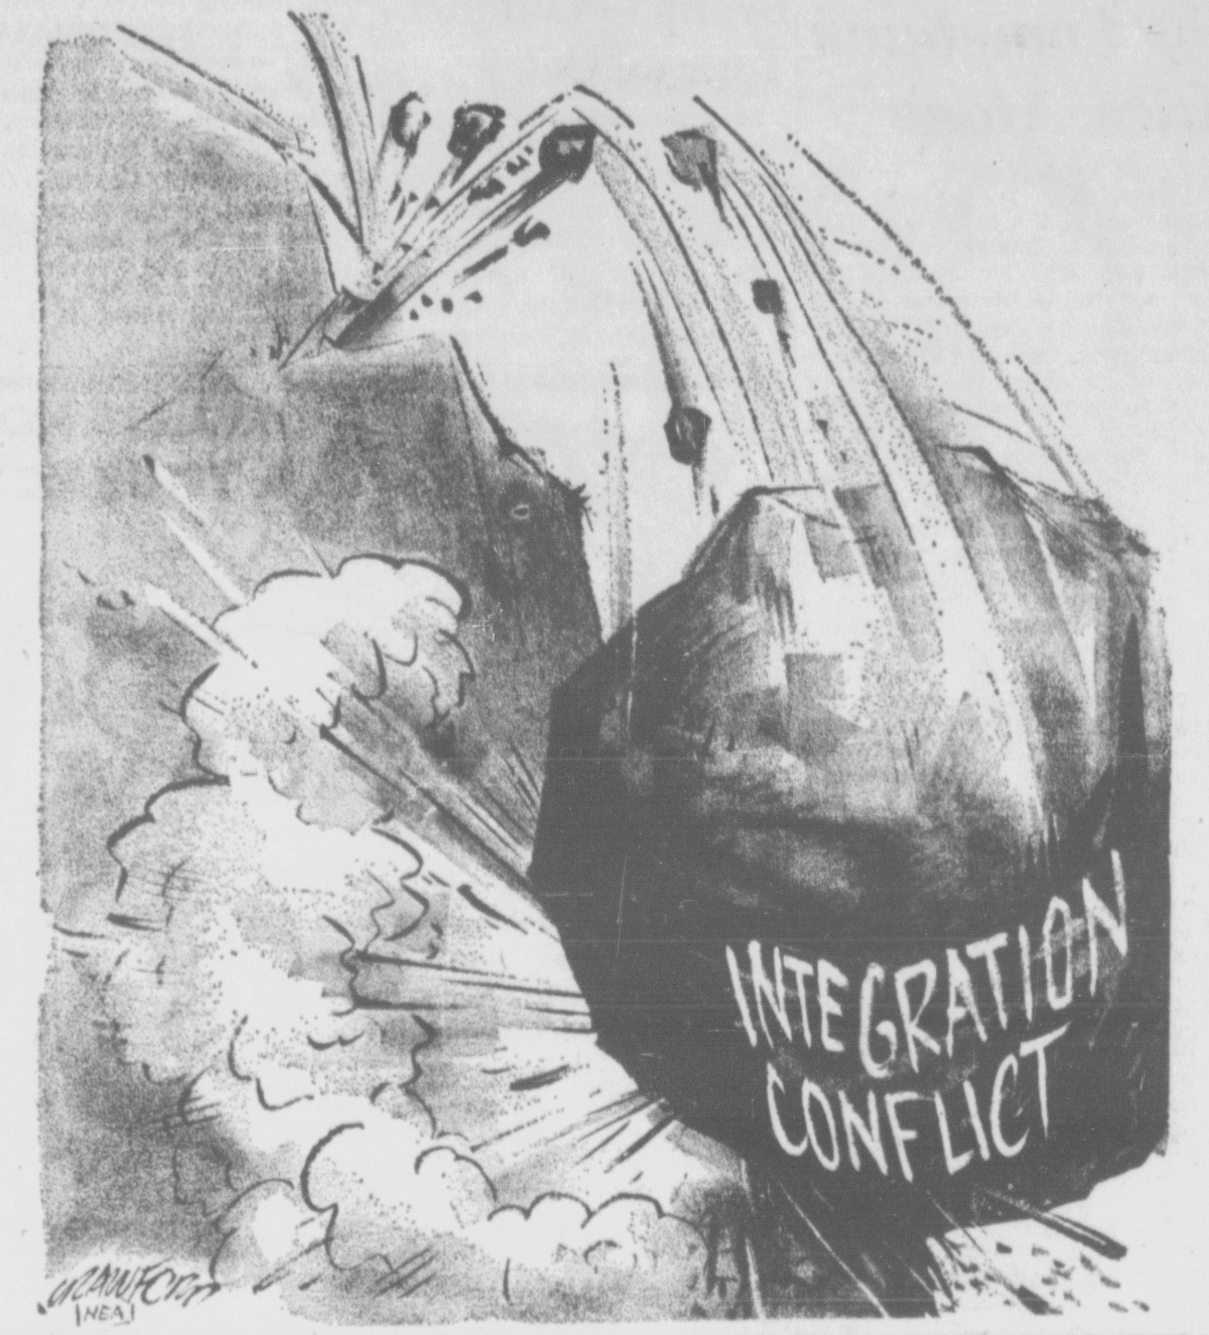
No Longer a Little Rock



Jim Bishop: Reporter

The family moves onward. The oldest member, John M., attended the christening of the youngest a few days ago. My father will be 79 this month; the new little boy, of course, is 0. There is not only a broad reach of time between them, but of wisdom and future and outlook. The things they have in common are strong maleness, anticipation of the next meal, and a desire for service.

This is the fifth baby for Ginny and Charles Frechette in four years. The twins (Pamela and Robin) are 4; Jim Bishop Frechette is 3; Kevin is 2; and now Chip. He made his bow weighing 9 pounds, one half ounce. He looked like a small bull. There was a round head, no neck, a fat body with a deep chest, short legs and arms in layers of fat, and hunger.

The Frechettes, with an ancestry of French Canada, have big families. Great Grandma Frechette, a handsome and poised woman with a radiant smile, told me that she has 43 grandchildren. Strangely, her maiden name was Frechette and she thinks that sometime far back, two wings of the same family had separate farms in Quebec.

It is a truism that the more babies one has, the more casual the mother becomes. Ginny almost missed the hospital. She barely arrived, and Dr. Albert Higdon thought he had time for a cup of coffee. He got off the elevator and saw his number flashing silently in the corridor, and he hurried back up again.

The other four youngsters were with the Frechettes in Waltham, Massachuettes. They seldom believe what they cannot see. Five days after Chip was born, they were still asking God to "send a new baby to our house."

The day after the birth, there was some family speculation about a name for the new boy. After a little waiting, the word came. He would be Jonathan David Frechette. There were a lot of funny looking expressions around the family. "Jonathon?" Who's that All hands understood that the David would be a compliment to Ginny's father-in-law, Dave Frechette of Miami. But Jonathon?

So Kelly and I sneaked into the hospital to ask. Ginny looked tired. Bone weary. She said that she chose the name Jonathon because she likes it. "I think we'll call him Jody," she said, Charlie just smiled. Anything that makes Ginny happy, makes him happy.

Kelly asked me what I thought of the name Jonathon. I made a face. "It's better than Shawn," I said. "I sometimes think that Ginny is more Irish than her forebears. She wanted to call this baby Shawn Frechette."

My wife said: "Shawn Frechette?" I said: "Yup. With a name like that, the kid would have to learn to fight." We went back home. The following day, Dr. Higdon arrived at the hospital to make out the final form of the birth certificate. Charlie stood with him beside the bed.

Higdon put on his best smile. "What name?" he said. Ginny said "Jonathon David." The doctor stood, with pen poised, and the smile died in a long slow fadeout. "Jonathon David?" he said. She nodded. "Jonathon David."

The doctor shook his head. "Nobody," he said, "ever names a baby after me. I deliver one after the other, day and night, and each time I see a big healthy male II say: 'This one is mine.' But it isn't. It always ends up with a name like Jonathon. Or Leslie. Or maybe Rollo."

"What's in a name, Doc?" said Charlie. He was grinning through the kidding. "Plenty," the doctor said. "A name is important. Take you, for example. Five babies—three of them boys—and none named after you. After all, Charlie, you and I have to stick together.

"You start all these babies, I finish them, and she puts any name on them but ours." In a moment, the father and the doctor had the mother in a corner. "Yeah," Charlie said. "How about that?"

"Al right," Ginny said. "All rights fellas. You win. I don't know how I get talked into these things. We'll call him Charles Albert Frechette. It's a nice name and we can call him Chip, because that's what I want him to be—a chip of his father."

Dr. Higdon winked at Charlie, and left before any change of mind could occur. An hour later, a nurse came into the room with a pill and a glass. "What happened to Dr. Higdon?" she said. Ginny shrugged.

"I was down in the nursery," she said, "and the came in beaming at all hands. He went through all the bassinettes until he came to yours and he picked it up and held it and said: 'Careful with this one, girls. He's mine.' ".

And so there was another christening. It was a clear cool day, and the two families gathered under the big oaks and maples in the backyard, eating ham and turkey and roast beef, and drinking scotch. Afterwards, my father asked for some milk. At the same time, there was a cry from the nursery. Someone else wanted some too. . . .

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — New Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz says he is not yet thinking in terms of what additional legislation may be needed to regulate labor-management relationships.

But the almost complete lack of new labor legislation in this election year may be forewarning of a flood of such proposals to the next Congress. Current events point that way.

CONSERVATIVE Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. — charging that the Kennedy administration has bowed to organized labor in return for political support—says he will introduce new bills to restore a more reasonable balance between labor and management next year. He will try to curb union power and impose compulsory arbitration to settle major disputes affecting public interest.

At the other extreme, AFL-CIO President George Meany has announced organized labor's determination to obtain a 35 or 32-hour work week next year, by legislation if possible.

This leaves the Kennedy administration in the middle, to come up with a settlement of its own in what will be the toughest mediation case in which it has yet had to intervene.

The settlement most frequently speculated on is whether the government should ask for more power to handle major strikes. Demands for such action have been frequently voiced as a result of prolonged work stoppages at missile bases, aircraft plants and in the railroad, maritime and air transport industries.

During the 1960 presidential election campaign, candidate Kennedy spoke frequently of the need for more powers to settle major strikes. The President's reluctance to act in some of the recent disputes has resulted in criticism that he has knuckled under to the labor bosses for political support.

ACTUALLY, a major part of the time and effort of Kennedy's first labor secretary, Arthur Goldberg, and his then undersecretary, Wirtz, and their staff, has been in trying to conciliate major disputes.

In some cases they have exhausted all the powers they had. At least three times the President has had executive and congressional reports recommending new procedures. But he has backed away from them.

One reason may have been that Congress already had more unfinished business of greater urgency than it could handle.

Getting tangled up in the complicated and politically dangerous field of labor legislation might wreck the rest of his program.

Another reason is the Supreme Court decision last June that federal courts have no power to halt strikes by injunction if called in violation of collective bargaining agreements.

Still another reason is that AFL-CIO President Meany is known to feel that any attempt to amend the Taft-Hartley and Landrum-Griffin acts would open a Pandora's box of troubles from which organized labor might lose more than it could gain.

Union leaders still want amendment of the National Labor Relations Act to speed up the handling of unfair labor practice charges against employers. President Kennedy tried to handle this by an executive order reorganizing the National Labor Relatons Board. But this was rejected by Congress last year and has not been revived.

This year, a House bill to bring labor unions under the antitrust laws and a Senate bill to require secret balloting of workers in strike votes both died in committee.

A SUSTAINED CAMPAIGN by emplyer groups for amendment of the Bacon-Davis Act is also dead, in spite of extensive hearings. The purpose was to include fringe benefit costs in determining prevailing wage rates on local construction jobs handled by nonlocal contractors. Judicial review of Bacon-Davis wage rates was also asked for, in vain.

In considering the broad subject of labor legislation, a distinction must of course be made between laws to regulate labor-management relations and laws benefitting working people.

Most of the Kennedy administration's attention to labor affairs has been in trying to promote economic growth so as to reduce unemployment. "If we had a full employment economy now," says Wirtz, "all our other problems would disappear."

University of Mississippi Tells Its Side of the Story

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — In the avalanche of news dispatches during the last few days, it was inevitable that the wire services would have to condense what was evolving as "the Mississippi story." But the American people like fair play. It is only fair now that as a matter of record, what the University of Mississippi said officially through the chancellor and the board of trustees should be presented comprehensively. The statement was telephoned to Washington early Monday and was issued here through the offices of the two U. S. Senators from Mississippi. It was plainly certified as the expression of the university itself. It reads as follows:

"(1) The Department of Justice had requested the university officials to take steps to warn the students not to assemble or demonstrate, with a threat of expulsion if they did. The university officials felt that threatening was not the way to handle the matter, and, instead, they outlined a plan whereby on Sunday night a special edition of The Mississippian, which is the daily campus newspaper, would be issued for distribution early Monday morning. Statements would be sought from the Lieutenant Governor, the Governor, the chancellor of the university, the director of student personnel and the president of the Associated Student Body, which could be used in the paper, over the campus radio, over the local city radio and over the loudspeaker at the Student Union Building. Such statements were in process of preparation as the students were returning to the campus late Sunday afternoon.

"We were informed by a Justice Department spokesman that Meredith would be brought to the campus later the same evening. University officials advised that this might not be an appropriate time, as the students were returning from their homes in large numbers at that time, and that we had not yet had time to put into effect the appeal to students which was planned for late Sunday and early Monday morning. The university was informed that Meredith was coming anyway.

'A Natural Consequence'

"(2) It was insisted by the Department of Justice officials that the university proceed to register Meredith on the Sabbath. During two of three telephone conversations, the university, as well as members of the board of trustees contacted, refused to violate the Sabbath or to take these unusual steps as the offices were closed on Sunday and, of course, including late Sunday evening. University officials were informed that Meredith would be on hand and on the university lands shortly, which, in view of the approaching darkness, was considered locally to be unwise.

"(3) Large contingents of United States marshals armed and with tear gas equipment and gas masks and other weapons came on to the campus late Sunday afternoon and formed a shoulder-to-shoulder line surrounding the Lyceum Building, which is the administration building. They presumably had not been informed by the Justice Department that their plan for registering Meredth on Sunday had been abandoned, for there seemed to be no reason whatsoever to surround this building. Several Justice attorneys entered the Lyceum—or administration building—and remained there presumably as advisers to the marshals.

"(4) As a natural consequence students gathered in front of the Lyceum Building to see what was going on. Before long you could hear them chiding, giving college yells, and, of course, occasional jeering. Some of them reported to have flicked their cigarettes in the direction of the marshals from a position across the street from the marshals, and some of the cigarettes were reported as being flicked on or toward fabric covering of military trucks.

"(5) The Military Police inquired if the director of student personnel would talk to the students if the marshals furnished a loudspeaker — which they agreed to furnish—and the director of the student personnel agreed to do so. Loudspeaker equipment was never furnished, so the director of student personnel and other university officials moved among the students talking to them, pointing out that the highway patrol was working harmoniously with the marshals and that the students should disperse.

Without Warning

"(6) members of the Mississippi Highway Patrol assisted the marshals by urging the students to withdraw and were, in fact, aiding and pushing the students backward on to the grass farther away from where the marshals were located as they were surrounding the Lyceum Building. The highway patrol was succeeding in moving the students backward and seemed to have things under control when, without warning, the marshals fired teargas projectiles, some of them, at least, fired pointblank at the students and highway patrolmen. This seemed, from all accounts, to have been unnecessary and illogical. This is also not the way to use tear gas, as any professional, well-trained law enforcement officer would know.

"(7) one highway patrolman was reported to have been struck in the mid-section by a teargas projectile, and he was hospitalized, and in the early evening a highway patrolman reported that they did not think he would live. He was removed to the hospital at Jackson by airplane later in the night.

"(8) Of course, the unfortunate firing of the gas shells provoked the students and others, which apparently detonated the activities which followed. Tear gas permeated the entire area.

"(9) A newspaper man representing a London and Paris newspaper was slain shortly thereafter and arrived at the hospital dead. Outsiders began to come to the campus at some point because the marshals had not closed off the entrance to the campus. They were still guarding the Lyceum Building instead of guarding the entrances to the campus. Another outsider, not a student, was shot dead and several were injured, including three other outsiders, whose identities were not known, and some United States marshals.

"(10) Later in the evening, about midnight, reports were received that, as students were arrested, they were being manhandled by the marshals. Troops of soldiers began occupying the campus after midnight."

The statement then referred to the casualties and urged that Congress appoint an investigating committee to determine the responsibility for the fateful happenings of last Sunday.

Schirra Fine

fore the vital reentry maneuver at the end of the flight.

Glenn and Carpenter both ran dangerously low on fuel during their three orbit flights. Both, in fact, had empty tanks after reentry. Mismanagement of the fuel system was blamed for the low supply in both cases.

Schirra carried the same amount of fuel that Glenn and Carpenter did, and one of his main assignments was to determine how well he could conserve it in setting guidelines for future U.S. space flights.

At the end of orbit two, Schirra reported to the control center at Cape Canaveral that all systems were performing very saisfactorily in the capsule and that he was ready to begin the drifting flight.

No Sight of Echo

At 10:25 a.m., after three hours and 10 minutes of flight, Schirra was asked by the Bermuda tracking station: "Did you see Echo?"

The astronaut did not see the big balloon communications satellite which was in the area, because he was conserving fuel and did not want to change the craft's attitude to look for it.

At the same time, the ground controller asked him if it weren't time for him to eat and Schirra replied:

"I'm about due for lunch now."

The capsule communicator told him, "have at it, and we'll leave you alone for awhile."

The space meal consisted of bite-sized solid cubes of high protein food.

Temperature Drops

The temperature problem developed when Schirra was above the Kano, Nigeria, station on the first orbit. He reported then a reading of 82 degrees. But by the time he passed over Cape Canaveral at the end of orbit one, he said the temperature was dropping.

Minutes later, he told the Kano station that he had the problem "under control."

As Schirra passed over Muchea, Australia, at 9:39 a.m. he reported that all systems in the spacecraft "were green," meaning fine.

The ground controller told him that the citizens of Perth, Australia, had turned on all their lights as a welcome sign and asked if he could see them.

Moments later, as he was talking to the tracking station at Woomera, Schirra said: "Oh, that's the lights down there. Thank them very much."

Mercury control reported that Schirra was operating the attitude control system of the Sigma 7 and had good command of the craft.

The two-ton capsule, traveling 17,560 miles an hour, swept high above Cape Canaveral at 8:49 a.m. (EST) at the completion of the first orbit and swung into the second. The flight plan called for six orbits lasting 9 hours 11 minutes—which is nearly double the time spent in space by any previous American astronaut.

Still Short of Russians

But it is far short of what Russians have accomplished.

If all six orbits were completed, Schirra's capsule would parachute to a landing in the Pacific Ocean 275 miles northeast of Midway Island.

Approximate impact time would be 4:26 p.m. (EST).

As Sigma 7 passed more than 100 miles above the Cape at the end of the first pass, Schirra conferred by radio with fellow astronaut Donald K. Slayton, stationed below at the Mercury Control Center. The 39-year-old Navy commander told Slayton that all systems in the capsule were working perfectly and that he was feeling "very good."

Licking Heat Problem

He said a suit temperature which has caused some concern throughout most of the first orbit apparently was being licked. Schirra still felt a little warm, he said, but the suit temperature had dropped gradually from an 82 degree reading over Kano, Nigeria, to 76 degrees above the Cape.

Slayton suggested, because of the suit temperature problem, that he change the reading on his valve control. But Schirra answered that he "felt a little cooler" and preferred to maintain the status quo.

Slayton recommended that he take a drink of water if he were too warm.

Minutes earlier, Schirra talked with fellow astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter who was the capsule communicator at the Guaymas, Mexico, station. He told Carpenter that "everything is going beautifully. I feel fine and everything else is fine. The suit temperature appears holding."

Using astronaut lingo, Schirra reported he was in "chimp configuration." Translated, this means that the capsule was on automatic control and that a chimpanzee would be able to do as well at this time as an astronaut.

Sees John's 'Friends'

Schirra also reported seeing "some of Colonel John's friends."

He referred to the "fireflies" which Glenn saw outside his capsule at sunrise on each of his orbits. These bright particles remained pretty much a mystery until Carpenter went aloft last May. He found that he could create them by knocking on the sides of the capsule.

Scientists theorized that the objects were pieces of frost jarring loose from the capsule. They are illuminated when the rays of the rising sun strike them.

Millions of television viewers, including President Kennedy, saw the astronaut's blast-off from this great space center, and kept track of his progress thereafter.

Fourteen minutes after the first Cape Canaveral pass, the astronaut reported to the Canary Islands station that he apparently had the suit temperature problem solved.

Drill-Like Precision

Schirra blased off from Cape Canaveral at 7:15 a.m. on the nose of a powerful Atlas booster. The blazing rocket performed with drill-like precision and rammed Sigma 7 into near perfect orbit ranging from about 100 to 176 miles above the earth.

Completes 3rd Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla (AP)—Walter M. Schirra Jr. set a space flight record for American astronauts today when he completed a third orbit of the earth at 11:57 a.m. (EST). His Sigma 7 capsule zipped on in a "go condition" for the planned six orbit mission.

North Front St. Property Sold, to Be Restaurant

The property at 46-48 North Front Street once a clothing and sporting goods store has been sold and will be made into two business locations, one a restaurant.

Purchase of the property was made today by Joseph R. Papillo of Lucas Avenue and Rene Brandow, proprieor of a restaurant at 75 North Front Street.

The locale formerly housed the Kaye Sportwair, Inc., now located at 328 Wall Street.

The present Rene Brandow restaurant will be torn down in accordance with removal of properties for uptown parking space.

Giant Toyland Being Arranged In Former Market

Advertisement in this issue of The Freeman announces the opening of a discount toyland at 83 Smith Avenue.

The business is to be part of Sunray Factory Outlet which has been conducting business at the address since July of 1957.

Louis Leone, manager of Sunray, said the toy department would be in the 10,000-square-foot part of the building formerly occupied by the Great Bull Market.

A definite opening date will be announced.

The firm has three other stores in Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Beacon.

To Select School Site

Voters in the Rhinebeck Central School district will have an opportunity to select a site for a new elementary school sometime this month or in November. The date of the voting will be announced later by the Board of Education. Two options are under consideration by the school board members. One is the Cozine property off the Knollwood development and the other is the Young property which is adjacent to the south side of the Cozine property.

DuBois Condition 'Poor'

Edward DuBois, 63, of 17 Prospect Street, who was injured in the Sunday night accident on Manor Avenue in which George William Kahrs, 23, of 421 Wilbur Avenue, was fatally injured, was reported still "in poor condition" at the Benedictine Hospital today. Kahrs, a taxi driver, suffered chest contusions and a laceration of the chest wall. DuBois, police said, suffered ankle and arm fractures and a scalp laceration.

Blast Kills Six

NEW YORK (AP)—A boiler explosion killed six persons and injured 36 others in a New York Telephone Co. building near the northern tip of Manhattan, police reported today.

Five hundred persons, most of them women, were employed in the building, an accounting center occupying most of a city block at Broadway and 215th Street.

The blast, shortly after noon, was described by firemen as of "great magnitude.".

Ambulances, fire engines, police cars and rescue equipment converged on the building.

Three Are Injured In City Traffic

Three persons were injured in two city traffic mishaps Tuesday.

Clement Carrado, 32, of Box 212, Glasco, reported a neck injury, and Eileen S. Orkoff, 16, of 6 St. James Court, knee injuries, after cars they drove were involved in a mishap on the uptown arterial route interchange at 3:58 p. m. Police said they both were to be treated by doctors.

Dorothy E. Haeussler, 44, of Woodstock, reported a cut under the right eye and a nose injury after a mishap at 11:58 p. m. on Broadway near VanBuren Street. She was treated at Kingston Hospital. She was listed as the driver of the one car and the other was operated by Thomas Brophy, 53, of 25 Dunneman Avenue.

Study New

sibility of requiring additional revenues to meet the demands for salary increases of the various city employes.

"To relieve the already burdened property owner of this possible increase, I respectfully suggest that your honorable body undertake a study of the non-property taxes available under state law, whereby additional revenues may be developed from sources other than real estate."

Turns in Data

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, after hearing the mayor's letter, turned over to City Clerk Walter S. Foster, material which he said he had obtained on tax revenue sources and asked that it be forwarded to Mayor Schwenk.

The council, in previous administrations, had been asked to consider means of obtaining additional taxes, but nothing ever materialized.

Alderman Frank A. Adams (D) Fifth Ward, again proposed a meeting of the council and police board after doubting the ability of the police department to enforce a cross-walk ordinance as proposed by the mayor, and he appealed to the mayor to "take the Common Council into his confidence, and urge the police board to meet with this body to dispel the fears that are being generated by the rumors concerning the police department and the lack of a full complement on the force."

Hastings felt that the mayor's cross-walk ordinance proposal was a "good idea," but he thought it "ridiculous" under circumstances to expect to have it enforced by the police.

Notes Fatalities

Mayor Schwenk's letter noted that during the past week two persons were fatally injured when struck by automobiles, and asked that "consideration be given the advisability of adopting an ordinance which would request pedestrians to cross only at designated cross-walks, and which would further require that motorists stop and give the right-of-way to pedestrians legally using such marked cross-walks."

Francis R. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward, after Adams had proposed a meeting of the aldermen and police board, foresaw the possibility of approval of such a meeting, but suggested that Majority Leader Sass and Minority Leader Carroll, be called in to meet with the board instead of the entire council. Koenig heads the finance committee which is due to meet with the police board when its budget sums are discussed. He proposed that the police board consider appointment of special patrolmen to fill vacancies until they are filled on a permanent basis.

Points to Bridge Sessions

Sass proposed that the city clerk request the meeting of majority and minority leaders with the police board. He emphasized that agreement and progress came of meetings of a special council committee named after collapse of the Esopus Creek bridge. They were harmonious sessions, he said, and he saw no reason why the same results could not be obtained in sessions with the police board.

Mrs. William Ochs, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, secretary of Sorosis, a women's club of 30 members, wrote that she had been directed by the club to write Mayor Schwenk and Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye to request that trees and shrubs be planted in and about the proposed uptown off-street parking area. This, said, the letter, would beautify the city and perhaps attract as much business as the actual parking available.

It was learned from the subcommittee on uptown urban renewal, she said, "that three old stone houses are to be demolished. We have learned that two of these houses have lost their historic value, but we do request that the DeWall Tavern be preserved." The old tavern building is near the Minasian market.

Asks Clear Reply

Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent, in answer to a request for remedial action to prevent the freezing of water lines in the Summer, Susan and Valley Street areas, said it had been found that service lines, rather than city conduits there are involved. He indicated that in instances where city lines are involved trouble is prevented by lowering mains. The lines in the area cited, he said are from 2½ feet to more than three feet down, which he indicated is deep enough in that area. It appeared, he said as though the service line problem had not been investigated, and noted that in the winter of 1960-61 some 100 service lines froze in various areas of the city.

Alderman Koenig said that the reply did not comply with his original request which was intended to have the problem aired by all concerned for a determination as to what can be done to solve the problem. The letter he said, did not "tell how to go about it." The running of water in the area to prevent freezing, he said, was costly to those involved, and he hoped that something could be done to prevent it.

Koenig also emphasized the many traffic problems to be solved in his ward, which, he said, was a small one in area, but contained many public buildings, including the new Mary's Avenue school, and businesses. He had been told, he said, that the school is due to open in January. He also proposed action that would provide sidewalks in the area of the school.

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, in reply to an inquiry as to what was being done to prevent traffic congestion in the area of the uptown arterial route interchange since collapse of the Esopus Creek bridge, wrote that his department was doing "everything possible to expedite the movement of traffic through this area. Patrol sergeants have been instructed to check the traffic flow at this point frequently and to assign officers, when available, as needed."

Kenik's Bakery Will Locate at Minasian Store

New location of Kenik's delicatessen and bakery, in business at 74 North Front Street, for many years, will be in Minasian's Supermarket, 86 North Front Street, it was made known today. Several other stores previously reported new locations.

Kenik's is one of the businesses affected by the Uptown Urban Renewal project. It was reported the Crown Street Shoe Repair Shop's new location will be in a store opposite the present place of business.

Relocation plans for other uptown businesses include: Bernie Singer, tire distributor, who will move to Albany Avenue Extension from the site at 71-73 North Front Street, prior to the Oct. 15 deadline; Kaplan's Juvenile Store, 65-67 North Front Street, will be consolidated with the parent store, Kaplan Furniture Co., 66-68 North Front Street; Barnett's Jewelry will leave its store at 65-67 North Front Street, and move to a new location at 41 North Front Street.

Al Heisman, clothier, is moving from 69 North Front Street, to 335 Wall Street; Joseph Scholar and Son, electrical appliances and equipment, now at 78 North Front Street, is moving to a new location at 661-669 Broadway on or about Oct. 15. Sam's Swap Shop, formerly at 52 North Front Street, moved about three months ago to its present store at 76 North Front Street.

Sees U.S. Stars Dominating Film Awards for 1962

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Oscar race for 1962 is now taking shape and one thing seems probable: Hollywood's highest honor will be brought back to Hollywood.

Last April the Academy voters, in an outburst of international good-will, tossed golden statues to a pair of foreigners — Sophia Loren and Maximilian Schell.

Down to the Wire

That feat is not likely to be repeated next spring. As it appears now, the Oscar derby will be dominated by Yankee entries.

The outline of the race can be seen now. The majority of the major entries will hit the Los Angeles theaters just before the yearend deadline.

Most of the December entries haven't been previewed yet, so the forecaster must go on probability of quality. Will "Mutiny on the Bounty" be a class film or purely commercial? If it possesses much artistic value at all, it is likely to be the leading contender among the films.

Another unknown quantity is "Lawrence of Arabia." But judging from past performances of the producer Sam Spiegel ("On the Waterfront," "Bridge on the River Kwai"), the desert epic will also be among the front-runners.

Other Possibilities

"The Longest Day," which opens this week, may also be among the leaders. So may any of these December releases: "Freud," "Day of Wine and Roses," "Gypsy," "Jumbo," "Taras Bulba," "Two for the Seesaw" and "Long Day's Journey Into Night."

And don't forget some of the releases earlier in the year: "Birdman of Alcatraz," "Counterfeit Traitor," "Music Man," "Miracle Worker" and "Sweet Bird of Youth."

The contenders for best starring performance offer one of the hottest — and most American — of races in recent years.

Marlon Brando's work in "Mutiny on the Bounty" is still to be seen, but he is always a top contender when in a good film. Burt Lancaster will no doubt be among the front-runners for "Birdman of Alcatraz," though his recent victory for "Elmer Gantry" may be a drawback.

Two stars have already set a fast pace for the ladies — Anne Bancroft in "The Miracle Worker" and Geraldine Page in "Sweet Bird of Youth."

Giant Sweeper

SAN DIEGO (AP)—A huge vacuum sweeper is keeping runways used by Convair at Lindbergh Field clean as a pin. Even smallest debris, the company says, could cause damage to jet engines of its new 880 commercial transports during test flights from the field.

Top Protestants

OTTAWA, Canada (AP)—The Catholic population of Canada exceeded that of Protestants for the first time in the 1961 census. The dominion bureau of statistics gives the number of Catholics as 8,532,479, an increase of 37.5 per cent in 10 years, compared with 8,531,574 Protestants, an increase in the same period of 18.3 per cent.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have a little book called Worcester Sketches published in 1820. It has some 370 pages and covers the states and the world. This strange little book mentions a table of heights of mountains, cities, in which it includes Catskill Mountains about 3,500 feet, Highlands 1,000, also Holyoke, Pyramid and St. Peter's Church 500 feet, in comparison.

Every section of the world knows what is best for its own climate, but once civilization comes in, they take over and force their ideas on the natives. I see the author of that book of 1820 had his own idea about the "do gooders" when he wrote the following lines about "The dress of the Indians before their acquaintance with the whites, was made of the skins of animals and feathers. This clothing, they say, was not only warmer, but lasted much longer than any woolen goods which they have purchased of the whites. Their dress now consist of blankets, plain or ruffled shirts, and leggings for the men, and petticoats for the women, made of cloth, generally red, blue or black. The wealthy besides adorn themselves with ribbands or garters of various colours, beads, silver broaches, and other trinkets."

The Indians had no historians, nor books, or newspapers, or convenient way to express their thoughts or wishes, yet they had their own rules and laws, love for their children, and respect for their elders. The white man did business with them, even had the Indians sign their legal papers, but I wonder if he was ever able to put down on paper what the Indians were really like, what they thought and what they wanted from life. There is so much lost in language differences and in translations. I remember in school we were always interested in stories about Indians.

The Indians were both friend and foe to the first inhabitants, as the case may be, and many of our places still carry names given to us by the Indians. A story is told in this book of how a young white officer was attacked with great fury by two Indian braves, just when an elderly Indian approached, drew his bow, and was about to end the life of the white man, when he suddenly dropped the bow. The young Indians retired with respect, and the old Indian took the white man by the hand and treated him with great kindness.

That entire winter the old Indian kept the white man, less as a slave and more as a companion, taught him the language of the country; instructed him in the crude arts practiced by the inhabitants, and so they lived in perfect harmony.

Time and time again, the young officer saw the old Indian look at him intently and then burst into tears. Spring returned, and the old Indian set out with his prisoner, finally the old man pointed to tents at a distance. "There are your countrymen. There is the enemy who waits to give us battle."

The old Indian continued: Remember I have saved your life, I taught you how to handle a canoe, to arm thyself with bow and arrows, and to surprise the beavers in the forest. What wast thou when I first took thee to my hut? Thy hands were those of an infant, they could not procure sustenance nor safety . . . " He ontinued, "Will you now take up a hatchet against us?"

"Never," replied the white man. "Hast thou a father?" the Indian finally asked. The white man said, "Yes." The Indian added, "I was a father, and had a son, who fell in battle by my side . . . Dost thou see, the beauty of that sparkling day, I do not. Do you see the beauty of the magnolia tree in full bloom? I do not. Go back to your father, that he may still have the pleasure of enjoying the sunrise in the morning, and the trees blossom in the spring," the Indian concluded.

I understand Vice President of the United States Charles Curtis and also Will Rogers were part Cherokee.

Here's what the other '63's wish they looked like.

Today—Wide-Track Pontiac '63

Obvious, isn't it, that Pontiac's come up with another beauty this year. Fresh over-and-under headlights, clean profile—but you can see that. There's a wider Wide-Track, too, and a full line of Trophy V-8's. [That ought to be enough to make those other cars turn green.] And we haven't mentioned such happy touches as self-adjusting brakes. So what, pray tell, could be keeping you from a new Pontiac of your own? A small suggestion. Don't run down to see one. Gallop! Wide-Track Pontiac

Painter Facing Burglary Charges In Po'keepsie

A 21-year-old painter was in the Dutchess County Jail at Poughkeepsie today in lieu of $10,000 bail, facing charges of burglary third degree in connection with a series of breaks in the Town of Poughkeepsie.

Town Police Chief Vincent Smith said Kerry Bishop, Hillside Lake, Town of East Fishkill, will appear Saturday before Justice of the Peace George C. Dietz, who fixed bail.

Chief Smith said Bishop admitted five burglaries in the city and Dutchess communities.

Bishop, police said, was spotted by Town Patrolman Vincent Traver, kneeling in the doorway of the Ben-Pari Jewelers, 44 Raymond Avenue, Arlington, early Tuesday. As the patrolman parked a police car, Bishop fled in an automobile.

Searched Car

Traver obtained the license number, and a check traced the ownership to Bishop. Detectives Richard Hellman, David Cundy and Philip McCready were on their way to Bishop's home when they saw the vehicle ahead of them. They overtook the car and on searching it, police found jewelry, rifles and other articles. The jewelry, police said was taken from the Ben-Pari store.

Chief Smith said Bishop admitted the jewelry store burglary, and the theft of the rifles from the Heritage Sports Shop, Dutchess Turnpike. Smith said also that Bishop admitted breaking into the Thunderbird Restaurant, South Road, and taking $160 in cash.

State House Stand Incredible

Barnett's Defiance Opened Door to Others in Miss.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland, Democrat and segregationist from Mississippi, plans something much less than a full investigation of the riots at the University of Mississippi.

He has announced the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which he is chairman, will look into "all events" at Ole Miss "since the U.S. marshals and Army troops moved in."

But he already is convinced he knows the cause of the riots. He and Mississippi's Gov. Ross R. Barnett blame them on the Kennedy administration and U.S. marshals.

Two Other Questions

But a thorough investigation would cover two other questions:

1. Why and how other Southern states have avoided bloodshed by beginning to comply with the Supreme Court order of eight years ago to end segregation in public schools.

2. And what led up to the Ole Miss riots which were an act of defiance against a U.S. court order for James H. Meredith, 29-year-old Negro, to be enrolled at the school.

The original defiance came from Barnett who said, "We shall never surrender" and personally blocked the court order by refusing to let Meredith into the school.

Thus the governor's defiance was an encouragement to the whole state of Mississippi, including the students at Ole Miss, to resist an order of a U.S. court

The product of this defiance was rioting deaths, many injuries and the spectacle of American race-hate which Mississippians dangled before a shocked world.

Barnett's performance is incredible from any reasonable standpoint.

May Have Been Bluff

He could not help but know—unless he thought he could bluff President Kennedy into doing nothing—that there could only be one result: the President would have to back up the court with force, if necessary.

If Mississippi could defy the government on such a profound social decision as that of the Supreme Court on public school education, then any state at any time could do the same on any other court decision.

The result would not be an American government but an American jungle. Since the people of the nation as a whole organized their government to prevent just such anarchy, then no state could defy the court and get away with it.

The alternative to silent submission to a Supreme Court decision is appeal to all the states through Congress where Southern Democrats, although in a minority, are a powerful force.

But Congress has done nothing to change the court decision on school desegregation since it was handed down in 1954.

Would Avoid Main Issue

Thus the kind of investigation Eastland announced would not touch the main issue at all: why Mississippi took it on itself to defy the government and why it thought it could get away with it, if it did.

Except now for Ole Miss, no school in Mississippi, Alabama or South Carolina has been desegregated after eight years. The entire Alabama congressional delegation gave its support to the Mississippians to proceed with its defiance.

After what happened at Ole Miss, Alabama and South Carolina, by this time, probably have come to the realization they can't defy the court either.

No Martial Law In Mississippi, Is JD Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any searches and seizures by federal officers in Mississippi are being made in accordance with the President's proclamation directing them to maintain law and order, a Justice Department spokesman said Tuesday.

There has been no declaration of martial law in Mississippi, said the spokesman, Assistant Information Officer Jack Rosenthal.

"The people down there," said Rosenthal, referring to U.S. marshals and federal troops, "are carrying out an order to maintain law and order.

"If they are making searches, they can do so if they have any suspicion of a crime, such as assaulting or interfering with federal officers."

Rosenthal said such searches might be necessary to "keep unauthorized weapons out of the area."

DamageEstimated At $40,000 After Greenport Blaze

An estimated loss of $40,000 was reported Tuesday after fire destroyed a farm supply business in the Town of Greenport, Columbia County, despite efforts of volunteer firemen from four nearby companies.

Assistant Fire Chief Chris Groll, Greenport, said the three-section building was beyond saving when firemen arrived. Firemen from Greenport and four neighboring companies laid thousands of feet of hose to water sources, and at one time pumped water from a private swimming pool.

Firemen concentrated their efforts on saving dwellings located about 50 feet of the blaze. During the height of the fire flames shot 60 feet into the air, fire officials said.

Anthony Guadino, owner of the business, said the property was partially insured. The frame building was packed with empty fruit crates, bushel baskets and other supplies. All the material was described by fire officials as highly inflammable.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Saugerties Board Discusses Street Deeds at Meeting

A representative from the Newburgh Savings Bank, Fred Wygant, was present at Monday night's meeting of the Saugerties Village Board of Trustees to discuss the deeding of streets in The Knolls development to the village.

The offer, made last week through a letter to the board, was rejected at that time in view of the fact that all streets had not been completely paved and the sewer and water lines had not been installed past the present homes. Mr. Wygant, on behalf of the bank, explained that all obligations and responsibilities of the former developers, Clare S. and Elbert T. Connaway, were not assumed by the bank at the time of foreclosure three years ago, but only in so far as the present unfinished development was concerned. The remaining property, which is not already owned by individuals, will be sold to another developer by the bank, Wygant said, therefore the executive board of the bank and its attorney, George Northrup, feel the roads as now completed fulfill the bank's responsibility.

Mayor George Holmes and the trustees pointed out the small section of the area left to be paved and connected to sewer and water lines and asked Wygant to have the bank's attorney meet with Louis P. Francello, village attorney, to work out an agreement in the best interest of all concerned.

In another matter which has come before the board several times, permission was granted for John Moore of Mt. Marion to conduct religious rallies on Friday evenings between the hours of 7 and 8 p. m. in front of the property occupied by the Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company, the Ronald Johnston Studios and the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., Main Street. The motion was made and consented to with the stipulation that the sidewalks be kept clear for pedestrians. Approval was on a 30-day trial basis.

Joseph V. Sullivan Jr. was granted exempt papers from the C. A. Lynch Fire Company.

Before the meeting was concluded a resolution was made and unanimously adopted that a letter from the board be sent to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors and the State University Board of Trustees in Albany asking for reconsideration of the vote on the site for the community college.

Meredith Reaction Varied Among NewYorkStudents

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi and the violence that accompanied it produced varied reactions among college students in Upstate New York.

"We cannot expect to put a man on the moon when we can't put a Negro in college," said Kathleen Kray of Syracuse, an associate editor of the student newspaper at the State University College at Oswego.

"I've run into a lot of people who told me, 'what's the difference—it doesn't affect me,'" reported Milton Joffee, editor of the Daily Orange at Syracuse University.

But he added that one undergraduate had told him, "I'm ashamed to be a student."

Virtually all students who commented deplored the rioting on the Ole Miss campus.

But John Pinto, president of the student senate at Utica College, commented, "many students feel Meredith is just being used as a martyr."

At Cornell University, students manned booths in the Student Union Building and urged that telegrams of support be sent to Meredith.

Miss Kray said nations uncommitted in the Cold War "can be pushed one way or the other by such events as this segregation issue."

Michael Walsh of Utica, a senior at Le Moyne College, commented, "We make all this talk of our democratic way, with its freedom and equality, and now this."

Schenectady Steel Union Supports GOP Candidates

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Local 2054 of the United Steel Workers supports Republican Assemblyman Joseph Egan for reelection over his Democratic opponent, an official of another union.

"We don't believe in endorsing someone just because he has a union title," a steel workers spokesman said after the endorsement was given Tuesday.

John Shambo, Eagan's Democratic opponent for the Assembly seat of Schenectady County, is president of Local 301 of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The steel workers also backed the re-election bids of Gov. Rockefeller and U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, both Republicans.

'Unavailable' Pilot Reported on Duty

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—A Great Lakes pilot, accused of being unavailable for duty on five days this year, was at work on one occasion when he was sought for another assignment, a federal hearing was told.

Capt. William Golden of Ogdensburg has been charged with being unavailable for pilot duties on May 1, 2, 3, 21, and June 11. The Great Lakes Pilotage Association, which brought the charges, has the power to revoke a pilot's license.

Capt. J. A. Edwards, supervisor of pilots at Cornwall pilotage in the Kingston, Ont., district, told a U.S. Commerce Department examiner Tuesday that he had records proving Golden was aboard a vessel on Lake Ontario April 30 and arrived at Port Weller, Ont., about midnight.

Golden is charged by the pilots' association with failing to answer a call to go to Cape Vincent, N. Y., May 1 for an assignment. He was listed as unavailable and another pilot took his place.

Airlines Not Using Routes May Lose Out

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Airlines not using assigned air routes are in danger of losing them, a spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Board says.

John W. Dregge, director of community and congressional relations for the board, said Tuesday that airlines must emplane five passengers daily at franchised stops.

Failing to do so, Dregge told the 15th annual State Aviation Conference, they are in danger of losing the routes.

Edmund T. Lynch, director of the State Bureau of Aviation, acted as moderator of the one-day program.

Legislator Gets Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jessica Weiss, R-N.Y., is undergoing tests and treatment at the National Institutes of health Clinical Center at Behesda, Md. The nature of the ailment was not disclosed.

An aide said, however, that it was related to her decision to retire from the House when her term expires in January.

Your Community Chest Contributions at Work

Your contribution to the one-for-many 1962 Ulster County Community Chest meant $4,132 for Gateway Industries, Inc.

Here is how your dollars help them to help others:

Gateway trains the handicapped for gainful employment, provides a sheltered workshop for those unable to work at public, competitive employment, and encourages business and industry to hire the handicapped.

No other community resource fills the same need. This non-profit agency places no geographical limitation or restriction on types of handicapped accepted for training. It supports itself and its trainees, in part, by work contracted to its shop from proceeds of salable items produced by its trainees.

The handicapped with mental and emotional disabilities, others disabled by loss of limbs, the deaf and blind, those suffering from heart, cancer and lung conditions, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, Buerger's Disease and the spastic were among the handicapped trained for employment by the agency during 1961 and 1962.

Trainees are referred from agencies such as the County Department of Public Welfare, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Board of Education, Association of the Blind, New York State Employment Service and, increasingly, there are many who voluntarily request training.

With the addition of its Sheltered Workshop in 1961, and increase in its contracts and trainees, Gateway in 1962 offers training and facilities for: machine and hand sewing, tailoring, caning, upholstery, carpentry, furniture refinishing, typing, bookkeeping, filing, steno script, use of adding machines and production work.

At the same time, professional guidance is given in good work habits, cooperation, acceptance of supervision and in self-confidence and self-respect.

Nine handicapped with an average of 2½ months training returned last year to gainful employment; others learned new skills and earned some salary in the Workshop program. All were better equipped emotionally and work-wise to face the job of living with their handicaps.

Gateway Industries, Inc., hopes to help increasing numbers of others to lead useful, self-supporting lives in Ulster County communities in 1963 — from your "fair share" contributed to the Ulster County Community Chest fund.

Miss Gramps was with the American Field Service, an organization for high school juniors.

No Property Damage ReportedFromTremors

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—No property damage or personal injuries are reported from earth tremors that shook this Adirondack resort village Tuesday night.

Police said many calls had been received reporting "rumblings" in the earth and rattling windows about 8 p.m.

The tremors lasted only a few seconds.

A Boy Scout troop on an outing at Vermontville, a few miles north of here, reported they also felt the earth tremble slightly.

Charges Collusion

Byrd Denounces JFK Policy on College Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., has charged collusion between the White House and the federal courts in breaking the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi.

He denounced President Kennedy's action Tuesday in a Senate speech.

"Where, and under what circumstances, will the government of the United States next use military force against our own people to enforce federal court orders?" Byrd asked.

Hits Use of Force

"The use of military force for such purposes," said the Virginian, "is even more offensive to our form of government when elements of the judicial branch are obviously acting—not independently of—but in collusion with the executive branch which commands the military force."

Byrd declared collusion was clear "by the nature of Department of Justice activity before federal courts and judges involved which is being reflected in the detail of an increasing number of orders and decrees they issue."

He said adherence to "checks and balances, and division of power on which our system of government rests" may have spared bloodshed.

Asked for a comment on the "Ole Miss" situation, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said "our government cannot long endure unless responsible Americans abide by the decisions of our courts."

LBJ Cites Real Issue

The real issue, he said, was stated by the President Sunday night "when he called upon the people to comply with the decision without violence."

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., announced he has invited Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to take part in a Senate Judiciary Committee investigation of "all events at the University of Mississippi since U.S. marshals and Army troops moved in."

Stennis, not a committee member, said he was pleased indeed to accept.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a committee member, told newsmen he thought it would require committee action to bring a non-member into the investigation.

Dirksen joined Republican leaders in voicing support of the President's action in sending in troops and added he was withholding decision on Republican participation in Eastland's proposed investigation.

Must Make Good For Money Theft

Richard Peter Harris, 19, of 81 Foxhall Avenue, arrested several weeks ago on a third degree burglary charge for a theft allegedly dating back to July, 1961, pleaded guilty today in city court to unlawful entry.

Imposition of sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation with the condition that he make restitution. It was charged that he had taken a sum of money from Sis's Giant Submarine Sandwich Shop, 456 Broadway. Attorney Joseph J. Qualtere appeared for him.

Two youths charged with trespassing on railroad property were fined $2 each. They were Arthur Short, 17, of 141 Chambers Street, and Joseph Augustine, 17, of Chambers Street.

Three drivers charged with speeding paid $40 in fines. William M. Aumand, of Stoll Court, Town of Ulster, was fined $20, and Anthony Sinagra, of 419 Boulevard, paid $15. Raymond F. Borg, of Harrington Street, New Paltz, was fined $5 after it was noted that he was clocked at only 35 miles an hour and had no similar traffic violations in many years of driving.

Had No Permission

Local police were notified at 6 p. m. Tuesday that "a group of girls" was soliciting advertising for a magazine in the uptown area apparently with the claim that they were working for or in conjunction with the Association for Retarded Children, which had given no such permission.

Reaffirms Type 3 Vaccine for Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special advisory committee has reaffirmed its recommendation that Type III oral polio vaccine be given only to children.

The committee first made the recommendation to Surgeon General Luther L. Terry Sept. 15 and it was reiterated after a meeting Tuesday with Dr. Albert B. Sabin, developer of the vaccine and member of the committee.

In the meeting, the members voiced "shades and differences of opinion," said Dr. Terry.

He didn't elaborate but Sabin is known to favor use of Type III for adults as well as children.

The committee recommended that communities carry on with planned mass immunization programs, using Types I and II for all persons and all three types for children.

All three are considered necessary for complete immunization.

Satellite Will Probe Sun, Its Hazards to Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Explorer satellite sped in a looping orbit of the earth today to measure the sun's radiation and its hazards to spacemen.

The 89-pound satellite's yo-yo course was intended to take it 53,000 miles from the earth and swing it back as close as 185 miles. The payload was hurled aloft Tuesday at 5:11 p.m. in the 12th straight successful satellite launching for the Thor-Delta rocket.

Though exact orbital figures cannot be confirmed for several days, Robert Gray of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "I see no reason to believe that we got anything but a normal performance. The apogee and perigee will probably be just about what we sought."

If successful, the experiment will produce the most extensive information yet on how the sun's radiation affects the earth's weather and communications and the dangers it poses for men and machinery in future deep space flights.

The extremely elliptical course was elected to enable the satellite to monitor high-energy particles over a wide area covering the earth's magnetic field, the Van Allen radiation belt and a section of interplanetary space above the belt.

Bronx Man Held For Hearing on Assault Charge

William Goldstein, 27, of 3221 Bainbridge Avenue, Bronx, who was arrested Monday by BCI Investigator Charles Teelon and Trooper Jack Dolphin of the Ellenville station on a warrant charging second degree assault on Ellenville Police Sergeant Leo Gorton, was held in lieu of $500 bail for a hearing on Monday, October 8 at 6 p. m. before Justice Frank Decker of Ellenville.

It is alleged Goldstein, an assistant manager of a coffee shop, assaulted Sergeant Gorton who had gone to the Terrace Room to investigate a charge that someone was creating a disturbance. Goldstein allegedly took off after resisting the sergeant, narrowly missing striking the officer with his car. A warrant was issued and state police later picked up Goldstein.

In lieu of the $500 bail Goldstein was committed to the Ulster County Jail.

Deweese DeWitt Renamed League's Vice President

Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice-president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, has been reappointed a member of the Committee on National Legislation of the Savings Association League of New York State, according to David Ford, president of the league.

The Committee on National Legislation initiates federal legislation matters of interest to savings associations. It also provides liaison with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and other federal government agencies.

The League is the trade association representing savings associations in New York State. There are 229 of these thrift and home-financing institutions in the state with assets of more than $5.7 billion.

British Trains, London Sub Hit By 2-Day Strike

LONDON (AP)—A 24-hour rail strike halted all British trains and the London subway today, keeping many thousands home from work in other industry and business.

The British Automobile Association said the combination of stay at homes and a system of temporary one-way streets kept motor traffic in London about normal. Traffic conditions also were reported near normal in other large cities.

The National Union of Railwaymen—NUR—ordered the strike to protest the government railway executive's plans to close down railroad workshops made superfluous by the switchover from steam to diesel locomotives. The economy move is expected to put some 33,000 employes out of work.

The union threatened a longer strike later if the government did not come to terms.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market kept a thin edge to the upside early today as trading slowed after a moderately active start.

Fractional gains among key stocks outnumbered losers in the same range but not by much.

Stocks of the No. 1 and No. 2 steel producers were about unchanged.

Motors edged barely higher on balance.

Prices were mixed and changes narrow on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were irregular.

Wharton Signs Fair Campaigner's Code

Representative J. Ernest Wharton (R-28th Dist. N. Y.) who is seeking his seventh term in Congress, today announced he has signed the Code of Fair Campaign Practices.

The Code, circulated by the Campaign Fair Practices Committee, pledges candidates to campaign "in the American way" and to "condemn the use of personal vilification, character defamation, whispering campaigns, libel, slander or scurrilous attacks on any candidate or his personal or family life," according to Congressman Wharton's announcement.

Gets 20-Day Term

Luis Perez, 26, of 428 117th Street, New York City, was committed to jail for 20 days by Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Town of Wawarsing on a petit larceny charge. Perez was arrested in Ellenville by state police.

More Trucks Roll, Most Firms in Accord

NEW YORK (AP)—More trucks carrying general merchandise were rolling here again today after settlement of a week-long Teamsters Union strike against many firms.

At the same time, contract accord was reached with 95 per cent of the 1,100 trucking firms whose long-haul operations are conducted mainly outside of the city—in New York State and New Jersey.

Labor peace came late Tuesday night to most of the 1,450 short-haul trucking concerns which deliver general merchandise in the city.

The remaining short-haul firms had signed individual contracts early in the strike.

The short-haul dispute involved about 12,000 Teamsters.

The long-haul contract negotiations involved 13 Teamster locals whose 57,000 members work for New York and New Jersey firms and New England-based firms that operate in those two states.

5 Columbia Men Injured in Rt. 9 Mishap Tuesday

Five Columbia County men were injured at 4:55 p. m. Tuesday, when the car in which they were traveling north on Route 9, Town of Red Hook, swerved out of control and sheered off a utility pole after hitting a rock ledge.

Rhinebeck State Trooper Richard Fulton, said the 1955 car was owned and driven by Alfred Dauski, 45, of Livingston.

The driver and four passengers suffered abrasions, contusions and lacerations. Others injured were Philip Bruno, 51; Quentin Moore, 38; Chester Najda, 40, and Harry Dykman, 49, all of Elizaville. They were taken to the Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck, by Red Hook and Rhinebeck emergency squads. All were admitted for treatment and observation.

Trooper Fulton reported Dauski was driving north when a front tire blew out, causing him to lose control about one-tenth of a mile north of Pitcher Lane, Town of Red Hook. The car left the east side of the highway, struck a rock ledge, continued on about 100 feet and sheered off a utility pole before the vehicle overturned on the pavement. The car was demolished.

Woman, 71, Robbed In Poughkeepsie, Laborer Charged

A 22-year-old laborer waived preliminary examination Tuesday in Poughkeepsie City Court, when arraigned on a charge of first degree robbery.

Police said James J. Springle, who gave addresses of 38 Hoffman Street, Poughkeepsie, and Huntington Station, L. I., was accused of assaulting Mrs. Sarah Canter, 71, operator of a downtown Poughkeepsie store, and robbing her of $15.

A resident, Donald Shook, 24, of 19 South Water Street, Poughkeepsie, who saw Springle fleeing from the Canter store as the woman screamed for help, assisted Patrolman Raymond Whalen in the capture of the suspect.

Police Chief John L. Martin said Shook and Mrs. Canter identified Springle.

Rocky to Speak

Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Ulster counties.

Morgenthau continued to campaign in New York City, the stronghold of Democratic voting strength in the state.

In other political developments:

1. Rockefeller, in a speech prepared for a rally today at Poughkeepsie, said he would expand development of camping and picnic sites and also promised efforts to encourage boating on the state's waterways.

2. Republican candidates for the State Senate, meeting Tuesday in New York City, promised to vote against a state tax increase, "barring any unforeseen and overwhelming economic crisis."

3. David Jaquith, gubernatorial candidate of the Conservative Party challenged Rockefeller and Morgenthau to a public debate "any time, any place and under any rules of procedure."

Other Developments

4. James B. Donovan, Democrat opposing the re-election bid of Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits, flew to Cuba to resume negotiations with Premier Fidel Castro for release of more than 1,000 Cubans captured during the unsuccessful invasion of the island last year.

5. John P. Lomenzo, Republican candidate for state comptroller, charged that Arthur Levitt, the Democratic incumbent in the office had hoped to win a judgeship but gave in to pressure of party bosses to become a candidate for re-election.

2 Aldermen

lem, proposed installation of a "walk" light at Hasbrouck Avenue and East Chester Street. He felt it would be an important safety factor for protection of the many school children who use the intersection. Hastings, who heads the traffic committee, asked the city clerk to determine by letter how soon the light could be installed.

School No. 3 was designated as quarters for registering for the November election after it was noted that the property of Ruth Clair, of 71 Chambers Street, would not be available.

Disabled Vets Getting Bigger October Check

On or about Oct. 31, disabled veterans will start receiving checks for increased compensation according to an announcement by Charles Culver, State Veteran Counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John Tyler, Director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency.

This increase in disability compensation payment is a result of legislation recently enacted. Under provisions of the new law, the October payment will have a special increase which amounts to a three months retroactive sum. Culver and Tyler stressed that the special increase applies to the October checks only.

The increases are on a sliding scale so that the more seriously injured veterans are to receive the higher benefits. The increase for a veteran who is 10 per cent disabled goes from $19 to $20 a month and the payment to a 100 per cent disabled veteran is upped from $225 a month to $250, the veteran officials pointed out.

In addition to payments based upon percentage of disability, additional "statutory" payments are made for specified disabilities or combinations of disabilities such as blindness, deafness, and loss of limbs.

Further information concerning veterans benefits may be obtained Monday thru Friday, 9 to 5, at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Bipartisan Distaste

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $50,000 prize-winning design for a memorial to Franklin Delano Roosevelt won no prizes from the House of Representatives or the Roosevelt family.

And a memorial commission was instructed Tuesday to try again.

The House turned from crasser aspects of legislation yesterday to consider the artistic merits of an FDR memorial design that a panel of architects selected in a nationwide competition: a loose grouping of huge upright concrete tablets inscribed with Roosevelt's words.

The distaste was bipartisan.

Only Reps. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., Eugene Keogh, D-N.Y. and Katharine St. George, R-N.Y., raised their voices in defense of the design.

Lomenzo Charges Party Pressured Levitt for Race

NEW YORK (AP)—John P. Lomenzo, Republican candidate for state comptroller, says "Democratic bosses" pressured his opponent into seeking reelection.

Lomenzo said the incumbent comptroller, Arthur Levitt, had hoped to be appointed to a judgeship.

Lomenzo, a former Monroe County judge, said in a statement Tuesday:

"It is true that he (Levitt) accepted the nomination of his party with the greatest reluctance—holding out for a judgeship but succumbing finally to pressures from Democratic bosses."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Young Dentist Seeks Investment Guidance

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "As a young dentist getting my debts paid off, I am interested in learning something about investing money. Can you suggest any practical way that I can go about this?" G. S.

A) I know of no question harder to answer than yours—and I would like to help you.

Learning to invest money successfully is a very tough job. It involves developing a sense of values—which some men never acquire even after years in the investment business.

Any good book store will give you the names of some standard publications, but these will do little more than enlarge your financial glossary and inform you about trading practices. Reading the better financial weeklies will help you to keep in touch with the investment world.

I think your best bet is to look around carefully and patiently for the right type of investment advisor, banker, or broker. If you always study the trend of earnings and always buy quality and growth you won't go far wrong.

Q) "Recently I inherited from my husband a portfolio of bonds, stocks and cash. I am enclosing a list for your review. At present I am advised to sell 50 per cent of the common stock and put the money into more bonds. Do you approve of this plan? If so, which stocks would you sell?" S. B.

A) If you will allow me, I should like to tell you that rarely in my experience have I encountered a finer list of securities or one which is better balanced. Your husband must have been a shrewd and farsighted man.

I can see no justification for selling such stocks as Cincinnati Gas & Electric, American Telephone, and General Motors in order to, purchase bonds. The only justification for such a move would be expectation of a collapse in the economy—which seems improbable.

You already hold a substantial backlog of savings, bonds and preferreds and I advise you to leave your portfolio exactly as it is.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Chest Chairmen Announced Here

The organization of this year's Community Chest Drive is progressing rapidly with the naming of Divisional chairman to assist Robert Carnright, general chairman of the campaign.

Anthony Vicevich was appointed as vice chairman; Peter Murphy, chairman of the business and industry division; John Carnright, advanced gifts chairman, Kenneth Beadle, chairman of the commercial division; and George Duffy, publicity and information director.

Vicevich graduated from Roxbury High School and Manhattan College, completing his studies at The School of Optometry, Columbia University. Vicevich came to Saugerties in 1949, and established his optometry practice on Main Street. A former lieutenant in the U. S. Navy, he served for four years and was present at the surrender ceremony on the U.S.S. Missouri. A member of the Lions Club, he has been active in community projects. Vicevich, with his wife Marjory and four children reside on Bridge Street in the village.

Murphy is a graduate of St. Francis College, New York City. Prior to locating in Saugerties, Mr. Murphy retired from the New York Seven-Up Bottling Co., where he had been employed for over 20 years, having risen to the post of vice president in charge of sales prior to his retirement. In 1959 he established the business of Murphy's Wines and Liquors on Partition Street. Since coming to Saugerties, Mr. Murphy has been very active in the community, being a member of the Chamber of Commerce of which he is presently the chairman of the merchants' committee; a member of the Rotary Club and this years president; and a member of the Community Chest Advisory Committee. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and with his wife Ann and their two children, resides on Elm Street in the village.

John Carnright is the executive vice president of the Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company. He graduated from Saugerties High School, continued his studies at the American Institute of Banking, and is a veteran of almost four years in the U.S. Air Force. He has been very active in community affairs as a member of the American Legion and the Snyder Hose Co. and past chief of the Saugerties Fire Department. He also served on the village board, and was industrial chairman of the recent cancer drive. He resides with his wife Betty and their two children on Warren Place in the village.

Ken Beadle is a graduate of Kingston High School and the College of Pharmacy of Columbia University. In addition to owning and operating Beadle's Pharmacy on Main Street, he is a Fellow of the American College of Apothecaries, and has been past president of the County Pharmaceutical Society. His community activities include member and past president of the Lions Club, member of the school board for five years, and a member of the village planning board. He and his wife Lillian have two married children, and reside on Finger Street in the village.

Rummage Sale

Articles, old and new, clothing, kitchen ware and toys, are now being collected by Mrs. Katherine Helm, chairman of the rummage sale sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW.

Sale dates are slated for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 17, 18 and 19 in the Odd Fellow building, Main Street. Articles to be donated may be brought to the Oct. 10 Auxiliary meeting, or left at the VFW Hall. The sale starts at 10 a. m. each day.

Film to Be Shown

A film, Grandma Goes to Town, will follow Thursday evening's business session of St. Mary of the Snow Rosary Society. The meeting will start at 8 p. m. Also on the agenda to be discussed will be the card party slated for Saturday, Oct. 20, and the Living Rosary procession to take place next week.

Mrs. Donna Ameen, program chairman, arranged the film showing through the courtesy of Central Hudson.

Area Notes

Mrs. Harold Swart is a patient at the Benedictine Hospital where she underwent surgery Monday.

Alfred R. MacMullen of Main Street, secretary of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, has returned to his home from the Kingston Hospital where he was a patient for a week following eye surgery.

Miss Sharon Jean Stahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stahl of High Woods, with Guy Milroy and Thomas Bagwell of Poughkeepsie, performed as an accordion trio at the Danbury, Conn. State Fair Sunday. The trio will again perform next Sunday at the bandstand in the center of The Big Top between 12:30 and 2 p. m.

Jaycees Attend Regional Parley

Several Saugerties Jaycees attended the Junior Chamber of Commerce Mid-Hudson Regional Meeting that was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, Sunday. Joseph Di Domenico of Saugerties, a Jaycee regional vice president, presided at the meeting.

Speakers at the meeting included Al Helo, New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce internal vice president, and Robert Dillon, a United States Junior Chamber of Commerce vice president.

Representing Saugerties at the meeting were Gerald Kurtz, Saugerties Jaycee President, Andrew Chesnick, James Pepperl, Robert McNary, George Leombruno, and Francis Myer.

Former Director Of Religion Dies

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Alfred E. Randall, a former director of the Department of Religion at Chautauqua Institution for 14 years, died Tuesday at his home in Jamestown. He was 85.

He served as pastor of the city's First Congregational Church from 1917 to 1944 when moved to the Chautauqua Institution. He also served as an associate superintendent of the New York State Congregational Churches.

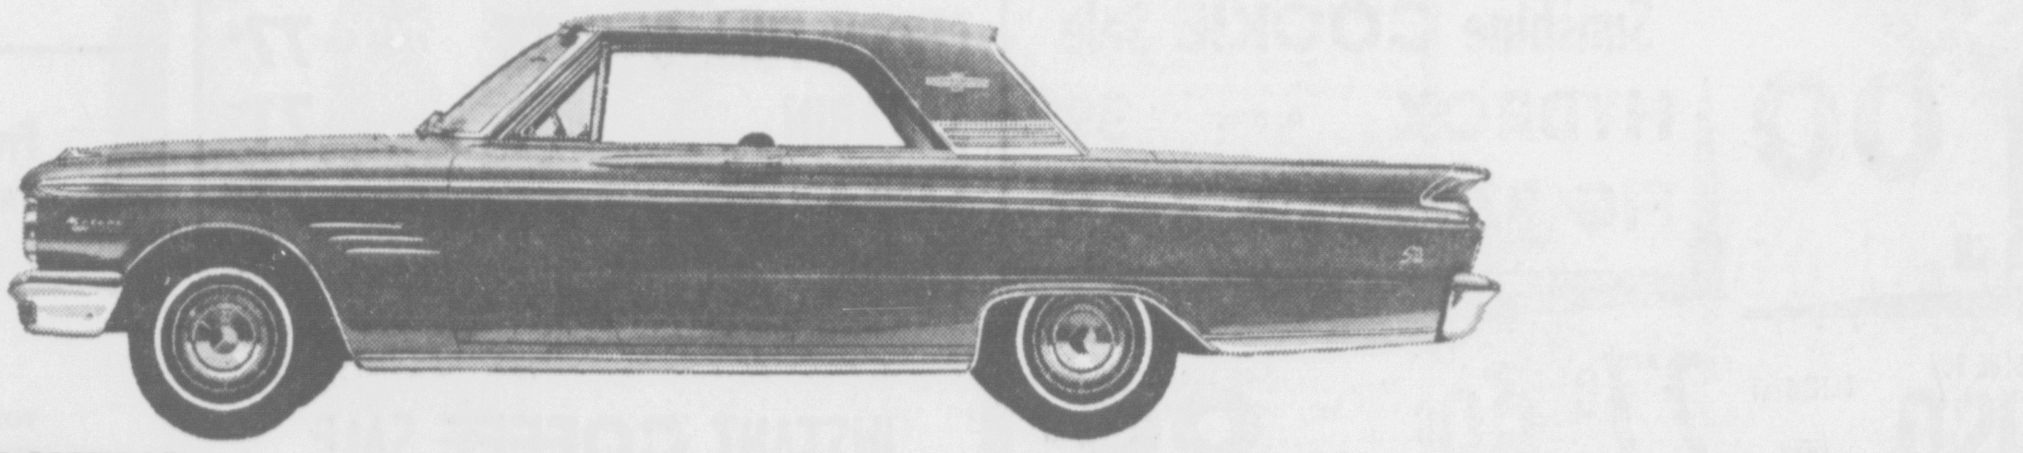
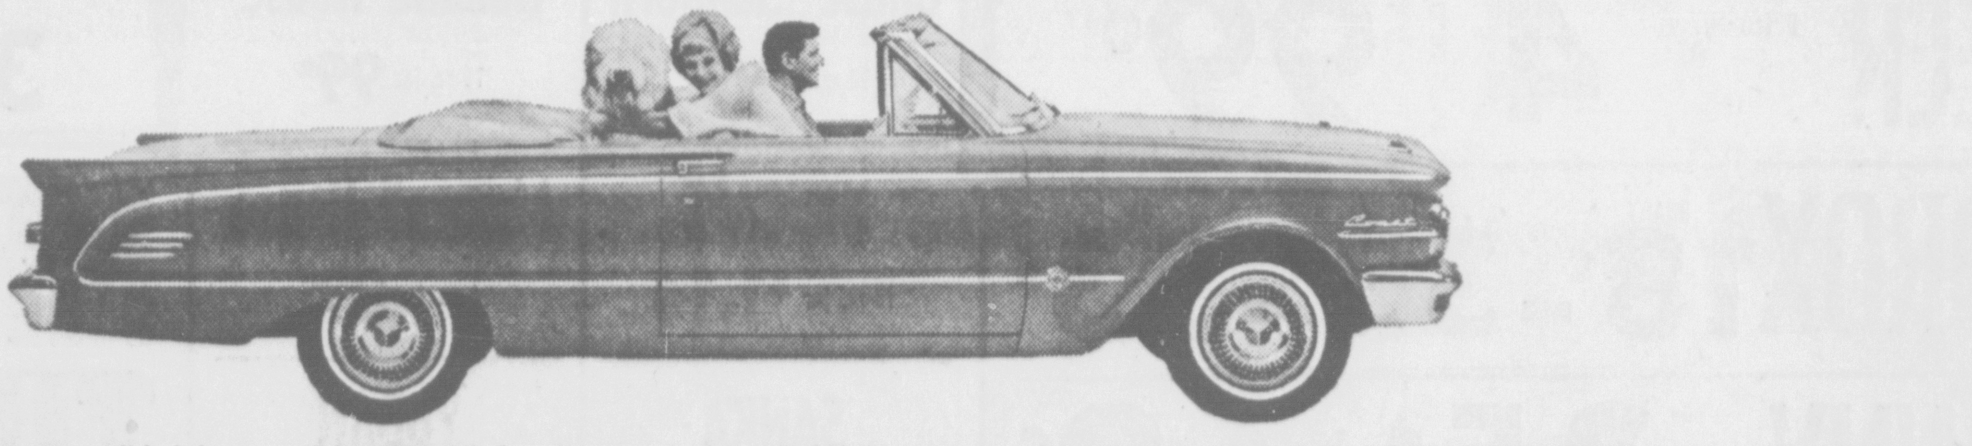
BURSTING WITH NEWS...'63 MERCURYS

NEWS-MAKING ROOF FROM MONTEREY. The advantages of Monterey's distinctive styling go far beyond its beauty. This is elegance that works. See how the recessed rear window slants inward? It stays clearer in rain or snow. On hot days, it opens for breezeway ventilation. The overhanging roof shades rear-seat passengers from the sun, gives them more headroom, keeps glare off the rear window for better rearview visibility. There's news inside the '63 Monterey, too. A Mercury Marauder 390 V-8 is the standard engine. Optional engines range up to a Super Marauder 406 V-8.



SPARKLING NEW MODELS FROM METEOR. For 1963, Meteor is the hot brand. Meteor is the sparkler with a whole new line of models in the low-price field—sleek new low-to-the-road hardtops, sedans, and three new station wagons. Feel sporty? Try the racy Meteor S-33 hardtop, with individually adjustable bucket seats, and a handy console. For brilliant performance to match Meteor's sparkle, a new Lightning 260 V-8 is optional in every model. And you save on upkeep with Mercury service-savers like 36,000-mile major lubrications, 6,000-mile minor lubes. Action-test Meteor soon!



THE LID'S OFF COMET. Now a jaunty new convertible joins Comet's all-fun line. This sleek, rakish beauty comes in two models: the Custom and the dashing S-22, with bucket seats and optional stick shift. All Comets now have a complete package of service-savers like self-adjusting brakes. And Comet still heads its class with the largest trunk, longest wheelbase, and best resale value record. See Comet's whole happy '63 line-up: convertibles, sedans with Comet's classic roof, station wagons like the Villager with rich mahogany-toned metal paneling. Fun-test your favorite Comet now!

Open Glenerie Bridge to Traffic At 11 a. m. Today

The new Glenerie Bridge across Esopus Creek at the old PVI site off Route 9W, Town of Saugerties was officially opened at 11 a. m. today following a ribbon cutting ceremony.

The new bridge which replaces the Sauer Bridge, a Town of Saugerties landmark, carries Glasco Turnpike which connects Route 9W with Mt. Marion.

Work at the new span was completed this week by Anthony Costanzi Corp. New approaches from both sides were also completed.

The footings of the new bridge were poured in the fall of 1961. The old span was built in 1896 by Horseheads Bridge Co., of Horseheads, Chemung County.

Glasco Turnpike at this point was temporarily closed to traffic during construction and blasting operations for the new approach.

Supervisor Peter M. Williams was scheduled to cut the ribbon, officially opening the bridge to traffic. The Saugerties High School Band was asked to provide music for the occasion.

The old bridge will be barricaded until arrangements are made for its demolition.

Space Program Begins Pack 9 Fall Season

Pack 9 recently started its fall season with a space program held at Redeemer Lutheran Church, sponsor of Pack 9.

On display was a large space map, a rocket made by Cubmaster Theodore Blankschan, a moon man and suit, worn by men when they flew eight miles straight up over Ascension Island, to record speed of missiles launched from Cape Canaveral.

The Color Guard presented colors and all said the Pledge of Allegiance. Gordon Stoutenburg and Robert Burger then presented a puppet show, entitled "The First American Rocket Launching."

After announcements and introduction of new parents and cubs, the cubmaster made the following advancements. Using the fire from the rocket, Cubmaster Theodore Blankschan and Assistant Harold Burger, branded 4 new Bobcats as Space Clubs of Pack 9.

Den 2 has Keith Holmquist and Howard Allen as new Cubs and Den 3 has Douglas Gaston and Frank Hoppee as new cubs. Den 1, Den Mother Mrs. Dunbar, 1 Lion Badge to Bill Dunbar. Den 2, Den Mother Marion Blankschan, had 2 Lion Badges to Gordon Stoutenburg and Robert Burger, and a Silver Arrow under Wolf to Glenn Stoutenburg. Den 3, Den Mother Doris Herring, had Bear Badge to Donald Dawson and Robert Hunger, Gold Arrow under Bear to Donald Dawson. Den 4, Den Mother Betty Huth, a Gold and Silver Arrow under Wolf to Jeffrey Huth, Wayne Freer and Thomas Mayer.

Den 2 presented a skit entitled "Music of the Spheres." The following cubs were dressed as space men and played space instruments: Ted Blankschan, Gordon and Glenn Stoutenburg, Robert Burger, John Fodor, Keith Holmquist and Howard Allen.

A delicate and precise music box recorded all sounds as horrible, fair or perfect.

Den 3 and 4 then presented a skit which came as a surprise to Cubmaster Blankschan and Den Mother Marion Blankschan. They read a poem for each letter of 'T-h-a-n-k Y-o-u" and Den Mother of Den 3, Doris Herring presented the cubmaster with a Cub Scout tie pin and Den Mother Marion Blankschan with a Cub Scout sweater clip and a Certificate of Thanks to both. Cubmaster Blankschan accepted the Certificate of Thanks and gift with a speech of thanks to all.

The Cubs played space games and then Den 2 presented the closing. Each cub formed a star of the Big Dipper and Bill Bruce, Den 2's den chief, as the North Star.

Pack 12 Inducts 2 New Bobcats

Cub Pack 12 at its September meeting at Old Dutch Reformed Church inducted Fred Moore as treasurer.

New Club members inducted as Bobcats were Dana Stingel and Michael Marnell.

Den Mothers are Mrs. Richard Scism for the South Wall Street area; Mrs. Fred Strauss, Washington Avenue area; Mrs. William Helmich, Miller Lane Extension area; Mrs. Leonard Miller, Downs Street area; Mrs. Edward Weismann, Kraus Farm area, and Mrs. Joseph Clausi, East Kingston area. Parents of boys 8-10 years old, interested, may contact the den mothers in their area.

100 Are Expected To Attend Public Works Institute

ITHACA—A city and village public works school on "Managing Men, Machinery and Materials in Public Works" will be held at Cornell University Oct. 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of the Municipal Training Institute.

Some 100 public works supervisors from cities and villages throughout the state are expected to attend the two-day school which will present both technical information and guidance in personnel supervision in public works.

Arranged cooperatively by the Conference of Mayors and Other Municipal Officials and the University, the School will involve the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations, the Department of Agricultural Engineering and the School of Civil Engineering at Cornell.

Discussion Topics Listed

Monday's session on managing men in public works will be presented by the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations. Faculty will be Professors Harlan B. Perrins, coordinator of special programs, Alpheus W. Smith, William J. Wasmuth and Emil A. Mesics and Richard E. Pivetz, district director of extension.

Among the topics to be discussed at workshop sessions will be directing the work of others, the challenge and responsibility of management, duties and responsibilities of a boss and effective job training techniques.

The annual meeting of the Rosendale Sportsmen's Association Inc., will be held at the clubhouse, Tillson Friday, 8 p. m. An election of officers for the coming year will be held and refreshments will be served.

Fifty pheasants were purchased and released on club posted property last week.

A new class for the youth hunter safety training program will start at the firehouse, Tillson, Thursday, 7:30 p. m. under supervision of John Coddington. Instructions in both the use of firearms and the long bow will be given to both boys and girls who apply for this training.

A little cream leftover from party fare? Drain canned whole-kernel corn and heat in the cream with freshly-ground pepper. Superb!

It becomes almost impossible to keep up with scientific advances. Attempts are being made constantly to improve human conditions. In 1961 a new laboratory facility for the measurement of very low levels of radioactivity — down to a millionth of a curie—was constructed under the auspices of the National Bureau of Standards to meet growing needs in such fields as biological and medical research and health physics.

Parish Jury Foreman

Donald C. Parish of Lake Katrine was named foreman of the October Grand Jury by Supreme Court Justice Lawrence D. Cooke, and Josephine N. Gambino of Kingston was named acting foreman. After a charge as to the duties of the Grand Jury by Justice Cooke, the grand jurors retired and organized for conduct of business. The first case was moved for trial was an automobile negligence action brought by Jeanne Ryan and another against Arthur R. Hallinan. Cook and Cook is attorney of record and Donald H. McCann, counsel for defendant.

A ship was in a storm at sea and threatened by waves mountain high. The captain recognized the danger and sent for a box of sky-rockets. He took these to the rail and ignited them, hoping the signal would be seen by some passing ship.

As the rockets were shooting up and glowing brightly, a nervous man made his way to the rail and spoke sternly to the captan:

Man—Captain, I must protest against this unseemly bravado. We are in great danger. This is no time for celebration.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —If ever Americans really needed a World Series, the fracas opening Thursday is the one.

They shouldn't and can't close their minds to a host of worries pressing in just now. But for a few days at least they can find welcome hours of relief in submerging themselves in the battle royal between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts for the baseball championship.

Change Could Be eHalthy

The change in tensions should be healthy. For just now the other tensions all around seem to be rising—maybe just a passing illusion, but millions of harried Americans must feel that way.

If it isn't Mississippi, it's Berlin. If it isn't Cuba, it's the Congo.

The stock market has many biting their nails—both those who actually are losing money and those who can't figure out what's happening—or, more important, why it's happening and what the future holds.

The closing days of any congressional session aren't soothing to the nerves. This year the many issues being batted back and forth or deliberately being shoved aside till after the election seem more touchy than usual. Congress seems to be raising about as many questions as it is settling.

Nor can you lull yourself to sleep these nights by counting the economic statistics. Too many point up and too many point down, and most just seem to be not pointing at all.

So businessmen can watch the World Series for awhile and stop worrying about profits. Are earnings being squeezed dangerously? Are they orphans in a hostile government climate? Can they be pepped up by more efficiency? Let's talk about that next week.

Respite for Some

Bankers and the nation's money managers can take a brief respite from fretting over the trend of interest rates—especially in the uncertain economic future. Maybe even the debate over whether our diks against the loss of more treasury gold are high enough can be adjourned temporarily.

What to do about the European Common Market, supposing we can do anything, can wait for a few days surely. Then we can start worrying again. Will the new freer trade bill work out into actual tariff bargains with Western Europe that will increase American export opportunities? Or will the competition from Europe grow more critical as the Common Market grows even stronger? Should we fight it, or join it, or seek a mutually profitable compromise?

And still farther out are all the imponderables about the space race. Worrying about the Soviet Union beating us to the moon or about its orbiting nuclear payloads over our heads can't be really shelved. But for a few days baseball will do its best to soothe our nerves.

SERVANT OF PEACE—Commemorative stamp honoring the memory of the late Dag Hammarskjold will go on sale Oct. 23 in New York City. Hammarskjold died in a plane crash a year ago while on a U.N. peace mission in Africa.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The brave sergeant and his men are cut off in this booby-trapped barn with instructions to send back the position of "the big one," a German gun. And then they have this prisoner, who says he's a Wehrmacht deserter, but maybe he's a spy.

Anyway, our infantrymen do their job, avoid the booby traps and the German tank and, in the nick of time, swim the stream to safety. That's the first episode of "Combat," ABC's new action-packed answer to complaints about television's unnecessary violence, which made its debut Tuesday night.

Really, there's nothing new in this series—the late shows have done this fighting men story often and expertly. But if you like war stories, "Combat" is a well-produced, tough and tense show. Incidentally, the Germans are not the villains. The heavy is war itself.

NBC's "Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson as its new pilot, took off smoothly this week. Johnny was agreeable, exhibited occasional flashes of gentle wit and seemed poised and sure of himself.

It is unfair to review a program of this type—largely spontaneous and depending heavily on the entertainment value of its guest stars, until it has had a few test flights.

This viewer's initial reaction was that the show was so smooth and bland, the conversation so polite—and the commercials so all-encompassing—that the program was hardly worth the sacrifice of a couple of hours of sleep. But again, Carson must have a chance to get rolling.

Recommended tonight: "Going My Way," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9:30 (EDT)—Gene Kelly and Leo G. Carroll play two priests in a series adapted from the old popular Bing Crosby movie; "Our Man Higgins," premiere, ABC, 9:30-10 — Stanley Holloway in a comedy series about an English butler in an American family; "The 11th Hour," premiere, NBC, 10-11 — Wendell Corey and Jack Ging play psychiatrist and psychoanalyst in another medical series.

'Rah-Rah' Name Still Appropriate

Schirra Is Most Carefree Of All Seven Astronauts

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —"Rah-rah" is what the boys at Annapolis called Walter M. Schirra Jr. 17 years ago. The name still is appropriate today.

Excerpts from the 1945 Naval Academy yearbook provide an idea of Schirra's character:

"Here is a guy who could make anyone laugh. His never-ending sense of humor, descriptions and ability to execute new pranks have kept us either amused or holding the bag."

Nothing Disturbs Him

Easygoing, unperturbable Wally Schirra is much the same today. He is the most carefree of the original, seven-man astronaut team, always ready with a smile or a fast wisecrack.

Nothing seems to disturb him. He went about the strenuous training for his orbital flight with the ease of preparing for a family picnic. He is happiest when things are fast-paced—when he's at the stick of a jet plane, the wheel of a fast sports car or is skimming the waves on water skis behind a powerful boat.

"We expect one of his women to snag him soon," the Annapolis yearbook continued. "But meanwhile his big brown eyes still have that new-fields-to-conquer look."

Wally succumbed to matrimony not long after graduation and has been conquering new worlds ever since, climaxed by his selection as the pilot for the longest U.S. manned orbital flight yet attemped.

The gal who snagged him was Josephine C. Fraser of Seattle, Wash. They have two children, Walter III, 12, and Suzanne, 4. Their home is in Houston, headquarters of the Manned Space Flight Center.

Native of Jersey

Schirra was born March 12, 1923, in Hackensack, N.J., and grew up in Oradell, N.J. He was somewhat of a hell-raiser in those days.

"Just a normal boy," recalls his mother, who, with Schirra's father, now lives in San Diego, Calif.

She remembers that Wally was "crazy about aircraft." This was natural because he came from a flying family. The elder Schirra was a World War I ace in the Army Air Corps and after the war he and his wife barnstormed through the eastern United States in a light plane, with Wally's mother walking a wing or two in her day.

The family attended the Episcopal Church.

Wally's father wanted him to go to West Point, but he chose Annapolis and naval aviation. He is now a commander.

90 Korean Missions

Schirra was first introduced to real danger in the Korean war, where he flew 90 combat missions in F84E jet aircraft. He downed one enemy MIG fighter and had one probable kill. For his service he earned the Distinguished Flying Cross and two air medals.

Kingston School Board Members To Attend Parley

Andrew T. Gilday, president of Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) School Board, announced that members of the board will be going back to school themselves later this month when they attend the 43rd annual convention of the New York State School Boards Association in Syracuse October 21-23.

These local school officials will be among the more than 3,500 school officials who will be learning how to do their own school board work better by hearing state and nationally known speakers, viewing a horde of commercial exhibits, conferring with government officials, taking part in the association's business, and rubbing shoulders with the hundreds of other school board members who have been "through the mill" in solving numerous school board problems.

Representing over 800 school districts, these school officials come from all parts of the state annually to take part in the largest school meeting of its kind in the country. This year their speeches and discussions will be directed toward the theme, "Strengthening Education Will Strengthen America."

The following members of the board will attend the Syracuse meeting: President Gilday and Mrs. Edith Case Murphy. In addition, Dr. Earl F. Soepr, superintendent, will attend.

Stone Collection Auction

Special Phone Is Carried Today on Schirra's Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A sort of extension telephone designed for mid-ocean raft lounging is part of astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr.'s equipment for his scheduled six-orbit flight.

The idea is to let people know where he is—and how he feels—at journey's end.

The telephone is essentially a tiny, highly refined version of the headsets worn by switchboard operators. It has a 30-foot cord, one end of which can be carried by the astronaut from the space capsule to the life raft.

The addition of the telephone to the spacecraft equipment was predicated upon the assumption that Schirra would much prefer a sunbath aboard the life raft to remaining inside the capsule cabin after landing.

This assumption was understandable since one capsule sank only minutes after impact in July 1961. This was the one Virgil I. Grissom rode on a 15-minute suborbital flight.

In the unlikely event that the capsule should sink or the transmitters fail, Schirra has a walkie-talkie radio in the survival kit aboard the raft.

Vincent Amrod, chairman of the education committee of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, has announced that a tour and rally at the Winston Estate will be held on Sunday afternoon between 3 and 4 p. m. to which all residents and supervisors of the counties of Ulster, Greene and Columbia are invited.

Woman Fourth Victim of Fire In Orange County

FLORIDA, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Anna Proczak, 50, died Tuesday of burns received in a farmhouse fire that killed three other members of her family.

Killed in Monday's fire near this Orange County community were Mrs. Proczak's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Barbara Proczak, 20; and the latter's two children, Brenda, 2½, and Judy, 4 months.

Mrs. Anna Proczak's daughter, Rose, 20, told police the blaze apparently started after gasoline in a cracked pitcher spilled onto the kitchen floor near a wood stove.

Rose Proczak, injured in the fire, was listed in fair condition at St. Anthony's Hospital at Warwick where her mother died.

Columbia County Bomb Scarer's Identity Sought

Columbia County authorities today were seeking information that might lead to the identity of a person, who is responsible for the fourth bomb scare, and put an end to the series of scares that started last Wednesday.

Hudson police and Assistant Principal Paul Westfall, received anonymous calls last night from a person with a male voice, reporting a bomb was in the Hudson High School.

The building was searched and no trace of a bomb was reported at Chatham Central School. Two other anonymous calls last weekend reported bombs at the Hudson Junior High School.

Collins Resigns P-TA Post; Mrs, Schwartz New President

Lloyd K. Collins, president of the West Hurley P-TA, resigned to accept an appointment to the Onteora School Board and Mrs. Helen Schwartz was chosen unanimously as the new president at last week's business meeting.

In a letter to the P-TA, the former president said he resigned in order to eliminate any conflicting interests.

The resignation was accepted with regrets and the members wished the former president success in his new capacity. Mrs. Charles Duffy, chairman of the nominating committee, nominated Mrs. Schwartz as president and she was elected unanimously.

Other officers for 1963 are Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, vice president; Mrs. Betty Horvath, second vice president; Erharrd Hennemann, corresponding secretary and Martin Weinberger, treasurer.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Vivian Mackey and Mrs. Elaine Frangello, co-chairmen of room mothers; Mrs. Betty Lowe and Mrs. Erma Wisneski, co-chairmen of hospitality; Mrs. Fae Klinger, membership; Mrs. Patricia Gray, program; Mrs. Audrey Bagnall, get-out-the-vote; Mrs. Roseann Castaldo, pre-school; Mrs. Jody Collins, ways and means; Martin Weinberger, budget; Mrs. Ingrid Sternberg, legislative; Mrs. Ruth Heisman, publicity and Mrs. Erne Levins, advisor.

GOP Endorses Fred G. Freitag

Members of the Woodstock Republican Club have endorsed the candidacy of Fred G. Freitag as Assessor. A resident of Lake Hill, Freitag is well known in Woodstock. He is a retired engineer.

Robert D. Nelson, president of the Woodstock Republican Club, has made known the appointment of Andrew Shekitka as 1st vice president to fill a vacancy.

Gotlob Wagner was named campaign chairman. Arthur Shephard and Dave Hyatt were named co-chairmen of the headquarters, located next to the Post Office.

At a recent meeting, Monroe Longendyke, chairman of the Rally Committee, reported net receipts of $491, the result of a successful event held at the Woodstock Estates on Sept. 8.

Overlook Church Lists Topic for This Sunday

"What Communion Do We Have With Christ?" is the sermon topic of the Rev. James W. Cook for Sunday at the Overlook Methodist Church in Woodstock.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered on Sunday, which is World Wide Communion Sunday. The worship hour is at 11 at. m. with a nursery provided during the service. Sunday School is at 9:45 for those above the Kindergarten Class; at 10:45 for the Beginner and Kindergarten Classes.

Junior High MYF meets at 5 p. m. in the Church Hall; senior high MYF meets at 6 p. m. in the hall. The Junior Choir meets Thursday at 6:45 p. m. and the senior choir meets on Thursdays at 7:30 p. m.

Last Sunday a rally day took place in the church. Children were given promotion certificates and there was also a dedication service for teachers and education commission members. Mrs. Harry Mirick, chairman of the Commission, presented, on behalf of the Commission, corsages to the ladies who are teachers and commission members. A highlight of the service was a talk by Edgar Baker on "What Sunday School Means and Has Meant to Me."

Congregation Officers Will Be Installed

Five officers of the Congregation of Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock, will be installed into their offices this Sunday at the 11 a. m. service. They are Lawrence Deede, Deacon; Hans Hergen, Elder; Albert S. Holumzer, Trustee; Mrs. Erwin Holumzer, Treasurer and Harold Schussler, Secretary. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated at this service.

Start Petition To Oppose Stone Ridge Location

A petition is being circulated in Woodstock asking the County Board of Supervisors to declare invalid the recent vote of the Community College Board of Trustees in selecting Stone Ridge site over the Winston site in Saugerties.

Grounds for this petition are based upon (1) the prejudice of one trustee who openly stated before several witnesses "they will go to Saugerties over my dead body;" (2) the cost to the county taxpayers of a building on the Stone Ridge site would far exceed the cost of erecting a college on the Winston site and (3) the Stone Ridge site is only about 12 miles from New Paltz, a four-year state university Therefore, Woodstock residents feel this does not bring a new college to Ulster County but merely a New Paltz annex.

Petitions may be signed at the News Shop and Delicatessen, Studio Shop, Cafe Expresso, Guild of Craftsmen and Sheila's Restaurant.

Golden Age Clubs Get Invite From Woodstock

Kingston and Saugerties Golden Age Clubs are invited to attend the fifth anniversary of the Woodstock Senior Citizens Club, organized by the Public Health Nursing Committee. A reception will take place at the Woodstock Town Hall on Tuesday, Oct. 16, Oct. 16, 8 p. m.

Men and women over sixty years of age and residing in Woodstock, are invited to join the club.

Leftover cooked rice stretches a chicken and vegetable mixture for salad or sandwich filling. Chop the chicken fine. The vegetables may be a combination of cooked ones. Mayonnaise is usually the best dressing for this mixture.

Levitt Plans Thursday Visit to Rochester

NEW YORK (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, Democratic candidate for re-election, will make his first Upstate campaign appearance Thursday in Rochester.

Levitt has scheduled a news conference Thursday at the Powers Hotel in Rochester and will speak later at a luncheon of the Rochester Advertising Club in the hotel.

He also plans brief visits at various points in Rochester.

Navy Tradition

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP)—The eight sons of Mrs. Mary Schmehl have created a patriotic family tradition. All eight have at one time or another served in the Navy. The family has spent an aggregate of 45 years in the service.

STATE OF NEW YORK
Department of State
Albany, July 30, 1962.

PURSUANT to the provisions of section one of article nineteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seventy-one of the Election Law, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments numbers one to fifteen inclusive to the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of Members of Assembly in this State to be held on the sixth day of November, nineteen hundred sixty-two.

CAROLINE K. SIMON,
Secretary of State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER ONE
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing amendments to sections one, two, four, six and the powers of the legislature in aid of housing, urban renewal ten of article eighteen of the constitution, in relation to programs, and rehabilitation and improvement of substandard dwellings and in relation to the contracting of municipal indebtedness for such purposes

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That sections one, two, four, six and ten of article eighteen of the constitution be amended to read, respectively, as follows:

Section 1. Subject to the provisions of this article, the legislature may provide in such manner, by such means and upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe for (1) [low rent] housing for persons [of low income as defined by law, or for the clearance, replanning, reconstruction and rehabilitation of substandard and insanitary areas] whose housing needs cannot be met by the unaided operations of private enterprise, as determined by law; or (2) urban renewal programs, as defined by law, including clearance, replanning, reconstruction, rehabilitation, renewal, redevelopment, conservation or improvement of slum, blighted, deteriorated or deteriorating areas, or any combination thereof; or (3) rehabilitation and improvement of substandard dwellings where it has been determined by law that such rehabilitation and improvement cannot be accomplished by the unaided operations of private enterprise, or for [both] any one or more of such purposes, and for recreational and other facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto.

§ 2. For and in aid of such purposes, notwithstanding any provision in any other article of this constitution, but subject to the limitations contained in this article, the legislature may: make or contract to make or authorize to be made or contracted capital or periodic subsidies by the state to any city, town, village, or public corporation, payable only with moneys appropriated therefor from the general fund of the state; authorize any city, town or village to make or contract to make such subsidies to any public corporation, payable only with moneys locally appropriated therefor from the general or other fund available for current expenses of such municipality; authorize the contracting of indebtedness for the purpose of providing moneys out of which it may make or contract to make or authorize to be made or contracted loans by the state to any city, town, village or public corporation; authorize any city, town or village to make or contract to make loans to any public corporation; authorize any city, town or village to guarantee the principal of and interest on, or only the interest on, indebtedness contracted by a public corporation; authorize and provide for loans by the state and authorize loans by any city, town or village to or in aid of (a) corporations regulated by law as to rents, profits, dividends and disposition of their property or franchises and engaged in providing housing facilities[; authorize any city, town or village to make loans to] and (b) the owners of [existing multiple] substandard dwellings for the rehabilitation and improvement thereof [for occupancy by persons of low income as defined by law]; grant or authorize tax exemptions in whole or in part, except that no such exemption may be granted or authorized for a period of more than sixty years; authorize cooperation with and the acceptance of aid from the United States; grant the power of eminent domain to any city, town or village, to any public corporation and to any corporation regulated by law as to rents, profits, divdends and disposition of its property or franchises and engaged in providing housing facilities.

As used in this article, the term "public corporation" shall mean any corporate governmental agency (except a county or municipal corporation) organized pursuant to law to accomplish any or all of the purposes specified in this article.

§ 4. The provisions of article VIII, not inconsistent with this article, shall apply to certificates or other evidences of indebtedness issued by a city, town or village to effectuate the purposes of this article, except that (a) the period of probable usefulness of any object or purpose authorized by or pursuant to this article may be determined to be not exceeding fifty-five years, (b) the first annual installment of all such indebtedness and of each portion thereof from time to time contracted, including any refunding thereof, shall be paid not more than ten years after such indebtedness or portion thereof shall have been contracted, (c) the amounts of annual installments shall be determined subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the legislature, and (d) certificates or other evidences of indebtedness issued in anticipation of the receipt of moneys in connection with any urban renewal program or part thereof, or renewals thereof, from (1) the sale of real property, or any interest therein, acquired for or incidental to such urban renewal program or part thereof, or (2) from the United States government, or (3) from the state of New York, or from any or all of such sources, to the extent that such moneys are not received within ten years after their date of original issue, may be refunded subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the legislature, provided no such refunding shall extend beyond fifty-five years computed from such date of original issue.

To effectuate any of the purposes of this article, the legislature may authorize any city, town or village to contract indebtedness to an amount which shall not exceed two per centum of the average [assesed] full valuation of the taxable real estate of such city, town or village [subject to taxation], as determined [by the last completed assessment roll and the four preceding assesment rolls of such city, town or village, for city, town or village taxes prior to the contracting of such indebtedness] in the manner prescribed in article eight of this constitution. In ascertaining the power of a city, town or village [having a population of five thousand or more as determined by the last federal census,] to contract indebtedness pursuant to this article there may be excluded (a) any such indebtedness if the project or projects aided by guarantees representing such indebtednes or by loans for which such indebtednes was contracted shall have yielded during the preceding year net revenue to be determined annually by deducting from the gross revenues, including periodic subsidies therefor, received from such project or projects, all costs of operation, maintenance, repairs and replacements, and the interest on such indebtedness and the amounts required in such year for the payment of such indebtedness; provided that in the case of guarantees such interest and such amounts shall have been paid, and in the case of loans an amount equal to such interest and such amounts shall have been paid to such city, town or village; and (b) certificates or other evidences of such indebtedness issued in anticipation of the receipt of moneys in connection with any urban renewal program or part thereof (1) from the sale of real property, or any interest therein, acquired for or incidental to an urban renewal program, or (2) from the United States government, or (3) from the state of New York, or from any or all of such sources; excepting any such certificates or other evidences of indebtedness or renewals thereof which are not retired within ten years after their date of original issue. The legislature shall prescribe the method of which the amount of any [such] indebtedness to be excluded under (a) above shall be determined, and no [such] indebtedness shall be excluded thereunder except in accordance with such determination[. The]; and the legislature may confer appropriate jurisdiction on the state comptroller, or the appellate division of the supreme court in the judicial departments in which such cities, towns or villages are located, for the purpose of determining the amount of any [such] indebtedness to be [so] excluded thereunder.

The liability of a city, town of village on account of any contract for capital or periodic subsidies to be paid subsequent to the then current year shall, for the purpose of ascertaining the power of such city, town or village to contract indebtedness, be deemed indebtedness in the amount of the commuted value of the total of such capital or periodic subsidies remaining unpaid, calucated on the basis of an annual interest rate of four per centum. Such periodic subsidies shall not be contracted for a period longer than the life of the projects assisted thereby, and in no event for more than sixty years. Indebtedness contracted pursuant to this article shall be excluded in ascertaining the power of a city, town or [such] village otherwise to create indebtedness under any other section of this constitution. Nothwithstanding the foregoing the legislature shall not authorize any city, town or village [having a population of five thousand or more] to contract indebtedness hereunder in excess of the limitations prescribed by any other article of this constitution unless at the same time it shall by law require such city, town or village to levy annually a tax or taxes other than an ad valorem tax on real estate to an extent sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on any such indebtedness. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be construed to prevent such city, town or village from pledging its faith and credit for the payment of such principal and interest nor shall any such law prevent recourse to an ad valorem tax on real estate to the extent that revenue derived from such other tax or taxes in any year, together with revenues from the project or projects aided by the proceeds of such indebtedness, shall become insufficient to provide fully for payment of such principal and interest in that year.

§ 6 No loan or subsidy shall be made by the state to aid any housing or urban renewal project unless such project is in conformity with a plan or undertaking [for the clearance, replanning and reconstruction or rehabilitation of a substandard and insanitary area or areas and for recreational and other facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto] consistent with the purposes set forth in this article. The legislature may provide additional conditions to the making of such loans or subsidies consistent with [the] such purposes [of this article]. The occupancy of any such housing project constructed, acquired or operated pursuant to the provisions of clause (1) of section one of this article shall be restricted [to persons of low income as defined by law] to persons whose housing needs cannot be met by the unaided operations of private enterprise and preference in occupancy thereof shall be given to persons who live or shall have lived in [in such] the project area [or areas].

§ 10. The legislature is empowered to make all laws which it shall deem necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers. This article shall be construed as extending powers which otherwise might be limited by other articles of this constitution and shall not be construed as imposing additional limitations; but nothing in this article contained shall be deemed to authorize or empower the state, or any city, town, village or public corporation, to engage in any private business or enterprise other than [the building and operation of low rent dwelling houses for persons of low income as defined by law, or the loaning of money to owners of existing multiple dwellings as herein provided] as authorized by or pursuant to this article.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER TWO
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to section two of article two of the constitution, in relation to absentee voting and a new section nine to article two of the constitution, in relation to the qualification of voters for the election of presidential and vice-presidential electors.

Section 1. Resolved if (the Senate concur), That section two of article two of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 2. The legislature may, by general law, provide a manner in which, and the time and place at which, qualified voters who, on the occurrence of any election, may be [unavoidably] absent from the [place] county of their residence or, if residents of the city of New York, from such city [because they are inmates of a soldiers' and sailors' home or of a United State veterans' bureau hospital, or because their duties, occupation or business, or those of members of their families, require them to be elsewhere], and qualified voters who, on the occurrence of any election, may be unable to appear personally at the polling place because of illness or physical or disability, may vote and for the return and canvass of their votes.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article two of the constitution be amended by adding thereto at the end thereof a new section, to be section nine, to read as follows:

§ 9. Notwithstanding the residence requirements imposed by section one of this article, the legislature may, by general law, provide special procedures whereby every person who shall have moved from another state to this state or from one county, city or village within this state to another county, city or village within this state and who shall have been an inhabitant of this state in any event for thirty days next preceding an election at which electors are to be chosen for the office of president and vice president of the United States shall be entitled to vote in this state solely for such electors, provided such person is otherwise qualified to vote in this state and is not able to qualify to vote for such electors in any other state. The legislature may also, by general law, prescribe special procedures whereby every person who is registered and would be qualified to vote in this state but for his removal from this state to another state within one year next preceding such election shall be entitled to vote in this state solely for such electors, provided such person is not able to qualify to vote for such electors in any other state.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER THREE
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to section two of article two of the constitution, in relation to absentee voting.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section two of article two of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 2. The legislature may, by general law, provide a manner in which, and the time and place at which, qualified voters who, on the occurrence of any election, may be [unavoidably] absent from the [place] county of their residence or, if residents of the city of New York, from the city [because they are inmates of a soldiers' and sailors' home or of a United States veterans' bureau hospital, or because their duties, occupation or business, or those of members of their families, require them to be elsewhere], and qualified voters who, on the occurrence of any election, may be unable to appear personally at the polling place because of illness or physical disability, may vote and for the return and canvass of their votes.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That article two of the constitution be amended by adding thereto at the end thereof a new section, to be section nine, to read as follows:

§ 9. Notwithstanding the residence requirements imposed by section one of this article, the legislative may, by general law, provide special procedures whereby every person who shall have moved from another state to this state or from one county, city or village within this state to another county, city or village within this state and who shall have been an inhabitant of this state in any event for ninety days next preceding an election at which electors are to be chosen for the office of president and vice president of the United States shall be entitled to vote in this state solely for such electors, provided such person is otherwise qualified to vote in this state and is not able to qualify to vote for such electors in any other state. The legislative may also, by general law, prescribe special procedures whereby every person who is registered and would be qualified to vote in this state but for his removal from this state to another state within one year next preceding such election shall be entitled to vote in this state solely for such electors, provided such person is not able to qualify to vote for such electors in any other state.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER FOUR
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing amendments to sections three, five and six of article four, to section nine of article three, and to section twelve of article thirteen, of the constitution, in relation to the compensation of the governor and the lieutenant-governor, when the lieutenant-governor shall act as or become governor, the devolution of the duty of acting as governor and the choice of a speaker of the assembly.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section three of article four of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows.

§ 3. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature, or the senate only, on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to it as he shall judge expedient. He shall expediate all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary [of not more than fifty thousand dollars,] to be fixed by joint resolution of the senate and assembly, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section five of such article of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 5. [In case the person elected governor shall die after his election but before he shall have qualified as and assumed the office of governor, the powers and duties of the office of governor shall devolve upon the person elected lieutenant-governor at the same election and he shall serve as governor for the term for which the deceased governor-elect was elected. In case of the impeachment of the governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of the office, resignation, or absence from the state, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the lieutenant-governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. But when the governor shall, with the consent of the legislature, be out of the state, in time of war, at the head of a military force thereof, he shall continue commander-in-chief of all the military force of the state.] In case of the removal of the governor from office or of his death or resignation, the lieutenant-governor shall become governor for the remainder of the term.

In case the governor-elect shall decline to serve or shall die, the lieutenant-governor-elect shall become governor for the full term.

In case the governor is impeached, is absent from the state or is otherwise unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the lieutenant-governor shall act as governor until the inability shall cease or until the term of the governor shall expire.

In case of the failure of the governor-elect to take the oath of office at the commencement of his term, the lieutenant-governor-elect shall act as governor until the governor shall take the oath.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section six of such article of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 6. [The lieutenant-governor shall possess the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the governor. He shall be president of the senate, but shall have only a casting vote therein. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of not more than twenty thousand dollars, to be fixed by joint resolution of the senate and assembly.

If the office of governor become vacant and there be no lieutenant-governor, the offices of governor and lieutenant-governor shall be filled for the remainder of the terms at the next general election happening not less than three months after the vacancy in the office of governor occurs. No election of a lieutenant-governor shall be had in any event except at the time of electing a governor. Until the vacancies in the offices of the governor and lieutenant-governor be filled by election, the temporary president of the senate then in office or his successor as such temporary president shall perform all the duties of lieutenant-governor and shall act as governor.

If the office of lieutenant-governor alone be vacant, or in case the lieutenant-governor be under impeachment, unable to discharge the powers and duties of the office of governor or shall be absent from the state, the temporary president of the senate then in office or his successor as such temporary president shall perform all the duties of lieutenant-governor, including the duty of acting as governor when necessary, during such vacancy, inability, absence or the pendency of such impeachment.

If, when the duty of acting as governor devolves upon the temporary president of the senate, he be unable to discharge the powers and duties of such office or be absent from the state, the speaker of the assembly shall act as governor during such inability or absence.] The lieutenant-governor shall posses the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the governor. He shall be the president of the senate but shall have only a casting vote therein. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary to be fixed by joint resolution of the senate and assembly.

In case of vacancy in the offices of both governor and lieutenant-governor, a governor and lieutenant-governor shall be elected for the remainder of the term at the next general election happening not less than three months after both offices shall have become vacant. No election of a lieutenant-governor shall be had in any event except at the time of electing a governor.

In case of vacancy in the offices of both governor and lieutenant-governor or if both of them shall be impeached, absent from the state or otherwise unable to discharge the powers and duties of the office of governor, the temporary president of the senate shall act as governor until the inability shall cease or until a governor shall be elected.

In case of vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor alone, or if the lieutenant-governor shall be impeached, absent from the state or otherwise unable to discharge the duties of his office, the temporary president of the senate shall perform all the duties of lieutenant-governor during such vacancy or inability.

If, when the duty of acting as governor devolves upon the temporary president of the senate, there be a vacancy in such office or the temporary president of the senate shall be absent from the state or otherwise unable to discharge the duties of governor, the speaker of the assembly shall act as governor during such vacancy or inability.

The legislature may provide for the devolution of the duty of acting as governor in any case not provided for in this article.

§ 4. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section nine of article three of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 9. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business. Each house shall determine the rules of its own proceedings, and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members; shall choose its own officers; and the senate shall choose a temporary president [to preside in case of the absence or impeachment of the lieutenant-governor, or when he shall refuse to act as president, or shall act as governor] and the assembly shall choose a speaker.

§ 5. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section twelve of article thirteen of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 12. [No officer whose salary is fixed by this constitution shall receive any additional compensation.] Each of the [other] state officers named in this constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

§ 6. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding regular election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER FIVE
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to section one of article eight of the constitution, in relation to increase of pension benefits payable to retired members of a village police or fire department or to widows of members or retired members of a village police or fire department.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate cnocur), That section one of article eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. No county, city, town, village or school district shall give or loan any money or property to or in aid of any individual, or private corporation or association, or private undertaking, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in, or bonds of, any private corporation or association; nor shall any county, city, town, village or school district give or loan its credit to or in aid of any individual, or public or private corporation or association, or private undertaking, except that two or more such units may join together pursuant to law in providing any municipal facility, service, activity or undertaking which each of such units has the power to provide separately. Each such unit may be authorized by the legislature to contract joint or several indebtedness, pledge its or their faith and credit for the payment of such indebtedness for such joint undertaking and levy real estate or other authorized taxes or impose charges therefor subject to the provisions of this constitution otherwise restricting the power of such units to contract indebtedness or to levy taxes on real estate. The legislature shall have power to provide by law for the manner and the proportion in which indebtedness arising out of such joint undertaking shall be incurred by such units and shall have power to provide a method by which such indebtedness shall be determined, allocated and apportioned among such units and such indebtedness treated for purposes of exclusion from applicable constitutional limitations, provided that in no event shall more than the total amount of indebtedness incurred for such joint undertaking be included in ascertaining the power of all such participating units to incur indebtedness. Such law may provide that such determination, allocation and apportionment shall be conclusive if made or approved by the comptroller. This provision shall not prevent a county from contracting indebtedness for the purpose of advancing to a town or school district, pursuant to law, the amount of unpaid taxes returned to it.

Subject to the limitations on indebtedness and taxation applying to any county, city [or], town[,] or village nothing in this constitution contained shall prevent a county, city or town from making such provision for the aid, care and support of the needy as may be authorized by law, nor prevent any such county, city or town from providing for the care, support, maintenance and secular education of inmates of orphan asylums, homes for dependent children or correctional institutions and of children placed in family homes by authorized agencies, whether under public or private control, or from providing health and welfare services for all children, nor shall anything in this constitution contained prevent a county, city, town or village from increasing the pension benefits payable to retired members of a police department or fire department or to widows, dependent children or dependent parents of members or retired members of a police department or fire department. Payments by counties, cities or towns to charitable, eleemosynary, correctional and reformatory institutions and agencies, wholly or partly under private control, for care, support and maintenance, may be authorized, but shall not be required, by the legislature. No such payment shall be made for any person cared for by any such institution or agency, nor for a child placed in a family home, who is not received and retained therein pursuant to rules established by the state board of social welfare or other state department having the power of inspection thereof.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER SIX
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing the repeal of subsection (b) of section seven of article one of the constitution, in relation to ascertainment of compensation when private property is taken for public use; amendments to sections six, seventeen and nineteen of article three of the constitution, in relation to the salaries of members of the legislature, street railroads and claims against the state, respectively; and amendments to section six of article five of the constitution, in relation to civil service

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That subsection (b) of section seven of article one of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section six of article three of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services a like annual salary, to be fixed by law. He shall also be reimbursed for his actual traveling expenses in going to and returning from the place in which the legislature meets, not more than once each week while the legislature is in session. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exeeceding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional per diem allowance, to be fixed by law. Any member, while serving as an officer of his house or in any other special capacity therein or directly connected therewith not hereinbefore in this section specified, may also be paid and receive, in addition, any allowance which may be fixed by law for the particular and additional services appertaining to or entailed by such office or special capacity. Neither the salary of any member nor any other allowance so fixed may be increased or diminished during, and with respect to, the term for which he shall have been elected, [except once by law enacted prior to April first, nineteen hundred forty-eight, and relating only to service after its enactment;] nor shall he be paid or receive any other extra compensation. The provisions of this section and laws enacted in compliance therewith shall govern and be exclusively controlling, according to their terms. Members shall continue to receive [the same] such salary and additional allowance as heretofore fixed and provided in this section, until changed by law pursuant to this section.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section seventeen of article three of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 17. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changes of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or empaneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the rate of interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentages or allowances of public officers, during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Granting to any person, association, firm or corporation, an exemption from taxation on real or personal property.

Providing for the building of bridges, except over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state, by other than a municipal or other public corporation or a public agency of the state.

[The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment, may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities, having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad, be first obtained, or in case the consent of such property owners cannot be obtained, the appellate division of the supereme court, in the department in which it is proposed to be constructed, may, upon application, appoint three commissioners who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.]

§ 4. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section nineteen of article three of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

No claim against the state shall be audited, allowed or paid which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. [This provision shall not be constructed to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment.] But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

§ 5. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section six of article five of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 6. Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the state and all of the civil divisions thereof, including cities and villages, shall be made according to merit and fitness to be ascertained, as far as practicable, by examination which, as far as practicable, shall be competitive; provided, however, that [until January first, nineteen hundred fifty-one,] any member of the armed forces of the United States who served therein in time of war, who is a citizen and resident of this state and was a resident at the time of his [or her] entrance into the armed forces of the United States and was honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from such service, shall be entitled to [the preferences granted by the provisions of former section six of this article, which shall continue in effect until such date, notwithstanding its repeal by the concurrent resolution of the senate and assembly adding this section, and provided, further, that on and after such date, any such member shall, in lieu of such preferences, be entitled to] receive five points additional credit in a competitive examination for original appointment and two and one-half points additional credit in an examination for promotion or, if such member was disabled in the actual performance of duty in any war, is receiving disability payments therefor from the United States veterans administration, and his [or her] disability is certified by such administration to be in existence at the time of his [or her] application for appointment or promotion, he [or she] shall be entitled to receive ten points additional credit in a competitive examination for original appointment and five points additional credit in an examination for promotion. Such additional credit shall be added to the final earned rating of such member after he [or she] has qualified in an examination and shall be granted only at the time of establishment of an eligible list[, except that eligible lists in existence on January first, nineteen hundred fifty-one shall be revised by adding the applicable credits provided herein for such members of the armed forces]. No such member shall receive the additional credit granted by this section after he has received one appointment, either original entrance or promotion, from an eligible list on which he was allowed the additional credit granted by this section. [The legislature may provide by law for preference in retention of such members in case of the abolition or elimination of positions in the civil service. Laws shall be enacted to provide for the enforcement of this section.]

§ 6. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER SEVEN
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to article three of the constitution, in relation to granting power to the legislature to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency resulting from disaster caused by enemy attack

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article three of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section, to be section twenty-five, to read as follows:

§ 25. Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, the legislature, in order to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency caused by enemy attack or by disasters (natural or otherwise), shall have the power and the immediate duty (1) to provide for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of public offices, of whatever nature and whether filled by election or appointment, the incumbents of which may become unavailable for carrying on the powers and duties of such offices, and (2) to adopt such other measures as may be necessary and proper for insuring the continuity of governmental operations.

Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit in any way the power of the state to deal with emergencies arising from any cause.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER EIGHT
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing a new article nine of the constitution, in relation to a bill of rights and home rule powers for local governments and repeal, renumbering and amendment of provisions of the constitution presently in force to conform thereto

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That article nine of the constitution as presently in force, except sections five, six and eight thereof, is hereby repealed and replaced by a new article nine of the constitution, to read as follows:

ARTICLE IX
LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Bill of rights for local governments.

Section 1. Effective local self-government and intergovernmental cooperation are purposes of the people of the state. In furtherance thereof, local governments shall have the following rights, powers, privileges and immunities in addition to those granted by other provisions of this constitution:

(a) Every local government, except a county wholly included within a city, shall have a legislative body elective by the people thereof. Every local government shall have power to adopt local laws as provided by this article.

(b) All officers of every local government whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution shall be elected by the people of the local government, or of some division thereof, or appointed by such officers of the local government as may be provided by law.

(c) Local governments shall have power to agree, as authorized by act of the legislature, with the federal government, a state or one or more other governments within or without the state, to provide cooperatively, jointly or by contract any facility, service, activity ..or ..undertaking which each participating local government has the power to provide separately. Each such local government shall have power to apportion its share of the cost thereof upon such portion of its area as may be authorized by act of the legislature.

(d) No local government or any part of the territory thereof shall be annexed to another until the people, if any, of the territory proposed to be annexed shall have consented thereto by majority vote on a referendum and until the governing board of each local government, the area of which is affected, shall have consented thereto upon the basis of a determination that the annexation is in the over-all public interest. The consent of the governing board of a county shall be required only where a boundary of the county is affected. On or before July first, nineteen hundred sixty-four, the legislature shall provide, where such consent of a governing board is not granted, for adjudication and determination, on the law and the facts, in a proceeding initiated in the supreme court, of the issue of whether the annexation is in the over-all public interest.

(e) Local governments shall have power to take by eminent domain private property within their boundaries for public use together with excess land or property but no more than is sufficient to provide for appropriate disposition or use of land or property which abuts on that necessary for such public use, and to sell or lease that not devoted to such use. The legislature may authorize and regulate the exercise of the power of eminent domain and excess condemnation by a local government outside its boundaries.

(f) No local government shall be prohibited by the legislature (1) from making a fair return on the value of the property used and useful in its operation of a gas, electric or water public utility service, over and above costs of operation and maintenance and necessary and proper reserves, in addition to an amount equivalent to taxes which such service, if privately owned, would pay to such local government, or (2) from using such profits for payments of refunds to consumers or for any other lawful purpose.

(g) A local government shall have power to apportion its cost of a governmental service or function upon any portion of its area, as authorized by act of the legislature.

(h) (1) Counties, other than those wholly included within city, shall be empowered by general law, or by special law enacted upon county request pursuant to section two of this article, to adopt, amend or repeal alternative forms of county government provided by the legislature or to prepare, adopt, amend or repeal alternative forms of their own. Any such form of government or any amendment thereof, by act of the legislature or by local law, may transfer one or more functions or duties of the county or of the cities, towns, villages, districts or other units of government wholly contained in such county to each other or when authorized by the legislature to the state, or may abolish one or more offices, departments, agencies or units of government provided, however, that no such form or amendment, except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision, shall become effective unless approved on a referendum by a majority of the votes cast thereon in the area of the county outside of cities, and in the cities of the county, if any, considered as one unit. Where an alternative form of county government or any amendment thereof, by act of the legislature or by local law, provides for the transfer of any function or duty to or from any village or the abolition of any office, department, agency or unit of government of a village wholly contained in such county, such formor amendment shall not become effective unless it shall also be approved on the referendum by a majority of the votes cast thereon in all the villages so affected considered as one unit.

(2) After the adoption of an alternative form of county government by a county, any amendment thereof by act of the legislature or by local law which abolishes or creates an elective county office, changes the voting or veto power of or the method of removing an elective county officer during his term of office, abolishes, curtails or transfers to another county officer or agency any power of an elective county officer or changes the form or composition of the county legislative body shall be subject to a permissive referendum as provided by the legislature.

Powers and duties of legislature; home rule powers of local governments; statute of local governments.

§ 2. (a) The legislature shall provide for the creation and organization of local governments in such manner as shall secure to them the rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted to them by this constitution.

(b) Subject to the bill of rights of local governments and other applicable provisions of this constitution, the legislature:

(1) shall enact, and may from time to time amend, a statute of local governments granting to local government powers including but not limited to those of local legislation and administration in addtion to the powers vested in them by this article. A power granted in such statute may be repealed, diminished, impaired or suspended only by enactment of a statute by the legislature with the approval of the governor at its regular session in one calendar year and the re-enactment and approval of such statute in the following calendar year.

(2) Shall have the power to act in relation to the property, affairs or government of any local government only by general law, or by special law only (a) on request of two-thirds of the total membership of its legislative body or on request of its chief executive officer concurred in by a majority of such membership, or (b), except in the case of the city of New York, on certificate of necessity from the governor reciting facts which in his judgment constitute an emergency requiring enactment of such law and, in such latter case, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the legislature.

(3) Shall have the power to confer on local governments powers not relating to their property, affairs or government including but not limited to those of local legislation and administration, in addition to those otherwise granted by or pursuant to this article, and to withdraw or restrict such additional powers.

(c) In addition to powers granted in the statute of local governments or in any other law, (i) every local government shall have power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution or any general law relating to its property, affairs or government and, (ii) every local government shall have power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the provision of this constitution or any general law relating to the following subjects, whether or not they relate to the property, affairs or government of such local government, except to the extent that the legislature shall restrict the adoption of such a local law relating to other than the property, affairs or government of such local government:

(1) The powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office, compensation, hours of work, protection, welfare and safety of its officers and employees, except that cities and towns shall not have such power with respect to members of the legislative body of the county in their capacities as county officers.

(2) In the case of a city, town or village, the membership and composition of its legislative body.

(3) The transaction of its business.

(4) The incurring of its obligations, except that local laws relating to financing by the issuance of evidences of indebtedness by such local government shall be consistent with laws enacted by the legislature.

(5) The presentation, ascertainment and discharge of claims against it.

(6) The acquisition, care, management and use of its highways, roads, streets, avenues and property.

(7) The acquisition of its transit facilities and the ownership and operation thereof.

(8) The levy, collection and administration of local taxes authorized by the legislature and of assessments for local improvements, consistent with laws enacted by the legislature.

(9) The wages or salaries, the hours of work or labor, and the protection, welfare and safety of persons employed by any contractor or sub-contractor performing work, labor or services for it.

(10) The government, protection, order, conduct, safety, health and well-being of persons or property therein.

(d) Except in the case of a transfer of functions under an alternative form of county government, a local government shall not have power to adopt local laws which impair the powers of any other local government.

(e) The rights and powers of local governments specified in this section insofar as applicable to any county within the city of New York shall be vested in such city.

Existing laws to remain applicable; construction; definitions.

§ 3. (a) Except as expressly provided, nothing in this article shall restrict or impair any power of the legislature in relation to:

(1) The maintenance, support or administration of the public school system, as required or provided by article XI of this constitution, or any retirement system pertaining to such public school system.

(2) The courts as required or provided by article VI of this constitution, and

(3) Matters other than the property, affairs or government of a local government.

(b) The provisions of this article shall not affect any existing valid provisions of acts of the legislature or of local legislation and such provisions shall continue in force until repealed, amended, modified or superseded in accordance with the provisions of this constitution.

(c) Rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted to local governments by this article shall be liberally construed.

(d) Whenever used in this article the following terms shall mean or include:

(1) "General law." A law which in terms and in effect applies alike to all counties, all counties other than those wholly included within a city, all cities, all towns or all villages.

(2) "Local government." A county, city, town or village.

(3) "People." Persons entitled to vote as provided in section one of article two of this constitution.

(4) "Special law." A law which in terms and in effect applies to one or more, but not all, counties, counties other than those wholly included within a city, cities, towns or villages.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That subdivision (e) of section seven of article one of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section eighteen of article three of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 4. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section twelve of article eight of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 12. It shall be the duty of the legislature, subject to the provisions of this constitution, to restrict the power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting indebtedness, and loaning the credit of counties, cities, towns and villages, so as to prevent abuses in taxation and assessments and in contracting of indebtedness by them. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the legislature from further restricting the powers herein specified of any county, city, town, vilage or school district to contract indebtedness or to levy taxes on real estate. The legislature shall not, however, restrict the power to levy taxes on real estate for the payment of interest on or principal of indebtedness theretofore contracted.

§ 5. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That sections five, six and eight of article nine of the constitution are hereby renumbered to be subdivisions (a), (b) and (c), respectively, of a new section thirteen which is hereby added to article thirteen of the constitution and amended to read as follows:

Law enforcement and other officers.

§ [5]13. (a) Except in counties in the city of New York and except as authorized in section [two] one of [this] article nine of this constitution, sheriffs, clerks of counties, district attorneys, and registers in counties having registers, shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties once in every three years and whenever the occurring of vacancies shall require. Sheriffs shall hold no other office. They may be required by law to renew their security, from time to time; and in default of giving such new security, their offices shall be deemed vacant. But the county shall never be made responsible for the acts of the sheriff. The governor may remove any elective sheriff, county clerk, district attorney or register within the term for which he shall have been elected; but before so doing he shall give to such officer a copy of the charges against him and an opportunity of being heard in his defense. In each county in the city of New York a district attorney shall be chosen by the electors once in every two or four years as the legislature shall direct. The clerk of each county in the city of New York shall be appointed, and be subject to removal, by the appellate division of the supreme court in the judicial department in which the county is located. In addition to his powers and duties as clerk of the supreme court, he shall have power to select, draw, summon and empanel grand and petit jurors in the manner and under the conditions now or hereafter prescribed by law, and shall have such other powers and duties as shall be prescribed by the city from time to time by local law.

[§ 6.] (b) Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article [XIII of this constitution] which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defense. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county, in investigating and prosecuting any charge of bribery or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law.

[§ 8.] (c) The city of New York is hereby vested with power from time to time to abolish by local law, as defined by the legislature, the office of any county officer within the city other than judges, clerks of counties and district attorneys, and to assign any or all functions of such officers to city officers, courts or clerks of counties, and to prescribe the powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office and compensation of the persons holding such offices and the employees therein, and to assign to city officers any powers or duties of clerks of counties not assigned by this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law affecting any such matters in relation to such offices within the city of New York except on message from the governor declaring that an emergency exists and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house, except that existing laws regarding each such office shall continue in force, and may be amended or repealed by the legislature as heretofore, until the power herein granted to the city has been exercised with respect to that office. The provisions of [this] article nine shall not prevent the legislature from passing general or special laws prescribing or affecting powers and duties of such city officers or such courts or clerks to whom or which functions of such county officers shall have been so assigned, in so far as such powers or duties embrace subjects not relating to property, affairs or government of such city.

§ 6. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That article thirteen of the constitution is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section, to be section thirteen, to read as follows:

§ 13. The legislature may regulate and fix the wages or salaries and the hours of work or labor, and make provisions for the protection, welfare and safety, of persons employed by the state or by any county, city, town, village or other civil division of the state, or by any contractor or subcontractor performing work, labor or services for the state or for any county, city, town, village or other civil division thereof.

§ 7. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding regular election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER NINE
CONCURRRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing a new article nine of the constitution, in relation to a bill of rights and home rule powers for local governments and repeal, renumbering and amendment of provisions of the constitution presently in force to conform thereto.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article nine of the constitution as presently in force, except sections five, six and eight thereof, is hereby repealed and replaced by a new article nine of the constitution, to read as follows:

ARTICLE IX
LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Bill of rights for local governments.

Section 1. Effective local self-government and intergovernmental cooperation are purposes of the people of the state. In furtherance thereof, local governments shall have the following rights, powers, privileges and immunities in addition to those granted by other provisions of this constitution:

(a) Every local government, except a county wholly included within a city, shall have a legislative body elective by the people thereof. Every local government shall have power to adopt local laws as provided by this article.

(b) All officers of every local government whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution shall be elected by the people of the local government, or of some division thereof, or appointed by such officers of the local government as may be provided by law.

(c) Local governments shall have power to agree, as authorized by act of the legislature, with the federal government, a state or one or more other governments within or without the state, to provide cooperatively, jointly or by contract any facility, service, activity or undertaking which each participating local government has the power to provide separately. Each such local government shall have power to apportion its share of the cost thereof upon such portion of its area as may be authorized by act of the legislature.

(d) No provision of this article shall impair the authority of the legislature to create cities or annex territory to cities by special act or to provide for the annexation of territory to cities or villages by general act nor shall any action to obtain any consent from a local government be necessary as a prerequisite to such action by the legislature, provided, however, that in no event shall any part of the territory of any local government be annexed to another until the people, if any, residing within the territory proposed to be annexed shall have consented thereto by a majority vote on a referendum.

(e) Local government shall have power to take by eminent domain private property within their boundaries for public use together with excess land or property but no more than is sufficient to provide for appropriate disposition or use of land or property which abuts on that necessary for such public use, and to sell or lease that not devoted to such use. The legislature may authorize and regulate the exercise of the power of eminent domain and excess condemnation by a local government outside its boundaries.

(f) No local government shall be prohibited by the legislature (1) from making a fair return on the value of the property used and useful in its operation of a gas, electric or water public utility service, over and above costs of operation and maintenance and necessary and proper reserves, in addition to an amount equivalent to taxes which such service, if privately owned, would pay to such local government, or (2) from using such profits for payment of refunds to consumers or for any other lawful purpose.

(g) A local government shall have power to apportion its cost of a governmental service or function upon any portion of its area, as authorized by act of the legislature.

(h) (1) Counties, other than those wholly included within a city, shall be empowered by general law, or by special law enacted upon county request pursuant to section two of this article, to adopt, amend or repeal alternative forms of county government provided by the legislature or to prepare, adopt, amend or repeal alternative forms of their own. Any such form of government or any amendment thereof, by act of the legislature or by local law, may transfer one or more functions or duties of the county or of the cities, towns, villages, districts or other units of government wholly contained in such county to each other or when authorized by the legislature to the state, or may abolish one or more offices, departments, agencies or units of government provided, however, that no such form or amendment, except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision, shall become effective unless approved on a referendum by a majority of the votes cast thereon in the area of the county outside of cities, and in the cities of the county, if any, considered as one unit. Where an alternative form of county government or any amendment therof, by act of the legislature or by local law, provides for the transfer of any function or duty to or from any village or the abolition of any office, department, agency or unit of government of a village wholly contained in such county, such form or amendement shall not become effective unless it shall also be approved on the referendum by a majority of the votes cast thereon in all the villages so affected considered as one unit.

(2) After the adoption of an alternative form of county government by a county, any amendment thereof by act of the legislature or by local law which abolishes or creates an elective county office, changes the voting or veto power of or the method of removing an elective county officer during his term of office, abolishes, curtails or transfers to another county officer or agency any power of an elective county officer or changes the form or composition of the county legislative body shall be subject to a permissive referendum as provided by the legislature.

Powers and duties of legislature; home rule powers of local governments; statute of local governments.

§ 2. (a) The legislature shall provide for the creation and organization of local governments in such manner as shall secure to them the rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted to them by this constitution.

(b) Subject to the bill of rights of local governments and other applicable provisions of this constitution, the legislature:

(1) shall enact, and may from time to time amend, a statute of local governments granting to local governments powers including but not limited to those of local legislation and administration in addition to the powers vested in them by this article. A power granted in such statute may be repealed, diminished, impaired or suspended only by enactment of a statute by the legislature with the approval of the governor at its regular session in one calendar years and the re-enactment and approval of such statute in the following calendar year.

(2) Shall have the power to act in relation to the property, affairs or government of any local government only by general law, or by special law only (a) on request of two-thirds of the total membership of its legislative body or on request of its chief executive officer concurred in by a majority of such membership, or (b), except in the case of the city of New York, on certificate of necessity from the governor reciting facts which in his judgment constitute an emergency requiring enactment of such law and, in such latter case, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the legislature.

(3) Shall have the power to confer on local governments powers not relating to their property, affairs or government including but not limited to those of local legislation and administration, in addition to those otherwise granted by or pursuant to this article, and to withdraw or restrict such additional powers.

(c) In addition to powers granted in the statute of local governments or in any other law, (i) every local government shall have power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution or any general law relating to its property, affairs or government and, (ii) every local government shall have power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution or any general law relating to the following subjects, whether or not they relate to the property, affairs or government of such local government, except to the extent that the legislature shall restrict the adoption of such a local law relating to other than the property, affairs or government of such local government:

(1) The powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office, compensation, hours of work, protection, welfare and safety of its officers and employees, except that cities and towns shall not have such power with respect to members of the legislative body of the county in their capacities as county officers.

(2) In the case of a city, town or village, the membership and composition of its legislative body.

(3) The transaction of its business.

(4) The incurring of its obligations, except that local laws relating to financing by the issuance of evidences of indebtedness by such local government shall be consistent with laws enacted by the legislature.

(5) The presentation, ascertainment and discharge of claims against it.

(6) The acquisition, care, management and use of its highways, roads, streets, avenues and property.

(7) The acquisition of its transit facilities and the ownership and operation thereof.

(8) The levy, collection and administration of local taxes authorized by the legislature and of assessments for local improvements, consistent with laws enacted by the legislature.

(9) The wages or salaries, the hours of work or labor, and the protection, welfare and safety of persons employed by any contractor or sub-contractor preforming work, labor or services for it.

(10) The government, protection, order, conduct, safety, health and well-being of persons or property therein.

(d) Except in the case of a transfer of functions under an alternative form of county government, a local government shall not have power to adopt local laws which impair the powers of any other local government.

(e) The rights and powers of local governments specified in this section insofar as applicable to any county within the city of New York shall be vested in such city.

Existing laws to remain applicable; construction; definitions.

§ 3. (a) Except as expressly provided, nothing in this article shall restrict or impair any power of the legislature in relation to:

(1) The maintenance, support or administration of the public school system, as required or provided by article XI of this constitution, or any retirement system pertaining to such public school system,

(2) The courts as required or provided by article VI of this constitution, and

(3) Matters other than the property, affairs or government of a local government.

(b) The provisions of this article shall not effect any existing valid provisions of acts of the legislature or of local legislation and such provisions shall continue in force until repealed, amended, modified or superseded in accordance with the provisions of this constitution.

(c) Rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted to local governments by this article shall be liberally construed.

(d) Whenever used in this article the folowing terms shall mean or include:

(1) "General law." A law which in terms and in effect applies alike to all counties, all counties other than those wholly included within a city, all cities, all towns or all villages.

(2) "Local goevrnment." A county, city, town or village.

(3) "People." Persons entitled to vote as provided in section one of article two of this constitution.

(4) "Special law." A law which in terms and in effect applies to one or more, but not all, counties, counties other than those wholly included within a city, cities, towns or villages.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That subdivision (e) of section seven of article one of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section eighteen of article three of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 4. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section twelve of article eight of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 12 It shall be the duty of the legislature, subject to the provisions of this constitution, to restrict the power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting indebtedness, and loaning the credit of counties, cities, towns and villages, so as to prevent abuses in taxation and assessments and in contracting of indebtedness by them. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the legislature from further restricting the powers herein specified of any county, city, town, village or school district to contract indebtedness or to levy taxes on real estate. The legislature shall not, however, restrict the power to levy taxes on real estate for the payment of interest on or principal of indebtedness theretofore contracted.

§ 5. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That sections five, six and eight of article nine of the constitution are hereby renumbered to be subdivisions (a), (b) and (c), respectively, of a new section thirteen which is hereby added to article thirteen of the constitution and amended to read as follows:

Law enforcement and other officers.

§ [5]13. (a) Except in counties in the city of New York and except as authorized in section [two] one of [this] article nine of this constitution, sheriffs, clerks of counties, district attorneys, and registers in counties having registers, shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties once in every three years and whenever the occurring of vacancies shall require. Sheriffs shall hold no other office. They may be required by law to renew their security, from time to time; and in default of giving such new security, their offices shall be deemed vacant. [§ 8.] (c) The city of New York is hereby vested with power from time to time to abolish by local law, as defined by the legislature, the office of any county officer within the city other than judges, clerks of counties and district attorneys, and to assign any or all functions of such officers to city officers, courts or clerks of counties, and to prescribe the powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office and compensation of the persons holding such offices and the employees therein, and to assign to city officers any powers or duties of clerks of counties not assigned by this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law affecting any such matters in relation to such offices within the city of New York except on message from the governor declaring that an emergency exists and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house, except that existing laws regarding each such office shall continue in force, and may be amended or repealed by the legislature as heretofore, until the power herein granted to the city has been exercized with respect to that office. The provisions of [this] article nine shall not prevent the legislature from passing general or special laws prescribing or affecting powers and duties of such city officers or such courts or clerks to whom or which functions of such county officers shall have been so assigned, in so far as such powers or duties embrace subjects not relating to property, affairs or government of such city.

§ 6. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article thirteen of the constitution is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section, to be section thirteen, to read as follows:

§ 13. The legislature may regulate and fix the wages or salaries and the hours of work or labor, and make provisions for the protection, welfare and safety, of persons employed by the state or by any county, city, town, village or other civil divisions of the state, or by any contractor or subcontractor performing work, labor or services for the state or for any county, city, town, village or other civil division thereof.

§ 7. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding regular election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER TEN
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing a new article nine of the constitution, in relation to a bill of rights and home rule powers for local governments and repeal, re-numbering and amendment of provisions of the constitution presently in force to conform thereto

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article nine of the constitution as presently in force, except sections five, six and eight thereof, is hereby repealed and replaced by a new article nine of the constitution, to read as follows:

ARTICLE IX
LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Bill of rights for local governments.

Section 1. Effective local self-government and intergovernmental cooperation are purposes of the people of the state. In furtherance thereof, local governments shall have the following rights, powers, privileges and immunities in addition to those granted by other provisions of this constitution:

(a) Every local government, except a county wholly included within a city, shall have a legislative body elective by the people thereof. Every local government shall have power to adopt local laws as provided by this article.

(b) All officers of every local government whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution shall be elected by the people of the local government, or of some division thereof, or appointed by such officers of the local government as may be provided by law.

(c) Local governments shall have power to agree, as authorized by act of the legislature, with the federal government, a state or one or more other governments within or without the state, to provide cooperatively, jointly or by contract any facility, service, activity or undertaking which each participating local government has the power to provide separately. Each such local government shall have power to apportion its share of the cost thereof upon such portion of its area as may be authorized by act of the legislature.

(d) No provision of this article shall impair the authority of the legislature to create cities or annex territory to cities by special act or to provide for the annexation of territory to cities or villages by general act nor shall any action to obtain any consent from a local government be necessary as a prerequisite to such action by the legislature, provided, however, that in no event shall any part of the territory of any local government be annexed to a city until the people, if any, residing within the territory proposed to be annexed shall have consented thereto by a majority vote on a referendum.

(e) Local governments shall have power to take by eminent domain private property within their boundaries for public use together with excess land or property but no more than is sufficient to provide for appropriate disposition or use of land or property which abuts on that necessary for such public use, and to sell or lease that not devoted to such use. The legislature may authorize and regulate the exercise of the power of eminent domain and excess condemnation by a local government outside its boundaries.

(f) No local government shall be prohibited by the legislature (1) from making a fair return on the value of the property used and useful in its operation of a gas, electric or water public utility service, over and above costs of operation and maintenance and necessary and proper reserves, in addition to an amount equivalent to taxes which such service, if privately owned, would pay to such local government, or (2) from using such profits for payment of refunds to consumers or for any other lawful purpose.

(g) A local government shall have power to apportion its cost of a governmental service or function upon any portion of its area, as authorized by act of the legislature.

(h) (1) Counties, other than those wholly included within a city, shall be empowered by general law, or by special law enacted upon county request pursuant to section two of this article, to adopt, amend or repeal alternative forms of county government provided by the legislature or to prepare, adopt, amend or repeal alternative forms of their own. Any such form of government or any amendment thereof, by act of the legislature or by local law, may transfer one or more functions or duties of the county or of the cities, towns, villages, districts or other units of government wholly contained in such county to each other or when authorized by the legislature to the state, or may abolish one or more offices, departments, agencies or units of government provided, however, that no such form or amendment, except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision, shall become effective unless approved on a referendum by a majority of the votes cast thereon in the area of the county outside of cities, and in the cities of the county, if any, considered as one unit. Where an alternative form of county government or any amendment thereof, by act of the legislature or by local law, provides for the transfer of any function or duty to or from any village or the abolition of any office, department, agency or unit of government of a village wholly contained in such county, such form or amendment shall not become effective unless it shall also be approved on the referendum by a majority of the votes cast thereon in all the villages so affected considered as one unit.

(2) After the adoption of an alternative form of county government by a county, any amendment thereof by act of the legislature or by local law which abolishes or creates an elective county office, changes the voting or veto power of or the method of removing an elective county officer during his term of office, abolishes, curtails or transfers to another county officer or agency any power of an elective county officer or changes the form or composition of the county legislative body shall be subject to a permissive referendum as provided by the legislature.

Powers and duties of legislature; home rule powers of local governments; statute of local governments.

§ 2. (a) The legislature shall provide for the creation and organization of local governments in such manner as shall secure to them the rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted to them by this constitution.

(b) Subject to the bill of rights of local governments and other applicable provisions of this constitution, the legislature:

(1) Shall enact, and may from time to time amend, a statute of local governments granting to local governments powers including but not limited to those of local legislation and administration in addition to the powers vested in them by this article. A power granted in such statute may be repealed, diminished, impaired or suspended only by enactment of a statute by the legislature with the approval of the governor at its regular session in one calendar year and the re-enactment and approval of such statute in the following calendar year.

(2) Shall have the power to act in relation to the property, affairs or government of any local government only by general law, or by special law only (a) on request of two-thirds of the total membership of its legislative body or on request of its chief executive officer concurred in by a majority of such membership or (b), except in the case of the city of New York, on certificate of necessity from the governor reciting facts which in his judgment constitute an emergency requiring enactment of such law and, in such latter case, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the legislature.

(3) Shall have the power to confer on local governments powers not relating to their property, affairs or government including but not limited to those of local legislation and administration, in addition to those otherwise granted by or pursuant to this article, and to withdraw or restrict such additional powers.

(c) In addition to powers granted in the statute of local governments or in any other law, (i) every local government shall have power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution or any general law relating to its property, affairs or government and, (ii) every local government shall have power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution or any general law relating to the following subjects, whether or not they relate to the property, affairs or government of such local government, except to the extent that the legislature shall restrict the adoption of such a local law relating to other than the property, affairs or government of such local government:

(1) The powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office, compensation, hours of work, protection, welfare and safety of its officers and employees, except that cities and towns shall not have such power with respect to members of the legislative body of the county in their capacities as county officers.

(2) In the case of a city, town or village, the membership and composition of its legislative body.

(3) The transaction of its business.

(4) The incurring of its obligations, except that local laws relating to financing by the issuances of evidences of indebtedness by such local government shall be consistent with laws enacted by the legislature.

(5) The presentation, ascertainment and discharge of claims against it.

(6) The acquisition, care, management and use of its highways, roads, streets, avenues and property.

(7) The acquisition of its transit facilities and the ownership and operation thereof.

(8) The levy, collection and administration of local taxes authorized by the legislature and of assessments for local improvements, consistent with laws enacted by the legislature.

(9) The wages or salaries, the hours of work or labor, and the protection, welfare and safety of persons employed by any contractor or sub-contractor performing work, labor or services for it.

(10) The government, protection, order, conduct, safety, health and well-being of persons or property therein.

(d) Except in the case of a transfer of functions under an alternative form of county government, a local government shall not have power to adopt local laws which impair the powers of any other local government.

(e) The rights and powers of local governments specified in this section insofar as applicable to any county within the city of New York shall be vested in such city.

Existing laws to remain applicable; construction; definitions.

§ 3. (a) Except as expressly provided, nothing in this article shall restrict or impair any power of the legislature in relation to:

(1) The maintenance, support or administration of the public school system, as required or provided by article XI of this constitution, or any retirement system pertaining to such public school system.

(2) The courts as required or provided by article VI of this constitution, and

(3) Matters other than the property, affairs or government of a local government.

(b) The provisions of this article shall not affect any existing valid provisions of acts of the legislature or of local legislation and such provisions shall continue in force until repealed, amended, modified or superseded in accordance with the provisions of this constitution.

(c) Rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted to local governments by this article shall be liberally construed.

(d) Whenever used in this article the following terms mean or include:

(1) "General law." A law which in terms and in effect applies alike to all counties, all counties other than those wholly included within a city, all cities, all towns or all villages.

(2) "Local government." A county, city, town or village.

(3) "People." Persons entitled to vote as provided in section one of article two of this constitution.

(4) "Special law." A law which in terms and in effect applies to one or more, but not all, counties, counties other than those wholly included within a city, cities, towns or villages.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That subdivision (e) of section seven of article one of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section eighteen of article three of the constitution is hereby repealed.

§ 4. Resolved (if the Senate concur, That section twelve of article eight of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 12. It shall be the duty of the legislature, subject to the provisions of this constitution, to restrict the power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting indebtedness, and loaning the credit of counties, cities, towns and villages, so as to prevent abuses in taxation and assessments and in contracting of indebtedness by them. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the legislature from further restricting the powers herein specified of any county, city, town, village or school district to contract indebtedness or to levy taxes on real estate. The legislature shall not, however, restrict the power to levy taxes on real estate for the payment of interest on or principal of indebtedness theretofore contracted.

§ 5. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That sections five, six and eight of article nine of the constitution are hereby renumbered to be subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) respectively, of a new section thirteeen which is hereby added to article thirteen of the constitution and amended to read as follows:

Law enforcement and other officers.

§ [5]13. (a) Except in counties in the city of New York and except as authorized in section [two] one of [this] article nine of this constitution, sheriffs, clerks of counties, district attorneys, and registers in counties having registers, shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties once in every three years and whenever the occurring of vacancies shall require. Sheriffs shall hold no other office. They may be required by law to renew their security, from time to time; and in default of giving such new security, their offices shall be deemed vacant. But the county shall never be made responsible for the acts of the sheriff. The governor may remove any elective sheriff, county clerk, district attorney or register within the term for which he shall have been elected; but before so doing he shall give to such officer a copy of the charges against him and an opportunity of being heard in his defense. In each county in the city of New York a district attorney shall be chosen by the electors once in every two or four years as the legislature shall direct. The clerk of each county in the city of New York shall be appointed, and be subject to removal, by the appellate division of the supreme court in the judicial department in which the county is located. In addition to his powers and duties as clerk of the supreme court, he shall have power to select, draw, summon and empanel grand and petit jurors in the manner and under the conditions now or hereafter prescribed by law, and shall have such other powers and duties as shall be prescribed by the city from time to time by local law.

[§ 6.] (b) Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provisions of this article [XIII of this constitution] which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defense. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county, in investigating and prosecuting any charge of bribery or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law.

[§ 8.] (c) The city of New York is hereby vested with power from time to time to abolish by local law, as defined by the legislature, the office of any county officer within the city other than judges, clerks of counties and district attorneys, and to assign any or all functions of such officers to city officers, courts or clerks of counties, and to prescribe the powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office and compensation of the persons holding such offices and the employes therein, and to assign to city officers any powers or duties of clerks of counties not assigned by this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law affecting any such matters in relation to such offices within the city of New York except on message from the governor declaring that an emergency exists and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house, except that existing laws regarding each such office shall continue in force, and may be amended or repealed by the legislature as heretofore, until the power herein granted to the city has been exercised with respect to that office. The provisions of [this] article nine shall not prevent the legislature from passing general or special laws prescribing or affecting powers and duties of such city officers or such courts or clerks to whom or which functions of such county officers shall have been so assigned, in so far as such powers or duties embrace subjects not relating to property, affairs or government of such city.

§ 6. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article thirteen of the constitution is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section, to be section thirteen, to read as follows:

§ 13. The legislature may regulate and fix the wages or salaries and the hours of work or labor, and make provisions for the protection, welfare and safety, of persons employed by the state or by any county, city, town, village or other civil division of the state, or by any contractor or subcontractor performing work, labor or services for the state or for any county, city, town, village or other civil division thereof.

§ 7. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding regular election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineten of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER ELEVEN
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to article nine of the constitution in relation to home rule.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article nine of the constitution be hereby amended by adding thereto a new section, to follow section sixteen, to be section seventeen, to read as follows:

§ 17. The legislature on or before July first, nineteen hundred sixty-four shall confer by general law upon all towns having a population of five thousand or more, as determined by the federal census, power to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state relating to the property, affairs or government of such towns but subject to such limitations as the legislature may, by general law, from time to time impose. Thereafter, the legislature shall act in relation to the property, affairs or government of such towns only by general law which shall in terms and in effect apply alike to all such towns except upon the request of the supervisor or other elective chief executive officer of the town affected, concurred in by the local legislative body, or upon a message from the governor, in either case declaring that a necessity exists and reciting the facts establishing such necessity, and the concurrent action of a majority of the members of each house of the legislature. The legislature by general law may confer on such towns such additional powers of local legislation and administration as it may, from time to time, deem expedient and may withdraw such powers. The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to restrict the power of the legislature to enact laws relating to matters other than the property, affairs or government of such towns.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section thirteen of article nine of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 13. A. The provisions of this article shall not affect any existing provisions of law not inconsistent with this article; but all existing charters and other laws, so far as not inconsistent with this article, shall continue in force until repealed, amended, modified or superseded in accordance with the provisions of this article.

B. Nothing in sections eleven to [sixteen] seventeen inclusive of this article shall apply to or affect or be deemed to restrict the power of the legislature in relation to (a) the maintenance, support or administration of the public school systems in any city, as required or provided by article eleven of this constitution, or any retirement system pertaining to such public school system or systems.

(b) counties outside the city of New York.

(c) counties within the city of New York, except to the extent provided by section 8 of this article, or (d) the courts as required or provided by article VI of this constitution.

C. Nothing in this article shall restrict the power of the legislature in relation to the organization of counties, cities, towns and villages as provided by sections 1 and 9 of this article.

D. Except as specifically authorized by or pursuant to this constitution, counties, cities, towns or villages, in the exercise of their powers to adopt local legislation, shall not impair any of the powers, duties, functions or responsibilities of any county, city, town or village other than the one adopting such local legislation.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER TWELVE
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to section five or article eight of the constitution in relation to indebtedness contracted for sewer purposes

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section five of article eight of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new paragraph, to be paragraph E, to read as follows:

E. Indebtedness contracted on or after January first, nineteen hundred sixty-two and prior to January first, nineteen hundred seventy-three, for the construction or reconstruction of facilities for the conveyance, treatment and disposal of sewage. The legislature shall prescribe the method by which and the terms and conditions under which the amount of any such indebtedness to be excluded shall be determined, and no such indebtednes shall be excluded except in accordance with such determination.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding regular election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER THIRTEEN
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to section one of article eight of the constitution, in relation to the power of municipalities to aid in the expansion of job opportunities and to assist in industrial rehabilitation and expansion in the interest of the people and municipalities of the state

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section one of article eight of the constitution be amended by adding thereto, a third paragraph to read as follows:

Subject to the limitations on indebtedness and taxation applying to any city, town or village, nothing in this constitution contained shall prevent the legislature from authorizing any such municipality to prescribe the manner, means, terms and conditions pursuant to which grants, loans or leases of its property may be made by such a municipality to or in aid of any individual, or private corporation or association, or private undertaking which contracts with such municipality to utilize such property for construction, improvement or expansion thereon of an industrial or manufacturing plant or plants and for maintenance and operation thereof so as to encourage the expansion of job opportunities and to assist industrial rehabilitation and expansion for the promotion of the welfare of the people and municipalities of the state. In order to effectuate such purposes, the legislature, in addition to its powers contained in any other provision of this constitution, may authorize commercial or industrial property, as determined by law, to be acquired by purchase and to be cleared.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER FOURTEEN
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to subparagraph (b) of section ten of article eight of the constitution, in relation to increasing the limitation on the amount which may be raised by real estate taxes by the city of Yonkers for city purposes.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That sub-paragraph (b) of section ten of article eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

(b) any city of one hundred twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants according to the latest federal census, for city purposes, two per centum; provided, however, that the limitation for the city of Yonkers, for city purposes, shall be two and one-half per centum;

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the next regular legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly, and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
NUMBER FIFTEEN
CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

Proposing an amendment to article fourteen of the constitution to permit the sale of ten acres of forest preserve land to the village of Saranac Lake

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section one of article fourteen of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. The lands of the state, now owned or hereafter acquired, constituting the forest preserve as now fixed by law, shall be forever kept as wild forest lands. They shall not be leased, sold or exchanged, or be taken by any corporation, public or private, nor shall the timber thereon be sold, removed or destroyed. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the state from constructing, completing and maintaining any highway heretofore specifically authorized by constitutional amendment, nor from constructing and maintaining to federal standards federal aid interstate highway route five hundred two from a point in the vicinity of the city of Glens Falls, thence northerly to the vicinity of the villages of Lake George and Warrensburg, the hamlets of South Horicon and Pottersville and thence northerly in a generally straight line on the west side of Schroon Lake to the vicinity of the hamlet of Schroon, then continuing northerly to the vicinity of Schroon Falls, Schroon River and North Hudson, and to the east of Makomis Mountain, east of the hamlet of New Russia, east of the village of Elizabethtown and continuing northerly in the vicinity of the hamlet of Towers Forge, and east of Poke-O-Moonshine Mountain and continuing northerly to the vicinity of the village of Keesville and the city of Plattsburg, all of the aforesaid taking not to exceed a total of three hundred acres of state forest preserve land, nor from constructing and maintaining not more than twenty miles of ski trails thirty to eighty feet wide on the north, east and northwest slopes of Whiteface Mountain in Essex county, nor from constructing and maintaining not more than twenty miles of ski trails thirty to eighty feet wide, together with appurtenances thereto, on the slopes of Belleayre Mountain in Ulster and Delaware counties and not more than thirty miles of ski trails thirty to eighty feet wide, together with appurtenances thereto, on the slopes of Gore, South and Pete Gay mountains in Warren county, nor from relocating, reconstructing and maintaining a total of not more than fifty miles of existing state highways for the purpose of eliminating the hazards of dangerous curves and grades, provided a total of no more than four hundred acres of forest preserve land shall be used for such purpose and that no single relocated portion of any highway shall exceed one mile in length. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, the state may convey to the village of Saranac Lake ten acres of forest preserve land adjacent to the boundaries of such village for public use in providing for refuse disposal and in exchange therefor the village of Saranac Lake shall convey to the state thirty acres of certain true forest land owned by such village on Roaring Brook in the northern half of Lot 113, Township 11, Richards Survey.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the first legislative session convening after the next succeeding general election of members of the assembly and, in conformity with section one of article nineteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

Binnewater Area Residents Ask RoadImprovement

Binnewater area residents petitioned for improved conditions on Sawdust Avenue at the Monday night meeting of the Rosendale Town Beard at the town clerk's office.

The petition, presented by Edwin Coogan, said that Sawdust Avenue, which is a county road, is poorly lighted, present speed limits are dangerous and a youngster has been hurt on the road. It was requested that this condition be taken up through the county with the State Traffic Commission. It was also requested that the speed limit be reduced to 25 miles per hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hopper, directors of the Town of Rosendale Recreation Program, displayed items made by children in the summer arts and crafts project. A variety of articles were shown.

The board voted to send a letter to the trustees of the community college approving of the site selected for the college.

The fuel oil contract for the coming year was taken over by R. Hicks and son.

The board went into executive session to work out the annual budget and to arrange for the preliminary budget hearing to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 7.

Registration days are Saturday, Oct. 6 from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and the following Saturday from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. Registration for district one will be held at town clerk's office in Rosendale, district two at the Maple Hill School and for the third district at Tillson Firehall in Tillson.

World Lecturer to Speak at Ursula Academy Eve of Ecumenical Council; Open to Public

"Is Reunion Possible?" This will be the topic of a lecture to be delivered by Frank J. Scheed at the Academy of St. Ursula on Wednesday, Oct. 10, the eve of the opening of the Ecumenical Council in Rome.

Kingstonians of all denominations will be interested to see and hear Mr. Sheed, a noted author, lecturer and co-founder of the Publishing House of Sheed and Ward of New York and London. It is of great importance to Christians all over the world to know more of the first Ecumenical Council to be called by a Pope in about 100 years. The Council is a meeting of Bishops and Cardinals and others entitled to vote, and must be convened by the Pope. The decrees of the Council are binding on all Christians.

Mr. Sheed is well qualified to speak on his subject. He is an Australian of Irish descent; was graduated from Sydney University in Arts and Law; then went to England. He has translated some dozen books, edited many others, and written several himself. For more than 25 years he has been a speaker and lecturer in England, America and Europe. It is said that he is a master in the art of communication, as a speaker and as an author. He is a scholar and a theologian, and is the only layman ever singled out to receive a degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology, authorized by the Sacred Congregation of Seminaries and Universities in Rome and awarded at the University of Lille in 1957.

It is felt that attending the lecture will be a rewarding experience and the Sisters of the Convent of St. Ursula, Grove Street, extend a welcome to the public to attend at 7:30 p. m. in the St. Ursula Auditorium on Oct. 10. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

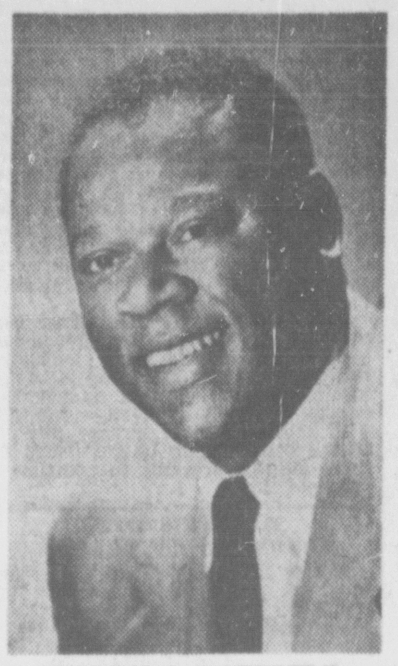
Philharmonic Subscription Campaign Continues This Week



WILLIAM WARFIELD

ISAAC STERN

ANIA DORFMAN

A magnificent artist, one of the world's finest vocalists, William Warfield will appear at the Community Theatre with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra on Monday, November 12. Conducting will be Claude Monteux, music director for the Philharmonic Society.

This will be one of a series of three concerts to be offered during the 1963-64 season by the Philharmonic. Rated among the top four philharmonic orchestras in the state, subscriptions are now available to the series through area captains, members of the board of directors and by writing directly to: Hudson Valley Philharmonic, Box No. 1, Uptown Post Office, Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Warfield has been chosen on four occasions as a cultural emissary to foreign shores by the Department of State and has been lauded on every continent across the seas as one of the most powerful good will ambassadors that the United States has ever sent to them. Such is the effect of his rich voice, great artistry and compelling, warm personality.

On March 18, 1963, the Philharmonic Society will present Isaac Stern, violinist, as guest artist. Recognized as one of the five or six top violinists of our time, he is widely known for his magnificent playing of the violin, heard all over the world.

Mr. Stern's appearance with the orchestra in Poughkeepsie two years ago was the highlight of that season.

On May 20, 1963, Ania Dorfman, pianist, will be in Kingston. Miss Dorfman, who studied with the great Isidor Philipp, was already one of the piano virtuosi of Europe when she came to the United States. Her first performance here, under the direction of Toscanini, established her immediately as an artist of the first rank, an artist of extraordinary gifts and sensitivity.

These three outstanding musical giants will make their appearance with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra, a group composed of local and area musicians. For the third consecutive season, those subscribing to the Philharmonic series, will play a major role in keeping good music in Ulster County.

This week is being observed as Philharmonic Week having been designated in a signed proclamation by Mayor John J. Schwenk of Kingston.

Burroughs Society Holds Field Day, Open House Here

The John Burroughs Memorial Field Day and Open House held at Woodchuck Lodge, Roxbury, on Saturday, Sept. 29, was attended by more than 80 persons.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Harriet Barrus Shatraw of Roxbury and Utica, a niece of Dr. Clara Barrus, who was the official biographer for Mr. Burroughs. Walter Mead also showed color slides of scenes taken around his farm in Roxbury.

At the Burroughs graveside, the Rev. Mr. Guice read several Psalms and poems.

Chairman of arrangements was Mrs. Donald Weyl. Assisting were Mrs. Irving Mead, Mrs. Howard Smith, Earl Schreiber and Paul Timmermann.

The capacity attendance represented the areas of Oneonta, Kingston, Ellenville, Delhi, Otego, Franklin, Sidney, New Paltz, Newburgh, Ft. Edward and Roxbury. Also attending were Mrs. Elizabeth Burroughs Kelley of West Park and Mrs. Inez Haring of Poughkeepsie, directors of the New York Burroughs Association.

Prey of carnivorous fungi includes amoebae, rotifers, crustaceans and tiny insects like springtails.

Civil Air Patrol

Kingston Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 3 at 7:30 p. m. in the New York State Armory on Manor Avenue. All teenagers interested in the Aerospace program are invited to attend and become members of the Cadet Squadron.

At the Markets

CHEESE—Cheese is a low cost meat substitute. Production of American cheese is down 4 percent this year but, commercial stocks are large.

TREE NUTS—The harvest of tree nuts will be light this fall with only walnuts expected to be more plentiful than last year. The pecan crop will only be a third as large as last year's crop. Almond and filbert production will also be down.

FRUITS—Numerous fall fruits are plentiful. Shoppers will want to try eastern Concord grapes as their sugar content is high and their quality in general excellent. Eastern pears—Bartletts, Clapps, Bosc, and Seckles—are quite plentiful and reasonably priced. Cantaloupes and Honeydews continue in good supply though the quality is variable. Several types of the colorful plum family are available with Italian type prunes predominating at fruit counters. McIntosh and cooking apples, avacados, and limes round out the list of fruit buys.

VEGETABLES—Large quantities of vegetables are available though, for some, end-of-season quality is variable. This is particularly true of greens. Shoppers will find plenty of spinach, endive, escarole, Boston and romaine lettuce at vegetable counters. Top quality Long Island cauliflower is a good choice. Long Island potatoes are unusually large this fall and shoppers may find the big ones priced at a discount. Other selections include snap beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, tomatoes, peppers, and sweet potatoes.

Wallkill Unit

WALLKILL—The Wallkill Home Demonstration Unit will hold its regular meeting Oct. 23, instead of Tuesday, Oct. 16 as originally scheduled. The meeting will be held at the Community Room of the Valley National Bank.

The open meeting for the county for all units will be held Thursday Oct. 18, at Kingston. The subject this year will be Holiday House. There will be a speaker in the afternoon on Christmas Greens Front Door to Back. There will be a table of gift items and suggestions on display at the county meeting.

Monday, Oct. 15, members will meet at the home of Mrs. George Brach to plan this unit's holiday items, tableware, mats or cloths for any holiday they may wish the Wallkill unit to display at the county meeting.

Kiwanis Kapers Is Set for Oct. 23, 25; Scholarship Fund

Kiwanis Club of Kingston has awarded more than $30,000 in scholarships to 78 boys and 48 girls since the inception of its current series of Kiwanis Kapers shows in 1944.

Beginning with a modest award of $100 to one boy in that year, the club through the receipts of its annual stage production has been able to increase its scholarship fund. From the proceeds of last year's Kapers, the club gave scholarships totaling $2,500 to five boys, and nursing scholarships totaling $600 to six girls.

The nursing scholarships were inaugurated in 1950.

This year's Kapers production will be staged at the Kingston High School auditorium, Tuesday through Thursday, Oct. 23 to 25. Lawrence A. Quilty, the club's first vice president, is chairman of the Kapers committee. The show was written by Donald MacIsaac, a club member, who also is the producer-director.

Kiwanians, with a few local guests, take all the parts, handle ticket sales and promotion. Traditionally, the cost is underwritten by the Kiwanians through the purchase of patron tickets, so that the entire proceeds from public sale of tickets go to the club's scholarship and welfare funds.

MISS KATHERINE R. NELSON

Named Guest Speaker For Nurses' Meeting On Tuesday, Oct. 9

Miss Katherine R. Nelson, Assistant Professor of Nursing Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, will address local professional nurses on Tuesday, Oct. 9 at 8 p. m. in the Benedictine Nurses Auditorium in Kingston. Dr. Nelson will be the guest of District No. 11 of the New York State Nurses Association. Her topic is "Individualized Care for the Patient." All registered professional nurses from the Hudson Valley are welcome to attend. A token registration fee is required of non-members.

Miss Nelson holds a certificate in dietetics from Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, and a diploma in nursing from Johns Hopkins Hospital School of Nursing in Baltimore. She earned her B.S., M.A. and Doctor of Education degrees from Columbia University.

Her experience in nursing has covered many fields. She has held head nurse and supervisory positions at Johns Hopkins Hospital and at Hartford Hospital in Hartford, Connecticut. She has been a public health staff nurse, and also assistant director at the Grace-New Haven Hospital School of Nursing, New Haven, and Director of Nursing Education at Memorial Cancer Center, New York City.

Dr. Nelson's advice on care tailored to fit the patient has received wide attention and challenges some of the accepted rigid routines to which patients have been submitted.

Local Temple Emanuel Sisterhood Resumes Meetings; Plans Made

Temple Emanuel Sisterhood held its first meeting of the season on Wednesday, Sept. 12 at the home of Mrs. Morris Kalish, 145 West Chestnut Street. The meeting was a box luncheon with dessert and coffee served by the hostess, Mrs. Herbert J. Kletske, Sisterhood president, presided. Twenty-six members and guests were in attendance.

Reports were made by committee members and plans for the coming year were discussed.

The next Sisterhood meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 8 p. m., in the social hall of Temple Emanuel. There will be a reception for new Sisterhood members.

Sisterhood card party is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 16 at 12:30. Dessert will be served. Guests are requested to have cards and organize teams. The Sisterhood's annual roast beef dinner will be held Thursday, Nov. 1.

Sorosis Meeting Held; Classical Art Is Program Theme

The Classical Background of European Art was the program presented by Mrs. William Rylance at a meeting of Sorosis last week at the home of Mrs. Howard Lewis.

Mrs. Arthur Foehser presided and devotions were conducted by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Sr. whose topic was the Art of Being.

Mrs. Reynolds, president of the Ulster County Clubs announced that Miss Virginia Dougherty, president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs will be guest speaker at the Third District meeting at Williams Lake Oct. 24.

Mrs. William J. McVey, Miss Helen Turner and Mrs. Foehser represented Sorosis at the Middle Atlantic States convention of Women's Clubs at the Savoy Plaza, New York City, Oct. 1.

Mrs. Rylance began her program by comparing the art and architecture of the Greeks with that of the Romans. The Greeks as idealists sought perfection while the Romans were realistic. She exhibited several copies of painting of the period.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Johnson, Hurley, Oct. 8. Mrs. Howard Lewis will be in charge of the program.

Immaculate Conception

A meeting of the Mothers Club, Immaculate Conception School, wil be held tonight at 7:30 in the school hall. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Bernard Quilty. All mothers are urged to attend.

Tri Valley Central School Will Open Its Own Gallery

Tri-Valley Central School will have a permanent art gallery as part of its regular instructional program. By using an existing hallway adjacent to the art rooms, the school will be able to convert a little-used area for the work of students and professional artists. Such an art gallery is believed to be one of the first of its type in New York State and considerable interest has been raised over its inauguration.

The planning and development of the gallery was the joint work of Supervising Principal, Edward Condon and Art Director, Manville Wakefield. The project approved by the Board of Education, is in keeping with the school policy of creating as many dimensions in education as possible. In addition to giving recognition to promising young school artists, the gallery will also be a place in which members of the community will be able to relate their work to the interests of the student body.

An added feature of the gallery will be the inclusion of loan exhibits from the State Education Department. One of the exhibits, "Changing New York," will be used to supplement the work of seventh-grade social studies classes whose subject is New York State History.

Among the student contributions will be the prize winning works of William Moreno, '56, Al Einert, '56, Laverne Cypert, '60, Betty Clark '60, Bob Demmetry, '62, Joe Brooks, '62 and Ruth Kile, '58.

Formal dedication of the gallery is planned for November at which time the public will be invited to share in a new beginning for public art at Tri-Valley.

Insurance Plan For Safe Drivers Proves Success

NEW YORK (AP)—Newell G. Alford Jr., deputy state superintendent of insurance, has told a joint legislative committee that the state's safe driver insurance plan has proved satisfactory so far.

Alford told the committee at a public hearing Tuesday that the number of resident driver complaints against the plan is "remarkably small — about one a week."

The plan, instituted under regulations of the State Insurance Department, grants drivers with no chargeable points on their driving records an auto insurance premium payment of 20 per cent less than those for drivers with points.

EXAGGERATED POLITENESS

Q: My husband and I recently spent a weekend at a resort hotel. We were seated at a table with two young women (strangers to us). Each time one of the women took out a cigarette, my husband would quickly light it for her. If the woman had already reached for her lighter or a match, he would say, "Just a minute" and she would wait until he fumbled for matches to light her cigarette. At times it meant his standing half way up in his chair and reaching across the dining table to light the cigarette for the woman at the other side of the table. It became very annoying and I finally told him that he was making a spectacle of himself. I said that it was not at all necessary for him to light their cigarettes. His reply was that a gentleman always lights a woman's cigarette when she is in his presence. What is your opinion on this?

A: You are quite right that your husband's exaggerated and awkward politeness to a stranger was out of place.

When Junior's Father Dies

Q: Will you please tell me how to correctly address a letter to a widow friend of mine who is living with her married son and his wife? This son was named for his father but has dropped the junior from his name since his father's death, thus leaving two Mrs. John Smiths. As it is socially incorrect to address a widow as Mrs. Jane Smith, how can I designate the letter is for the elder Mrs. John Smith without using her given name?

A: You address her as Mrs. John Smith, Sr.

Wearing Two Wedding Rings

Q: I am to be married for the second time and I would like to know if it would be proper to wear my first husband's wedding ring on my right hand after my marriage.

A: If your new husband does not mind, you may wear your first wedding ring on your right hand but it will be most unusual and in questionable taste.

Your best reasons for choosing Vigran® multi-vitamins

They learn from their earliest days—from your very care of them—that vitamins are "good for them." Later, in school, they learn why.

But not until much later do they come to know why the name Vigran is such a symbol of assurance in the purchase of vitamins. And the reason is—Vigran is the name of the multi-vitamin preparation from Squibb, and Squibb is one of the best known and respected names in the pharmaceutical industry.

Squibb rigid quality control, including more than 200 quality control tests, is designed to assure you that every Vigran capsule has the full label potency when you take it as it had when it was tested at the laboratory.

This is the reason so many people buy Vigran. And what better reason could you have than your family itself—for whom you naturally want the very best.

No Change in Basic Beliefs

Council Opening Oct. 11th To Bring Church Up to Date

EDITOR'S NOTE—The future of Christendom will be deeply influenced at the decisions which come from the Vatican Council, which begins meetings next week in Rome—the first in 92 years, the 21st since the days of the apostles. Here, in the first of three articles an AP religion news writer who will cover the meetings probes their plans and promise.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pivotal changes apparently are in the making for the Roman Catholic Church.

Just what form they will take, and how far they will go, hinge on the 2nd Vatican Council, opening Oct. 11 in Rome—the largest gathering of ecclesiastical authorities in the Church's 2,000-year history.

To Have Wide Effects

Its decisions will affect, directly or indirectly, the whole of Christendom.

The aim is a general renovation in the life and operating structure of the Church. Pope John XXIII's favorite word for it is "aggiornamento"—bringing the Church up to date.

"The coming council will affect a real reform in the Church," says the Most Rev. Lorenz Jaeger archbishop of Paderborn, Germany.

This doesn't imply any changes in basic beliefs, but council planners say it does mean clarification and fuller interpretation of certain doctrines, as well as a reshaping of many policies and practices.

21st Since Apostles

The council is the first in 92 years for the Church and, as Rome counts it, the 21st such conclave since the time of the apostles.

None of the others has had such thorough preparations — 'an intensive process that has involved about 700 churchmen in various countries serving on a battery of commissions for the past three years.

The approximately 2,800 "successors of the apostles," cardinals, archbishops and abbots, in conjunction with the Pope, constitute the Church' ruling hierarchy.

Non-Catholics to Attend

About 75 or more delegate-observers will be on hand from other denominations, at Rome's invitation. Although they will not have a vote, they will sit in on general discussion sessions closed to the press.

All told, the council may bring up to 10,000 viiting participants to Rome. It is expected to continue until mid-1963, with recesses for Christmas and Easter.

Keen interest, both among Catholics and members of other churches, has centered on possible steps to foster Christian reunion—a cause strongly espoused by Pope John.

To Reduce Obstacles

In view of the old, entrenched obtacles, however, there is clearly no intention of attempting reunion now. But many Catholic laders expect the council to reduce some of the obstacles.

There are about a billion Christians in the world, 550 million of them Roman Catholics.

The council, says Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati, will "review every phase of church life — doctrine, liturgy, law, missions, training of the clergy, sacraments, revision of the liturgical books."

Thursday: Return to origins.

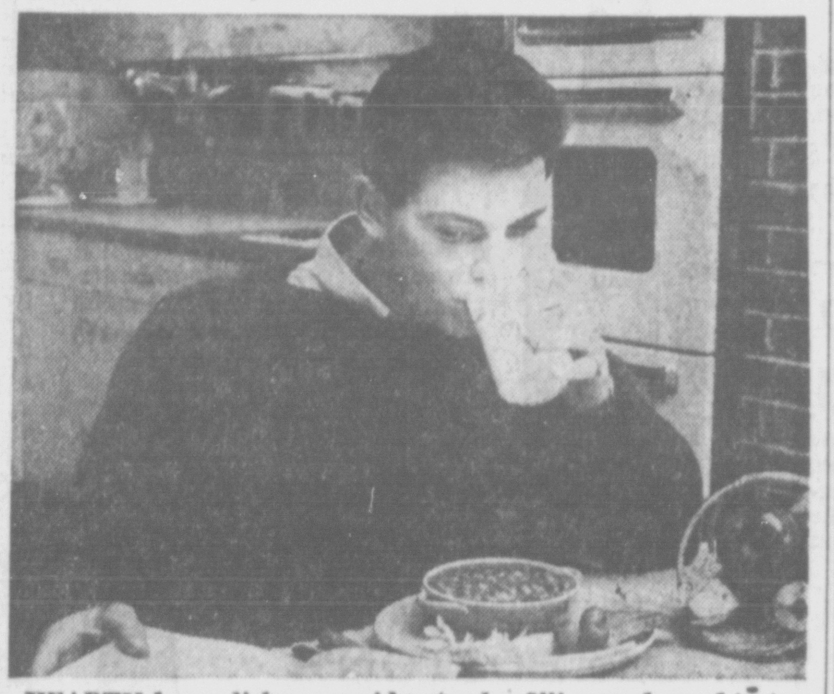
FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Serve Hearty Beans to Healthy Active Teens



HEARTY bean dishes provide sturdy, filling and good-tasting snacks and meals for active teen-age student-athletes.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Lusty young footballers, fast track men—all active teen-agers want sturdy, filling and good-tasting snacks and meals every day. We think these suggestions, using canned beans and beef, will fill the bill every time.

Hearty Bowl
(2 to 3 servings)

1 can (1 pound) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce
½ cup sliced boiled onions
⅛ teaspoon leaf oregano, crushed

In saucepan, combine ingredients. Heat, stirring now and then.

Italian Beans and Ground Beef
(2 or 3 servings)

½ cup thinly sliced zucchini
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
⅛ teaspoon leaf oregano, crushed
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (1 pound) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce

In skillet, cook zucchini, garlic and oregano in butter until zucchini is lightly browned and tender. Add beans and ground beef. Heat, stirring occasionally.

Favorite Beans
(2 or 3 servings)

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon caraway seed
1 cup shredded cabbage
1 tablespoon water
1 can (1 pound) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce

In saucepan, melt butter. Add caraway seed and cabbage; toss lightly to coat with butter. Add water. Cover; cook over low heat about 3 minutes or until cabbage is just tender but still crisp. Add beans and ground beef. Heat, stirring from time to time.

COLLISION COURSE — A tiny catamaran was practically cut in two as it cut across the bow of a big motor sailer in spectator fleet at America's Cup races off Newport, R.I.

America Afloat

Busy Waters Now Call For Some Special Boating Skills

NEWPORT, R. I. — (NEA) —Traffic jams afloat are rare.

When 2,000 small boats headed out into the ocean to cluster around the America's Cup race, however Newporters found they had an offshore nautical jam session with crowds to rival their jazz festival.

It soon became obvious that some skippers didn't know how to handle their craft in a floating mob scene. Sailors are naturally lucky. There were few collisions, but many helmsmen showed they had much to learn.

To approach a gas dock in calm water, a skipper can usually close in next to other craft. Offshore on a rolling sea and moving along at speed, a boatman should allow extra space between his boat and other craft. Stopping takes much longer. Boats have no brakes. The sideways slide they may get from a wave can't be controlled.

Slightly more speed is better than less for inboard craft.

Without water flowing over the rudder, the helmsman may have little control. He must be ready, however, to shift quickly into reverse for a sudden stop, but cannot rely on steering control when going astern. Outboard powered boats and those with inboard-outboard drives have an advantage since both propeller and rudder turn and give better control at slow speeds.

The new single-level controls which shift gears and advance the throttle from a single handle for each engine are a decided advantage in crowded going.

Many power men saw the advantages of sail demonstrated by cruising auxiliary sailboats. Wind pressure on their sails kept them from rolling in big swells, even though they were using their engines.

All races started nine miles out in the Atlantic. Drug stores must have done a big business in seasickness pills.

Powerboat spectators at a sailboat race have much to learn about how sails handle as well. The spectator fleet and patrolling Coast Guard craft managed to delay the first race and throw out rolling wakes and wind shadows in others.

The American and Australian contestants in the America's Cup race found they were faced with thousands of the same boatmen who like to power up alongside a sailboat on week-ends and wave while they knock all the wind out of the sails.

The crews of Weatherly and Gretel and the huge spectator fleet should have learned much about boat handling in stiff winds and seas during the America's Cup classic.

Close to Tears

'Biggest Hit of My Life,' Says Lee Walls of His Triple

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I was fighting tears at third base. It was the biggest hit of my life."

Lee Walls admitted unashamedly today that he was close to tears after reaching third base following his base-clearing three-run double off San Francisco lefthander Billy O'Dell Tuesday.

Walls' big hit, in the role of a pinch hitter, featured Los Angeles' seven-run splurge in the sixth inning that overcame a 5-0 San Francisco lead. The Dodgers went on to win the second game of the NL playoffs 8-7 to square the series at one victory apiece.

Walls raced to third when Willie Mays grabbed his drive off the left-center field wall and threw hopelessly home in an effort to head off pinch runner Larry Burright at the plate.

"That was a big play," Walls admitted. "I never ran so fast in my life. I ran so fast and slid so hard, I almost overslid the base."

The pitch Walls hit was a high fast ball, giving him his 13th hit in 26 appearances as a pinch hitter this year.

"This is in appreciation for the way the club has treated me all year," he said. "I haven't played much for them but I never got better treatment from any organization and this is the sixth club I've been with in the majors."

The Dodgers acquired the 30-year-old Walls from the New York Mets as part payment for second baseman Charlie Neal last winter. Walls, a $125,000 premium draftee by the Mets from the Phillies last October, never donned a Met uniform.

Buckeyes, Alabama Selected to Triumph

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The batting average in pigskin picking here last week was almost as bad as that of the Los Angeles Dodgers in trying to save the National League pennant. The Dodgers went 35 innings without a run. The average here was 43 right and 9 wrong for ,827.

This week's winners;

Ohio State over UCLA: This game pits to great backs, Paul Warfield of Ohio State and Kermit Alexander of UCLA, against each other but look at the size of Warfield's playmates!!!

Alabama over Vanderbilt: A year ago 'Bama smothered Vanderbilt 35-6. It should be about the same this time around.

Texas over Tulane: Is there a better fullback in the country than Texas' Ray Poage?

Penn State over Rice: The Texas Owls are weak at tackle and you can't be weak anywhere and expect to derail Penn State's powerhouse.

Georgia Tech over Louisiana State: Billy Lothridge and the home field give Tech a slight edge.

Iowa over Southern California: Matt Szykowny and the Hawkeyes' new "floater T" formation to outscore Willie (the Wisp) Brown.

Mississippi over Houston: Ole Miss has had its problems this week but they were not permitted to interfere with the footballers.

Miami over Florida State: State has a horde of returning lettermen and ambitions to go big-time but Miami has George Mira and that is a big difference.

Michigan over Army: A week ago Michigan was to win easily, Army was picked to lose. Turned out just the opposite. This is for real, however.

Elsewhere in the week's top games:

Washington over Kansas State, Nebraska over Iowa State, Oregon State over Stanford, New Mexico over Texas Western, Missouri over Arizona, Purdue over Notre Dame, Arkansas over Texas Christian.

Liston Is Voted Fighter of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Sonny Liston's first round knockout of Floyd Patterson earned the new heavyweight champion the "Fighter Of The Month" award from Ring Magazine today.

Patterson was made the No. 1 contender, Liston's former position. Ranked behind Patterson in order were Eddie Machen, of Portland, Ore.; Zora Folley, Chandler, Ariz.; Ingemar Johansson of Sweden; Archie Moore of San Diego, Calif.; Cleveland Williams of Houston, Tex.; Cassius Clay of Louisville, Ky.; Henry Cooper of England; Bob Cleroux of Montreal and Mike De John of Syracuse, N.Y.

Today's Winner To Meet Yankees In World Series

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The New York Yankees were waiting in the wings today to see whom they would play in the World Series opening Thursday as the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers met in the decisive playoff game for the National League pennant.

Hanging on the ropes after suffering an 8-0 beating in the first game Monday, the Dodgers rallied from a 5-0 deficit Tuesday and squared the best-of-three series with a dramatic 8-7 triumph.

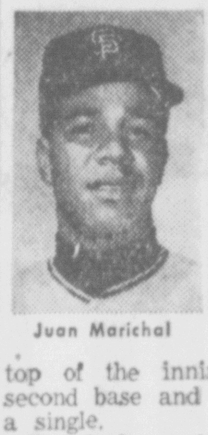
Although they used eight pitchers in a losing effort, the Giants had one of their aces, Juan Marichal (18-11), ready for today's game. The Dodgers, burdened by an overworked pitching staff, called upon Johnny Podres (15-13) who lost Sunday's final game of the regular schedule, 1-0, to St. Louis.

The right-handed Marichal has beaten the Dodgers three times in four decisions this year. Podres has beaten the Giants only once in four outings this year, but one of those was a 3-1 victory over Marichal.

Snap Scoreless String

Dodger manager Walter Alston feels his club is on the move after snapping a string of 35 consecutive scoreless innings and a five-game losing streak. Blanked by Jack Sanford on two hits through five innings, the Dodgers crashed through for seven runs in the sixth inning, when Giant manager Alvin Dark was forced to call upon four pitchers.

Sanford, battling a heavy cold, was removed after walking leadoff batter Jim Gilliam on a 3-2 pitch. He had to run hard in the top of the inning, sliding into second base and then scoring on a single.



Juan Marichal

John Podres

The Dodgers did most of their damage while right-hander Stu Miller and left-hander Billy O'Dell were on the mound. The big hit was a three-run triple by pinch-hitter Lee Walls off O'Dell.

The Dodgers scored the winning run in the ninth, breaking a 7-7 tie. Bob Bolin, the fifth Giant pitcher, walked leadoff batter Maury Wills. Dark brought in left-hander Dick Lemay and he walked Jim Gilliam, after throwing to first base eight times trying to keep Wills from stealing.

Dark then called for Gaylord Perry, a rookie right-hander, to face pinch-hitter Daryl Spencer. Perry fielded the ex-Giant's bunt back to the mound and had an easy force play on Wills at third. Instead, he threw to first, while the runners advanced.

Mays Throw Is Wide

Mike McCormick, a left-hander, took over and walked Tommy Davis intentionally. Ron Fairly, who had only two hits in his last 32 times at bat, then hit a sacrifice fly to Willie Mays in shallow center. Mays' hurried throw was to the left of the plate, on the third base side, and the flashing Wills slid past catcher Johnny Orsino.

Stan Williams, the fifth Dodger pitcher, was credited with the victory. He quelled a Giant uprising in the eighth and retired the side in the ninth, striking out the last two.

A major league record for a nine-inning game was set when the teams struggled through 4 hours and 18 minutes. A total of 42 players were used. The Giants' eight pitchers equaled a National League record.

Yankee Mick Wins Yonkers Feature

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob, Mick and Lawrence left rivals in a cloud of dust and registered easy feature event victories at New York State harness tracks Tuesday night.

Yankee Mich, a four-year-old colt, pulled away from the field at the ¾-pole to capture the $3,000 Bergen Pace by 1¼-lengths at Yonkers Raceway.

Mick, driven by Frank Popfinger, covered the mile in 2:02 3-5 and returned $8.60.

At Saratoga, Lusty Lawrence scored a 2½-lengths victory in the $2,460 Hopeful Pace, a preliminary non-betting event.

Driven by Don Huff, the two-year-old was timed in 2:08 1-5. Meadow Prince finished second, and Square Deal Mike was third.

Brother Bob returned $29.30 for his victory in a $1,300 Class B-3 Pace at Batavia. Driven by Clint Galbraith, Brother Bob paced a 2:05 4-5.

Blue Bass

FORSYTH, Mo. — (NEA) — Houdini, according to the song, was a large mouth bass too smart to be caught. But conservation agent Fred Baker, whose beat is Bull Shoals Reservoir, reports that Houdini finally succumbed. Houdini was a smart bass, all right, with a yen for plastic worms. When Glen Ott of Forsyth creeled the four-pounder and dressed him out he found a colorful assortment of plastic worms in the fish's stomach. There was a red one, a white one and a black one. A blue one was Houdini's undoing.

Yanks to Practice DuringPlayoffTilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For all the surface interest the New York Yankees show, today's San Francisco-Los Angeles playoff game could be for the International League pennant instead of the National League's berth in the World Series.

Manager Ralph Houk led his American League champions into San Francisco Tuesday night, promptly scheduled a workout for the same time as the final playoff game in Los Angeles and joined his team in saying he doesn't care who wins.

"I don't see what we could learn on TV," he replied with a shrug when asked if his workout at Candlestick Park wasn't costing him a chance to look at his coming opponent.

The cigar-chewing Yankee skipper refused to say which team he's prefer to meet, and his players all agreed that "it doesn't matter which one we play."

The Yankees came to San Francisco to become familiar with Candlestick Park in case the Giants win the playoff. The New Yorkers played nine times this year in Dodger Stadium, also the home of the American League Los Angeles Angels.

Army Set to Invade Michigan For Intersectional Grid Tilt

WEST POINT — Three is the magic number for the Army football squad as the cadets prime their big guns for the invasion of Michigan at Ann Arbor on Saturday.

The cadets not only are seeing their third success of the season, but also have in mind the breaking of the Wolverines winning streak which has reached three in a row over the invaders.

Army showed surprising strength and adeptness at gang tackling against Syracuse. In the final analysis the key factor in the victory was the fierce defensive play of the Chinese Bandits.

"We were pleasantly surprised," Coach Paul Dietzel said on Monday, "to be able to survive such a bruising contest without major injury."

In Good Shape

The cadets in fact are in excellent physical condition for the Ann Arbor trip. Joe Blackgrove, starting quarterback, who sat out the entire Syracuse game, is going at full speed once again.

Blackgrove came down with a severe cold on Friday and also favored a tender knee. The combination was enough to warrant his inactivity against the Orange.

Cammy Lewis, quarterback on the Go team, took over the entire signal-calling responsibility against Syracuse. A senior from Mt. Lebanon, Pa., he performed brilliantly in the upset victory. It was undoubtedly his finest effort as a cadet. His long touchdown strike to Bob Bedell sealed the victory.

In the first two games seven players have figured in the scoring. John Seymour, a soph from Berkeley, Mich., leads with a pair of touchdowns. He also leads in ground-gaining with 154 yards and a 618 average. His jaunt for 30 yards stands as the longest run thus far for a cadet.

Another halfback, Carl "Rollie" Stichweh, the only soph to make the starting team, saw limited action against Syracuse. A blow to the head in the second period left him dazed and he did not return to the lineup in the second half.

Atlanta Wins World Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Atlanta Crackers are the minor league baseball champions, after defeating Louisville by the identical scores of 2-1 in an unprecedented doubleheader.

Atlanta of the International League took the Junior World Series, four games to three.

Harry Fanok, the winning pitcher in Tuesday night's championship game, left his reputation for wildness in Atlanta. Fanok walked only two men in 7 2-3 innings, allowing the only Colonel run on a homer by Fritz Bickell in the eighth.

Seven men were left stranded by the Colonels of the American Association in the final four innings.

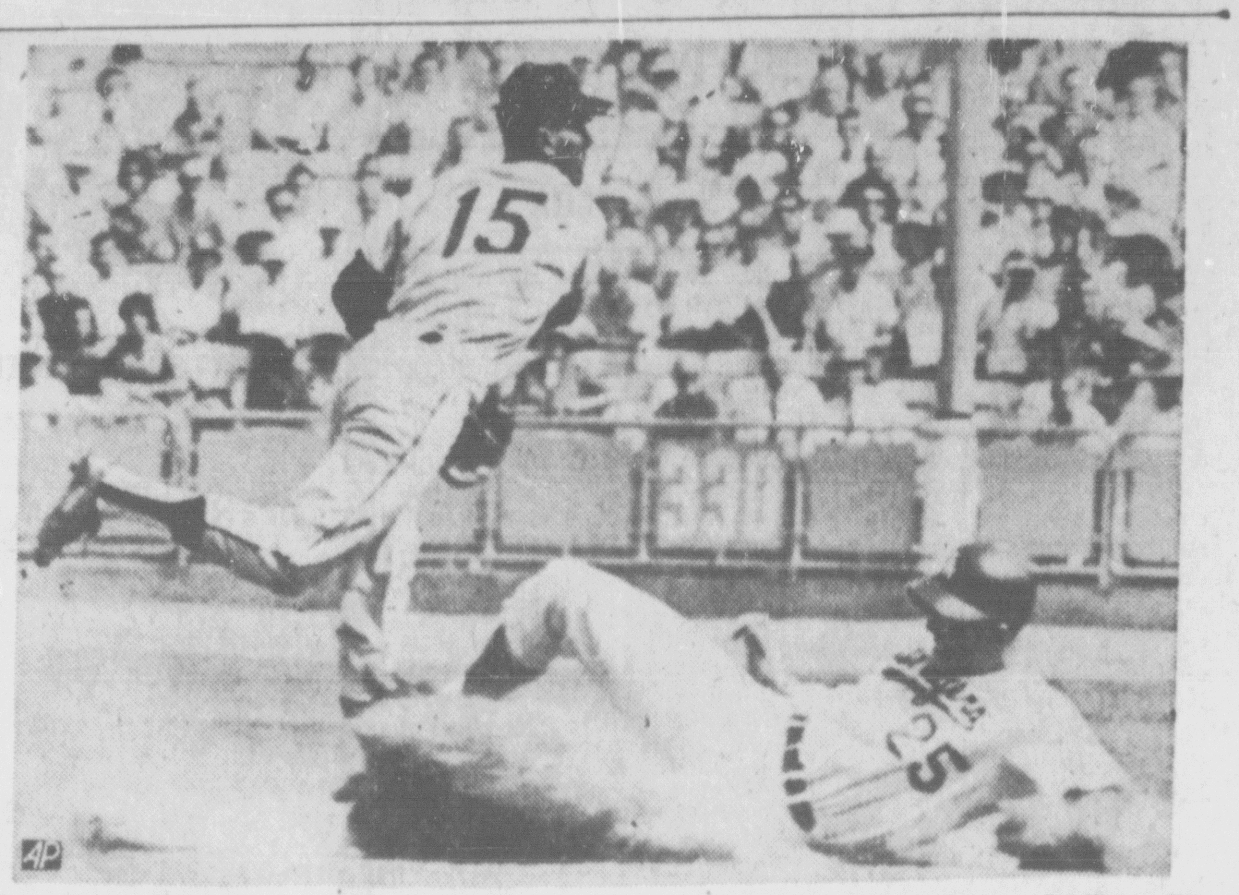
Lefty Ray Sadecki outdueled Chi Chi Olivo for the victory. A rainout Monday night necessitated Tuesday night's doubleheader.

No Contest

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (NEA) — Ben Schwartzwalder professes to be envious of one of his Syracuse football players, sophomore center Jack von Bischoffshausen III.

"My last name has 14 letters," points out Coach Schwartzwalder. "I had been top man in this regard around here for a long while. But this guy has 15 letters in his last name. And that's without counting the von or the III."



HOWARD FORCED AT SECOND — Big Frank Howard of the Dodgers is forced at second as Giants shortstop Jose Pagan fires ball in vain attempt for double play in second inning of second playoff game at Dodger Stadium. Play started when John Roseboro hit grounder to second baseman Chuck Hiller. (AP Wirephoto)

On a Bunt

Throw to Wrong Base Is Key to LA Victory

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A rookie pitcher's muff of a key play could be the reason the San Francisco Giants aren't resting up for the World Series today.

Instead, they lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 Tuesday sending the National League playoff into a third and deciding game.

Deadlocked 7-7 in the ninth, Dodgers Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam drew walks. With the obvious strategy a bunt, Manager Alvin Dark set up a counter maneuver.

In the defensive play, third baseman Jimmy Davenport was to race in while shortstop Jose Pagan raced over to cover third the moment the hurler threw.

Right-hander Gaylord Perry, who spent most of the season with Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League, came in to pitch to Daryl Spencer. Spencer bunted as expected, but right back to the pitcher.

As Giants' catcher Johnny Orsino hollered "Third, third," and the Dodgers' third base coach Leo Durocher shouted "first, first," Perry whirled and threw out the batter at first. Most everyone expected him to throw to third.

Wills went to third and Gilliam to second on the play. The Giants then intentionally walked Tommy Davis to set up a possible double play with the bases full. But Ron Fairly spoiled that and won the game with a sacrifice fly scoring Wills.

"The play was to third," Manager Alvin Dark declared. "I think he could have made the putout."

Asked if it could be chalked up to inexperience on the young pitcher's part, Dark declared, "There are no excuses. He just didn't throw it."

Perry said he didn't think he could make the play at third admitting, "I just guessed wrong."

Even Dodger Manager Walt Alston expressed surprise the throw wasn't made to third, but he added, "It was a good bunt and Wills is a good baserunner."

Close Shave

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (NEA) — The Syracuse football squad has a part-time barber, quarterback Bob Lelli, who does a capable job reasonably.

End Dick Bowman announced his entry into the field and at a cheaper price. Bowman's initial efforts were so poor that his customers turned on him.

Bowman is devoid of hair at the present time.

State Commission to Decide On Status of Liston Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission meets today to decide whether to recognize Sonny Liston as World heavyweight champion.

Liston, who won the title by knocking out Floyd Patterson in 2:06 of the first round eight days ago, is not licensed to box in New York State. Nor is he recognized as champion.

Indications are that the commission will recognize him as the champion. However, after Tuesday's public hearing by the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Boxing, it probably will continue to deny him a license.

New York has refused Liston a license because of his past record, which includes prison terms.

At the hearing, Cortez Stewart, a 28-year-old heavyweight linked Liston with racketeer Frank (Blinky) Palermo. Stewart testified that Palermo was one of the men who tried to hire him as sparring partner for Liston while the latter was preparing for the Patterson fight.

Liston has steadfastly maintained that he has purged himself of all underworld affiliations. The committee invited Liston and his adviser, Jack Nilon, to appear at its next session on Oct. 11.

"We want to find out what's going on before we accept the invitation," said Nilon in Philadelphia.

"I want to find out who Cortez is. He wasn't a sparring partner of ours. I don't know who he is. I guarantee I never offered him anything. And I never met Palermo."

Nilon added that he thinks Stewart is seeking publicity. He pointed out that all Liston's sparring partners for the Patterson fight were from Illinois.

Mrs. Chilson Won Ladies' Event At Twaalfskill

Boxer Listed Very Critical

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Middleweight boxer Vincent DiNicola, who collapsed after a sparring session, was listed in critical condition today at St. Vincent Hospital where he underwent surgery for a blood clot in the head.

The 24-year-old fighter, who had just turned professional, collapsed at his Erie home Monday after sparring with another pro, Lou Mazzuca.

Rushed to the hospital, DiNicola underwent surgery that same day.

Erie boxing promotoer Don Elbaum said the DiNicola-Mazzuca sparring session was for practicing body punches. Elbaum said h was at a loss to explain DiNicola's collapse.

The young fighter won 15 of his 21 amateur bouts, 12 of them by knockouts, but he had not yet fought a pro bout.

New Paltz Soccer Coach Trains Peace Corps Group at College

Al Miller Also Introduces New Training Method

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Al Miller, a former All-American soccer player at East Stroudsburg State College in Pennsylvania and now the soccer coach at the State University College in New Paltz, had a new experience during the summer. He was coordinator of physical education for the 60 Peace Corps volunteers who trained for their assignments at the college.

The volunteers, 35 men and 25 women, all between the ages of 18 and 59, were put through a rigorous program by Miller, a good-looking, rugged 25-year-old physical education major.

Included in the nine hours of physical education the volunteers were given each week were courses on basketball, cricket, soccer, tennis and also an African dance. The cricket and African dance were added to the program because the Peace Corps workers were getting ready for assignment in Sierra Leone, West Africa.

"Physical education was only a small part of this program," Miller explained. He said the volunteers went to school at New Paltz for seven weeks, studying and working from early in the morning until late at night.

At College Camp

After their seven weeks on the college campus, Miller took them to the college camp at Ashokan for two weeks and they were put through a daily routine which went from 6:30 in the morning until well after dark. Included were calistenics, a cross country run, first aid instruction, swimming and boating instructions. The volunteers built a camp site as part of their physical education work project. They built the site on two acres of land and named it Camp Sierra Leone, an appropriate title.

"We split the volunteers into three groups and they lived strictly outdoors," Miller said.

Graduation day at the college was Aug. 17 and of the 60 who took part, 57 graduated. They are all college graduates and while in Africa for their two year period, will teach high school.

Miller praised the work of Dr. George Bond, principal of the New Paltz Campus School, who was project coordinator for the schooling.

Unique Soccer Program

With the volunteers gone, Coach Miller turned his attention to soccer and he invited all candidates for the college team to school a week early for a program that is not only unique, but is probably the only one of its kind.

The boys started their training sessions at seven in the morning with a cross country run. Then came calistenics, breakfast, training session, lunch and skull sessions with some free time in between.

When the Hawks, opened their season, last week, their coach was convinced they were in the best shape possible. They beat Danbury and have a tough test this week against Oneonta.

Miller is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State where he earned four varsity letters in soccer and baseball. He was co-captain of both teams in his junior and senior years and was an All-American in soccer in 1958 and 1959.

He was picked as first team inside left on the Eastern collegiate team which took part in the Pan-American and the Olympic tryouts in 1959 and he made All-Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware first team at inside left in 1958 and 1959.

Miller played for seven years with the Reading American Sport Club, a major division of the Philadelphia Soccer League. His team won the title in 1959 and 1960 and he was selected to the circuit all-star team.

He is now a regular performer for the Kingston Sport Club, defending New York Soccer League champions.

This is his second year at New Paltz and he's firmly convinced that the soccer team will better last year's 2-7 record. "We hope to build the sport up here and become a top college in soccer," he said.

With a coach like Miller at the helm, there's little doubt that progress will be made before too long. In fact, maybe this year.

Judge Bruhn - Merrill Capture Doubles Title

Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn and William Merrill captured the annual Twaalfskill Men's Club Doubles with a spectacular 15-under-par 125 best ball score for 36 holes.

They wrecked par with rounds of 63 and 62 to finish 4 strokes ahead of the runnerup tandems of George Svirsky and Dr. C. J. Goffredi, who posted 66-63-129 and Ernest Schirmer and Joseph Hill, with 68-61-129.

Players were alloted three quarters of their handicaps as they fell on the card.

Other scores were:

Charles H. Gaffney — Augustus Brinnier, 64-66,130.

Frank Vogt — Edward Minasian, 70-63-133.

William Merrill, Jr. — Thomas Saccoman, 68-66-134.

Louis J. Smith — George Rusk, 68-67-135.

John Larkin — James Berardi, 70-66-136.

J. Howard Byrne — Robert O'Reilly, 69-71-140.

Griffen Rims 51 As Wiltwyck Wins

Charles Griffen went on a scoring rampage in the YMCA Fall League last night with a 51-point performance to pace Wiltwyck School to an 89-54 win over Hub Delicatessen.

In the other tilt, Wayside Inn beat Eddie's Country Fair, 46-28.

Griffen, who works at Wiltwyck and who had a trial with the New York Knicks, rimmed 25 baskets and had one free throw for his total. Don Kamosa and Tony Causa led the losers with 16 markers each.

Palmer (Skip) Brodhead, making a cage comeback, had 16 points to lead Wayside. Skip hit for seven baskets and had a pair of charity tosses.

Captain's Jinx

HANOVER, N. H. (NEA)—A freshman's captain jinx struck again at Dartmouth

Last year's frosh captain, guard Jim Carrd, must miss the football season because of an old knee injury. Senior guard George Hellick, the 1959 frosh skipper, decided to forego football to concentrate on studies.

But thus far the 1960 frosh leader, center Jim Grace, is ready for the coming campaign.

Other Big Green casualties include junior quarterback Ron Schram, sophomore fullbacks Larry Lowic and Dan Southard and soph guard John Tevels.

Blank Board

NORMAN, Okla. (NEA) — Asked to rate the Big Eight football race, Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma said: "There are no standout clubs.

"Five teams have an excellent chance to win," explained the Oklahoma coach. "If I named them, the remaining three would put the story on the bulletin board."

Wilkinson is taking no chances of having any team particularly mad at the Sooners.

"But," he concluded, "I would guess that no team will win all of its conference games."

Returning to Normal

The situation at Oxford slowly returned to normal. Shopkeepers reopened their stores.

While the New Orleans panel of judges studied moves against him, Barnett worked in his private office in Jackson with state highway patrolmen outside. Telegrams and letters poured into his office. An aide said almost all of them supported the 64-year-old governor.

Walker Due for Tests

Another principal in the Mississippi situation, former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, the commandant of troops during the school integration crisis at Little Rock, Ark., in 1957, was ordered to undergo psychiatric examination for his part in the weekend riots.

Walker reportedly took charge of a group of 1,000 students Sunday night and led them through a cloud of tear gas toward federal marshals at the university's registration building.

Walker was arrested and charged, among other things, with inciting insurrection. He was taken to the federal prison at Springfield, Mo.

U.S. Dist. Atty. F. Russell Millin said in Kansas City the psychiatric examination would require from 60 to 90 days and means that Walker cannot obtain his release by posting the $100,000 bond set by the court.

Five Still Held

The number of prisoners held here by federal officers dropped to five. They were jailed in a special stockade near the tiny university airport after their arrests for taking part in the riots or for carrying weapons.

Other developments:

Alfanette Bracy, a 21-year-old Negro girl from Raymond, near the state capitol at Jackson, applied for admittance to Ole Miss. She had been enrolled at Jackson State College for Negroes. Her application was said to be under consideration by the board.

In Washington, Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze said that money his department normally would make available to the university is being withheld. The funds, he said, would be held back until the situation is clarified.

Must Negotiate on Taxes

The law governing finding of hidden pirate treasure in the Virgin Islands stipulates that the finder negotiate directly with the U. S. secretary of the treasury as to how much taxes should be paid.

ESOPUS REPUBLICANS DINE—More than 200 attended the annual dinner of the Town of Esopus Republican Club Tuesday evening and heard Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, New York secretary of state, urge full support of the Rockefeller Republican team at the November election. Her message was "Get out the vote, don't be apathetic." She further stressed at the gathering in Capri Restaurant that "The citizen who cares about his government should run for office if he is qualified and concerned. Whether or not he runs for office he should take an active role in his political organization, including selection of candidates. Seated from left are Mrs. Simon, Mrs. Raymond LeFever, vice chairman of Ulster County Republican Central Committee; Jack Reynolds, club president and toastmaster; Sheriff Claude Bell, seeking re-election; standing, Jesse McHugh, chairman of Ulster County Board of Supervisors and GOP county vice chairman; Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, county chairman; William Kelley, Justice of Peace Allan Dargie and Harry Newton, who served on the dinner committee. (Freeman photo).

Cold Winter Is

12 when thermometers dropped to zero and below and on February 14 came a foot and a half of snow. Again Shultis appeared to have "hit the nail on the head."

Summary of Season

In a summary of the season just past, Shultis pointed out that the total rain the past summer in his locality from April 1 to September 30 had been 18⅛ inches. The normal rainfall is slightly over 4 inches a month.

Past predictions by the weather sage of Bearsville include:

Total rainfall during a predicted drought in 1955, from March 1 to Aug. 11, "when the drought ended" was 10¾ inches.

His prediction of a drought in 1957 resulted in a record from March 1 to December 19, "when the drought ended," of only 21⅞ inches of rain.

Not only have his predictions of rainfall been uncanny but his weather predictions have been so accurate that people look forward to his predictions and some arrange trips and vacations according to his forecasts.

Woodstock Fire Company Holding Meeting Tuesday

Further consideration of a mobilization plan, preparations for placing the new tank truck in service, and reports concerning activities of the past month were on the agenda of the monthly meeting of Woodstock Fire Company 3 Tuesday evening at the firehouse in Lake Hill.

The purpose of notification of active firemen in case of fire, where the siren on the firehouse cannot be heard, was approved by the company and turned over to the Ladies Auxiliary for preparation.

Captain Alfred Ostrander reported that the tank truck was now in the possession of the fire company, adequate insurance was provided for the equipment, and work in getting the apparatus ready for service was in the planning stage.

Participation in the four-company drill during September, further work on the house-numbering signs, and the special meeting called for the purpose of purchasing the tank truck, were also included in Captain Ostrander's report.

The regular Sunday afternoon fire drill for October is scheduled for 2 p. m. on Oct. 14.

Modern Building

The new building has about 3500 square feet of space, with about 1100 of this devoted to selling area. It is one story masonry structure.

Fluorescent lighting, an acoustical tile ceilng, and vinyl asbestos floors provide a modern interior.

The new service shop will provide the facilities necessary for up-to-date repair and installation work.

The Ulster Shopping Center has parking area for about 700 cars.

Just Beautiful, Mrs. Schirra on Orbit Lift Off

By BOB M. GASSAWAY

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"It was a beautiful liftoff—I'm very glad everything went okay," Mrs. Walter M. Schirra Jr. said shortly after her husband went rocketing into orbit around the earth today.

Her brief comment was relayed to waiting newsmen by space agency official Roy Wallack, who told of watching the takeoff on television with the astronaut's family.

There were no audible sighs or other sign of tension, Wallack said. Except for a NASA security agent, he said only Mrs. Schirra, her son and daughter and her mother were keeping vigil at the Schirra home.

Mrs. Schirra wouldn't talk to reporters Tuesday about her husband's mission, but her young son said he was excited.

Newsmen who went to the home were asked to state their business via a speaker system. A voice from inside said:

"I am Mrs. Schirra's mother. Mrs. Schirra will not see anyone right now."

Newsmen asked if they could return.

"Just a minute. I will see if she is awake," the voice said.

There was a brief wait.

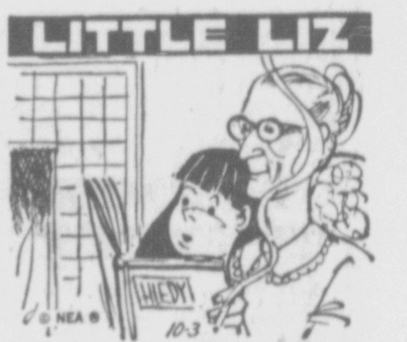
"Mrs. Schirra says she will not have any comment until after her husband is recovered."

Mrs. Schirra's mother is Mrs. James L. Holloway.

Walter Marty Schirra III, 12, was more talkative.

"I'm real excited about it," the seventh-grader exclaimed. "The principal of Clear Creek Junior High School is going to let me stay home to watch. My mother, sister and grandmother will be there too."

His sister is Suzanne, 5.



The people who keep the home fires burning are mostly grandmothers with cigarettes.

The "might have beens" continued to plague America on the last two sessions of the World Championship Match. We started 48 International Match points behind, but picked up 22 of the deficit for a net loss of a mere 26 IMPs, but there were chances to win the match.

When Italy held the North-South cards on board 112 the bidding went as in the box.

East opened the seven of clubs. West's queen forced declarer's ace and he played the ace of diamonds. He believed East would hold the diamond king for his overcall and anyway it was inconvenient to cross to dummy for a finesse.

At this point North seemed certain to go down. West would get in with the king of diamonds and unable to lead a club, would surely lead a heart to give the defense four heart tricks. But West had other ideas. He dropped the king of diamonds under the ace whereupon North could rattle off 11 tricks.

At the other table America also bid three no-trump. A heart was opened. North also refused the diamond finesse and made three odd. Thus, we lost two IMPs instead of picking up 10.

Youngster Killed By Rotten Tree Trunk

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dominic Greco, who would have celebrated his fourth birthday today, was killed Tuesday when a rotten tree trunk toppled on him.

Police said the youngster was playing with two companions in a neighbor's yard. They were jumping from a small fence to a clothes line that was strung from a steel post to a tree.

Police said Dominic had leaped from the fence and was hanging on the line when the tree fell over on him. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Greco of Buffalo.

Teamsters, Milk Plant Contract Vote Slated

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—A tentative contract agreement between the Teamsters Union and negotiators for milk plants will be submitted for a vote to more than 20 union locals in seven states next week.

The agreement, covering about 2,000 employes excluding truck drivers, was reached Tuesday, a few hours before an extension of the old contract expired at midnight.

The union members, employed by milk-receiving stations, processing and manufacturing plants serving the New York metropolitan area, will be asked to ratify the settlement at meetings to be held Oct. 10-15.

A union spokesman said about 80 per cent of the workers involved were in New York State. The agreement also would cover plants in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Details of the settlement were not disclosed.

Under the old contract, which expired Sept. 15, the wage rate ranged from $1.60 to $1.90 an hour. Employers also paid $3 a week per employe into both the pension and welfare funds.

Demands Increasing On Nursing and Care

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Patients and families of patients are becoming increasingly vocal "in their demands for nursing and medical care that is tailored to their needs," a nursing educator says.

Mrs. Lulu Wolf Hassenplug, dean of the nursing school at the University of California Medical Center, said Tuesday that a rising volume of questions was being raised about "our ineffective, uncoordinated, expensive health services."

Mrs. Hassenplug spoke at the sixth biennial convention of the State League of Nursing. About 500 persons attended.

She predicted that within 10 years the apprenticeship system of nurse training would be discontinued and that all nurses would be taught in college programs.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainbard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

Faces First Challenger

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's human relations law is up against its first court challenge in a case centering on the Connellsville Joint School Board's refusal to hire a Negro teacher.

Anthony J. Cavalcante, counsel for the school board, contended before the Dauphin County Court Tuesday that the law establishing the state's Human Relations Commission is unconstitutional.

Furthermore, he argued, the commission erred in implementing the human relations law by requiring the Connellsville Joint School Board to hire Mrs. Jane McPherson, a Negro teacher with 25 years' experience.

Congress Eyes Saturday Quit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has wrestled its remaining major bills into position for a quick windup of the long-drawn-out 1962 session.

Leaders voiced cautious optimism that final adjournment may come Friday night or Saturday at the latest.

A burst of action came Tuesday on four of the "big five" measures still to be sent to President Kennedy.

1. Senate passage 57 to 24 of a $4,422,800,000 foreign aid bill carrying $792,400,000 more than the House allowed. Conferees hope to meet on this Thursday.

2. House and Senate passage of the compromise tax revision bill, clearing it to the White House. Retained was the key provision sought by the President—a $1 $1 billion incentive to business to modernize plants.

3. Senate-House conference agreement after one meeting on the bill raising the pay of 1.6 million federal government workers and boosting postal rates by $605 million a year. The Senate may act on this today.

4. Conference agreement on the must bill to tighten federal controls over the drug industry. The Senate plans to pass it today.

The fifth top-priority bill, Kennedy's trade expansion measure, already has been agreed to in conference. The House and Senate are scheduled to complete action on it Thursday.

Besides foreign aid, four regular appropriations measures to run the government in fiscal 1963, which began July 1, still must get over their last hurdles.

Hudson-Delaware Development Is Conference Topic

Chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Jesse McHugh, (R) Town of Shawangunk, is one of the sponsors of an all day conference on regional and community development in the Hudson-Delaware regions which includes Ulster, Orange, Rockland, and Sullivan Counties.

The conference will be held at the Orange County Community College in Middletown on Saturday, Oct. 20, according to Carl J. Mays, Orange County planning director.

Four concurrent workshops will be held in the morning, starting at 9:30 a. m. and continuing as follows:

Workshop one, industrial development; workshop two, planning for small communities; workshop three, urban renewal opportunities for small communities; workshop four, area planning.

Alexander Yosman, executive director of the Kingston Housing Authority, and Dale Swartzmiller, regional representative, New York State Department of Commerce, will be the Ulster County residents among those participating in the workshop sessions.

Thirty-two speakers and panelists will participate in several sessions. The purpose of the conference is to emphasize the need to plan now for the impending development of our area and for the preservation of the qualities which make it an attractive area for living, working and recreation.

Other sponsors of the conference are the Planing Boards of Orange, Rockland and Sullivan Counties, Orange County Community College and the Regional Plan Association of New York. Leading firms and organizations in the fields of trade, industry, labor, public utilities, home building and urban renewal are acting as co-sponsors. These agencies include:

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters, Hudson Valley Home Builders Association, Hudson Valley Urban Renewal Officials, Orange and Rockland Utilities, Inc., Orange County Development Committee, Inc., Rockland County Home Builders Association and Sterling Forest Corporation.

A major feature of the conference will be the luncheon address by George A. Dudley, director of the New York State Office for Regional Development, who will speak on "The Future of the Hudson-Delaware Region." Dudley's office has recently undertaken a study of development trends and planning needs throughout the entire State and will soon present recommendations to the Governor concerning what the State can do to assure sound development for all regions of the State.

A single afternoon session will be conducted which will include Richard May Jr., planning consultant for many communities in the area, who will discuss "Alternate Patterns of Development for the Region;" Frank W. Dressler, executive secretary of the Water Resources Association of the Delaware River Basin, on the subject of "The Impact of the Proposed Tocks Island National Park;" Dr. Milton A. Gabrielson, professor of education, New York University, "Planning for Recreation and Open Space in the Catskill Region;" and Roger H. Gilman, executive director of the Tri-States Transportation Committee, who will discuss the program of that agency as it affects this area.

All interested persons are invited to attend the conference. No admission will be charged. However, an advance reservation will be necessary and those desiring to attend should contact Carl J. Mays, County Building, Goshen, to make the necessary arrangements.

Guinea Pigs Die in Fire

BAINBRIDGE, N.Y. (AP)—Two thousand guinea pigs being raised for medical and research laboratories perished early today in a fire that destroyed a barn near this community south of Norwich.

Owner Harry Hulburt estimated the loss at $30,000.

Hulburt said some of the guinea pigs were prize animals imported from England. Some were intended for use in cancer research, he said.

Accident Fatal For AHS Student, Farmer Charged

Three motor vehicle charges have been lodged against a Dutchess County farmer, whose 15-year-old son was the operator of a farm tractor involved in a fatal car-tractor collision Sunday in the Town of LaGrange.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan reported summonses were issued to Milton Corbin Sr., 66, Didell Station Road, Town of LaGrange, charging him with having no insurance on the tractor, permitting an unlicensed operator to drive the tractor, and having an unregistered motor vehicle.

Corbin's son, Ronald J. Corbin, 15, was driving his father's tractor and pulling a hay ride wagon on a Town of LaGrange highway, when a car driven by Mati Luik, 17, LaGrangeville, an Arlington high school honor student and football player, crashed into the tractor.

Luik was fatally injured. A passenger in his car, Miss Linda Hanga, 17, LaGrangeville, an Arlington high school senior, was gravely injured.

The summonses issued to Corbin are returnable Tuesday, Oct. 9 before Justice of the Peace John Neilson, Town of LaGrange.

Cooler Trend Due For Area by Sunday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. tonight to 7 p.m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Rather mild weather is expected most of the period. A somewhat cooler trend is likely about Sunday. Temperatures will average five or more degrees above normal. Rainfall is expected to be rather light and spotty with fair probability of scattered showers in the latter part of the period.

Western New York — Temperatures will average from four to six degrees above normal. Little change in temperature until early next week when it will be cooler. Precipitation will average one-quarter inch or less in widely scattered showers in the west portion tonight or early Thursday and over the area about Monday.

Temperature norms: Daytime, 63-69; nighttime, 42-48.

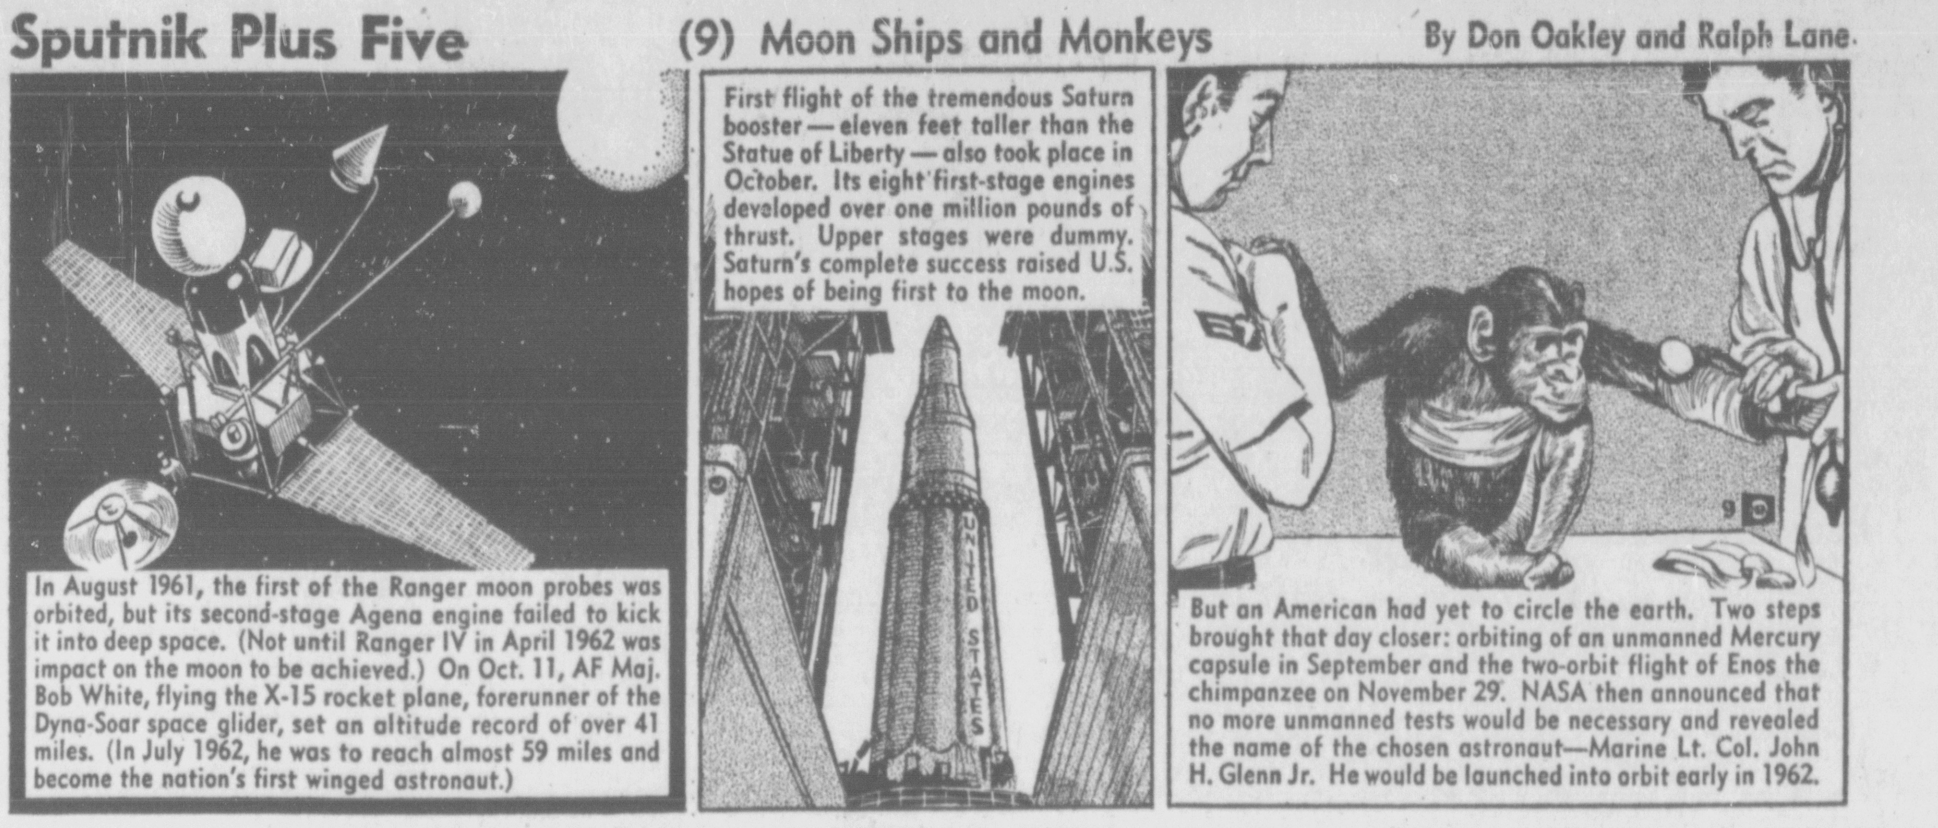
(9) Moon Ships and Monkeys

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane.



In August 1961, the first of the Ranger moon probes was orbited, but its second-stage Agena engine failed to kick it into deep space. (Not until Ranger IV in April 1962 was impact on the moon to be achieved.) On Oct. 11, AF Maj. Bob White, flying the X-15 rocket plane, forerunner of the Dyna-Soar space glider, set an altitude record of over 41 miles. (In July 1962, he was to reach almost 59 miles and become the nation's first winged astronaut.)

First flight of the tremendous Saturn booster — eleven feet taller than the Statue of Liberty — also took place in October. Its eight first-stage engines developed over one million pounds of thrust. Upper stages were dummy. Saturn's complete success raised U.S. hopes of being first to the moon.

But an American had yet to circle the earth. Two steps brought that day closer: orbiting of an unmanned Mercury capsule in September and the two-orbit flight of Enos the chimpanzee on November 29. NASA then announced that no more unmanned tests would be necessary and revealed the name of the chosen astronaut—Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. He would be launched into orbit early in 1962.

Famed Hypnotist Slated Oct. 16 at Roundout School

The Rondout Valley High School Parents-Teachers-Friends organization will present John Kolisch, lecturer - demonstrator on hypnosis at its monthly meeting at the high school auditorium, Kyserike Road, on October 16 at 8 p. m.

The internationally known hypnotist was born in Vienna and became interested in hypnosis while studying psychology at an Austrian university. He explains the art of hypnosis as "putting the conscious mind to sleep, while activating the subconscious mind."

"While the effects of hynosis seem magical, it's all due to the unlimited potentialities of the subconscious mind. The conscious mind has its inhibitions and limitations, but the subconscious has infinite capabilities," Kolisch said.

According to Kolisch, "there are many varying states of hypnosis a subject can be placed under. They range from the simple, light hypnosis stage to the deep or somnambulistic trance, where the subject is completely asleep. All these hypnotic states can be induced just as simply, without any theatrical effects or eye-staring or handwaving. A person cannot be hypnotized against his will; the subject must be completely willing to submit to hypnosis and must have confidence in the hypnotist, according to Kolisch.

Kolisch has performed at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake; the Nevele Country Club, Ellenville; on Steve Allen's Tonight Show and has made many radio, theatre and club appearances.

The public is invited and a donation will be accepted at the door.

More Than 120 Persons Attend Seminar Sept. 29

More than 120 representatives of industry attended the American Society for Quality Control One Day Seminar held on the Vassar College Campus, Poughkeepsie, Sept. 29. Persons from New Jersey, Connecticut, and Massachusetts were present.

The theme was "New Frontiers and Quality Technologies for Space Age Industries."

Frank Soovajian, general chairman, thanked the committee for making the seminar a success especially with a severely shortened time to organize the event. R. Lozier, luncheon speaker, stressed the importance of quality control of processes as opposed to inspection for defective material. He also stated the specialists or service groups, such as quality control, should attempt to instill the proper quality attitude in the manufacturing groups.

Streifers to Hold Israel Bond Rally At Home Oct. 14th

Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman of the Kingston Area State of Israel Bond program, announced today that Attorney and Mrs. Abraham Streifer, of Old Hurley, will sponsor a large gathering for Israel Bonds in their home, on Sunday Oct. 14, at 7:30 p. m.

Attorney Streifer, in accepting the sponsorship of this special affair, stated, "I am indeed proud and happy to be host to many people in this community in order to advance the welfare of the State of Isarael. The State of Israel is proving to the world that a democratically-run nation can make amazing progress, despite many difficulties. Many leaders of Africa and Asia among the new nations are visiting Israel to learn the methods Israel is employing to build its economy.

"There are 80,000 newcomers from countries where they are being persecuted coming to Israel in 1962. The role of Israel Bonds is to build housing for them, develop new industries for their employment, and to find a means through a 100-mile pipeline of watering the Negev desert area in order to obtain irrigation for making it productive."

Chairman Rafalowsky pointed out that the State of Israel has just announced that $24,500,000 will be returned to Israel Bondholders in 1963 as payment from Israel Bonds invested in 1951.

Rafalowsky stated, "This great redemption of Israel Bonds takes place because the State of Israel keeps its word to investors and because the State of Israel is a community growing in economic strength. I urge all our friends in the Kingston area to participate in the purchase of Israel Bonds during the current campaign."

Attorney Streifer announced that an outstanding Broadway entertainer will be the guest at his home on the October 14 date.

Red Cross Talks On Simplifying Its Aid Program

Means of solving problems that arise in administering Red Cross aid to veterans, U.S. armed forces personnel and their dependents, were the subject of a meeting of representatives of Red Cross Chapters located in the southeastern section of New York State, held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday.

Norman Buehler, field director for the southeastern section of New York State, discussed chapter administration and urged unification of activities in some areas to eliminate duplication of services, administrative procedure and expenses.

American Red Cross field director from West Point and Stewart Air Force Base, Clarence Vrooman, gave a comprehensive description of services available to military personnel and dependents living in the vicinity.

Red Cross assistance to veterans of the first and second World Wars, designed principally to direct those seeking assistance through the Red Cross to the proper agency, were outlined by Clay L. Cross, American Red Cross field director for eastern area from New York City.

Fourteen representatives from six Red Cross Chapters were present for the conference.

The Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross was host for the conference. Arrangements were effected by Mrs. Walter K. Hubbard, executive director, Mrs. Ethel Stewart, assistant to the director, and Mrs. Donald Snell, home service volunteer.

The plannery meeting for two future conferences, similar to the one held in Kingston, October 2, will be held at the Newburgh Red Cross Chapter, November 15. The meetings will be held in May and October, 1963, with exact dates and location to be determined at the plannery meeting.

Appointed to serve on the plannery committee were Mrs. Earl Dingee of Newburgh, Mrs. Henry Solomon of Port Jervis, Mrs. R. A. Sandel of Ramapo and Mrs. Arthur Foehser of Kingston.

Jaquith Willing To Debate Any Time or Place

NEW YORK (AP) — David J. Jaquith, Conservative Party candidate for governor, has challenged his Democratic and Republican opponents to a public debate—"any time, any place and under any rules of procedure."

Jaquith's opponents in the election race are Republican Gov. Rockefeller and Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau. The Conservative candidate issued his challenge Tuesday night at a political rally in Brooklyn.

Turbine Plant Resumes

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Worthington Corporation's turbine plant here re-opened today as the first of 320 maintenance and production workers returned to their jobs after a 23-day strike.

The workers, members of Local 1580 of the International Association of Machinists, struck Sept. 10 over what the union charged was company violation of seniority and job-posting clauses in the working agreement.

Peter S. Barno, Worthington vice president for employe and public relations, said the company Tuesday "voluntarily settled two grievances without regard to their merit to simplify the issue."
